Celebrate Black HISTORY month

Black History Month is an annual celebration of achievements by African Americans and a time for recognizing their central role in U.S. history.

More Info

History

In 1915, in response to the lack of information on the accomplishments of Black people available to the public, historian Carter G. Woodson co-founded the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History. In 1926, the group declared the second week of February as “Negro History Week” to recognize the contributions of African Americans to U.S. history. Few people studied Black history and it wasn't included in textbooks prior to the creation of Negro History Week.

This week was chosen because it includes the birthdays of both Frederick Douglass, an abolitionist (someone who wanted to end the practice of enslaving people), and former U.S. president Abraham Lincoln. President Lincoln led the United States during the Civil War, which was primarily fought over the enslavement of Black people in the country. Many schools and leaders began recognizing the week after its creation.

The week-long event officially became Black History Month in 1976 when U.S. president Gerald Ford extended the recognition to “honor the too-often neglected accomplishments of Black Americans in every area of endeavor throughout our history.” Black History Month has been celebrated in the United States every February since.

Here are ways you can volunteer at school

Special Events Volunteer

Special events; like Teacher Appreciation you'll help set up, decorate, and serve goodies to celebrate our amazing educators and students. Help set up snacks during testing days.

Dance Night Volunteer

Assisting with decorations, managing the ticket booth, or chaperoning to ensure a fun and safe environment.

Donations Support

If you're interested in volunteering supplies or making a donation whether you're providing much-needed classroom supplies, contributing to special projects, or offering financial support, your generosity helps us enhance student experiences and enrich school programs.
