

John C. Morley Class of 1950

John Morley went on to Yale after Middlesex and was commissioned in the Navy after graduation. He then received an MBA from the University of Michigan and began his career with Exxon. In 1971, he was named President of Exxon Chemical USA and Senior Vice President of Exxon USA. After Exxon acquired Reliance Electric Company in 1979, John was named President and CEO of Reliance. He has been a volunteer for numerous education and health care groups in Cleveland since relocating there upon taking the post at Reliance.

