

Lebanon Valley College

LVC's Speech Language Pathology Department Presents

Social Connections

Social Groups combine discussions, lessons, activities, and games to encourage social interaction for individuals 3 years of age and older. Our graduate clinicians will provide focused lessons related to pragmatic language and executive functions. Our undergraduate students will create activities that allow participants to use their new skill. They are held at Lebanon Valley College's Center for Speech, Language, and Hearing, located in the Arnold Sports Center.
