November Students of the Month

Student
Of The Month

Radriannah Holloway

"It's been a pleasure having Radriannah as part of the Carter's Corporate Work Study Program! Throughout her first 8 weeks, she's added value to our company by organizing the Carter's fabric / material library and presenting a competitive analysis of Ecommerce Holiday experiences to the Site Merchandising team. We've enjoyed hearing her speak up in meetings and look forward to seeing all of her accomplishments this school year!" - Carter's

Congratulations!

Student
Of The Month

David Nolasco-Jimenez

"David impressed me with his communication skills today. He attended an event with our staff and contributed to the conversation in each setting he was in. We also reviewed his objectives for the year and discussed how we can be setting him up for success." - GA Tech (COE)

Congratulations!

Student
Of The Month

Brandon Maldonado

"Yesterday was Brandon's first day with the Roadway group. He showed a lot of enthusiasm for all his tasks, took thorough notes, and went into a lot of detail on his research project. He seems to be grasping concepts quickly and asks good questions. The team also had a great time with him during our lunch break and throughout the day." - Kimley Horn

Congratulations!

Student
Of The Month

Alan De Jesus

"Alan, was very punctual and came in prepared for the tasks that were assigned to him for this day. He spent his day working with our onsite CFC where he was able to interact with our onsite volunteers and also assist his colleagues with loading food boxes into our Amazon driver vehicles for a delivery program we work on with Amazon."
