

Job Opening: Religion Teacher

Lauralton Hall, an all-girls Catholic college-prep secondary school in Milford, Connecticut is growing and seeks a full-time Religion teacher for the 2025-2026 academic year. Inspired by the Mercy Tradition, Lauralton Hall empowers young women to pursue their highest potential through lifelong learning, compassionate service, and responsible leadership in a global society.

The successful candidate will:

- demonstrate mastery of instructional skills and assessment and a passion for teaching young women
- a Religion teacher in the Archdiocese of Hartford is an educational and spiritual leader who encourages excellence in all students through best practices with innovative and traditional education programs infused with Catholic social teaching
- be a practicing Catholic in good standing
- supports Campus Ministry programming
- show a commitment to the issues of diversity, equity, and inclusion
- be comfortable with appropriate technology in the classroom
- work collaboratively with other faculty members
- commit to their own professional growth and reflection

Lauralton Hall expects all faculty to be fully engaged in the life and Mission of the school. We seek teachers who have a minimum of a bachelor's degree, though a master's degree is preferred. Additional opportunities for coaching are available.

Please send your resume and letter of interest to Dean of Academics, Jan Powers, jpowers@lauraltonhall.org