

JAMES NOBLE AWARD (FOOTBALL)

James Noble, Easton High School Class of 1937, was the Captain and Quarterback of the Easton Football Team in 1936. He led the Rovers to a 7-1-1 record that season. He was a three-year letter winner in Football and Basketball. He was also a member of the Drama Club his senior year. James Noble was an outstanding student. He went on to Fordham University where he again was the starting quarterback. These were the years when Fordham was a national college football power, whose players included the Seven Blocks of Granite, and an offensive line that had a 175 lb. left guard named Vincent Lombardi. While playing for Fordham, James Noble was discovered by Hollywood talent scouts and offered roles in motion pictures. A student first, James said he was interested, but not until he completed his degree in Business. However, World War II came before James could graduate from Fordham. He became an Army Air Force pilot. He met his heroic death in aerial combat with the enemy.

Award is given out annually by the football staff.
