Section 3. Frequently Asked Questions		1
 Q. What are pre-employment transition services? A. Pre-employment transition services are a set of opportunities available to students with disabilities to receive meaningful training and other services necessary to become successfully employed. They are organized into five distinct types of activity: Job exploration counseling; Work-based learning experiences; Workplace readiness training; Instruction in self-advocacy; and Counseling on opportunities for enrollment in comprehensive transition/postsecondary educational programs.
Q. Who pays for pre-employment transition services?
A. These services are provided through the Department of Social and Health Services, Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (DVR), and they are paid for with state and federal funds.
Q. What rights do I have if I disagree with a decision DVR has made affecting the pre-employment transition services provided to me?
A. As described in Washington Administrative Code, if DVR makes a decision that affects the VR services provided to you that you don't agree with, you may try to resolve the disagreement by any one of the following or a combination of the following:
 Talk to a VR counselor or the VR supervisor; Talk to the DVR director or his or her designee; Seek assistance from the client assistance program (CAP), available by phone at 1-800-544-2121; Request mediation; and/or Request a fair hearing.
You may request a fair hearing and/or mediation while you continue to work with a DVR counselor, VR supervisor or DVR director or designee to resolve the disagreement. A fair hearing request must be filed within 45 days of the adverse decision. If you reach agreement prior to the date of the scheduled mediation or fair hearing, the request may be withdrawn.
