INFORMATIONAL

Construction Project Updates – Ben Falls of C.G. Schmidt, Jeremy Struss, and Melissa Thompson led a virtual tour of the construction area and provided an overview of the progress in January, along with upcoming work for February. A budget update was provided showing that the project is both on time (43.5% complete) and on budget to date, with only expending 3.8% of contingency. Also shared were the communications and student, staff, and community engagement events, including the ongoing video series, today's 100th Day celebration in 5K and the Facility Advisory and Staff tours and Question and Answer sessions being held to keep everyone up to date with the building's progress.

Science and Engineering Curriculum and Programmatic Review – Andrew Joseph and Jenny Lindee shared the second year implementation of the revised science and engineering programming 4K-8th grade. Highlights include the increase in hands-on learning and lab opportunities, particularly in the upper grades, as well as the collaboration and problem-solving development across all grades.
