

The Stages of Successful Writing

Prepare – What a good one looks like (wagoll)/ what writing tools have you learnt that you could use in your work?

Plan – Steps you must take to complete the piece of writing well

Practise – A draft version of your writing, practising what you have been taught and written with careful thought

Proof-read – All writing must be checked carefully for sense and edited for improvement

Publish – Producing a final version that you are proud of

Perform – Bringing your published version to life