As Director of Academics, Mrs. Romero leads all aspects of SHA's academic program: supporting faculty, overseeing curriculum, advising students in course selection, and developing partnerships with outside programs. She also teaches Public Speaking, is a member of the DEI&B committee and serves as a Kairos faculty leader.

Mrs. Romero brings over 25 years of experience teaching and leading in independent schools both in PA and NY. She began her career in education through the Jesuit Volunteer Corps by teaching English to middle and high school students. Most recently, she served as Drama Department Chair, Middle & Upper School Drama Teacher, and English Teacher at Friends Select School in Philadelphia.

A graduate of a girls' school herself, Mrs. Romero delights in seeing our students grow in confidence, empathy, and courage throughout their SHA journey. She also appreciates how deeply the Goals and Criteria guide every aspect of our decision-making.

Education:

Bachelor of Arts, English & Drama (Minor: Secondary Education), St. Joseph's University

Master of Arts, Educational Theater, New York University
