ORANGEBURG COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT EDUCATORS APPOINTED TO LEADERSHIP ROLES IN THE SOUTH CAROLINA EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION ASSOCIATION

ORANGEBURG, S.C. – Orangeburg County School District proudly announces the appointment of several educators to leadership positions within the South Carolina Early Childhood Education Association (SCECA). These professionals will help strengthen early childhood education across the state while representing the district.

SCECA is an organization that values diversity, equity, and inclusion. It works to create a fair and supportive educational environment for South Carolina's children, families, and educators. The organization is committed to breaking down systemic barriers and promoting inclusive early learning opportunities.

The following Orangeburg County School District educators have been elected to leadership roles within SCECA:

- Dr. Mary Williams, Assistant Principal at Dover Elementary, has been elected Vice President of the South Carolina Early Childhood Education Association. She previously served as the President and Treasurer of SCECA District 7, showing her dedication to advancing early childhood education.
- Dr. Trese Reed, Instructional Coach at Whittaker Elementary School, has been elected Vice President of SCECA District 7. She will support early learning initiatives in the region.
- Dr. Vickel Darby, Coordinator of Early Learning and Instructional Technology, has been elected Secretary of SCECA District 7. She continues to focus on improving instructional practices and early childhood learning.
- Mrs. Brenda Gadsen, Kindergarten Instructional Assistant at Whittaker Elementary School, will continue as Treasurer of SCECA District 7, managing financial responsibilities for the organization.

These appointments reflect the hard work and expertise of Orangeburg County School District educators in early childhood education. The district is proud of their leadership and dedication to providing strong learning opportunities for all children.
