When: Tuesday, Feb. 11, 2025
5:30-7:30 p.m.

The Edison region will host a family engagement night featuring literacy activities, bike safety information, resources from Fresno Unified and the community, and free food on a first come, first served basis. Families are asked to RSVP to the event on their ParentSquare app. The celebration will also feature the recognition of students who have achieved their reading and math stretch growth goals, as well as those who have shown improvement in their Distance from Standard score.

The Edison celebration is part of a series of family engagement events held in the high school regions to increase inclusive opportunities for families to engage in their students' education. Sponsors are Parent University and Fresno Unified trustee Keshia Thomas.

“We welcome families to attend the Edison region family engagement night and take advantage of free resources, fun reading activities and a chance to celebrate academic achievement,” said Interim Superintendent Misty Her.
