SO YOU'RE LOOKING FOR A JOB...

Finding the right job can be challenging, but it isn't impossible. What you'll need is the right tools and information, and that's exactly what this playbook is for! This useful guide can ensure that your first step into the workforce starts on the right foot.

In your NEXT STEPS Playbook, you'll find a step-by-step guide on how to look for a job, create a professional resume, and earn credentials that boost your employability from a range of sources in the SC Works System.

Finding a great career takes work and the more work you put into researching opportunities the better your odds are for finding the right fit for you. Getting the job also takes some serious effort, and employers are looking for the right person for their open positions. What can you do to show employers YOU are that person? Well, employers are looking for candidates who are eager, willing to learn, and able to follow instructions.

Ready to get to work? Absolutely! Just a heads up, careers take time, so go easy on yourself! With a sprinkle of patience and a dash of effort, we know you will go out there and do great things!

“Without leaps of imagination or dreaming, we lose the excitement of possibilities. Dreaming, after all, is a form of planning.”

STRATEGIES

FOR EARNING A CREDENTIAL DEBT FREE

LOWER YOUR COSTS

Look for a local state-funded school. You can save by by living at home and by not traveling out of state for college.

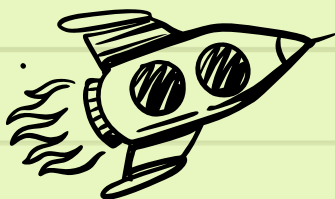

PRO TIPS

Keep your grades up. Most college scholarships require a "B" average. Complete the FAFSA and follow the directions for other forms of aid.

LOOK FOR EMPLOYERS THAT PAY YOUR WAY

Select employers that will sponsor apprenticeships or tuition reimbursement. Others may offer student loan repayments.

PRO TIPS

Use this guide to identify employers who help students.

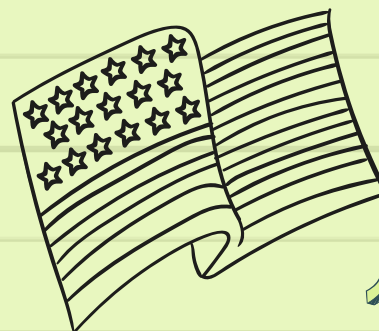

EXPLORE SHORT-TERM CERTIFICATES

Pick up a computer certification, become an Emergency Medical Technician, or take welding skills tests. Certifications let you earn good money fast, so you can continue to go to school while you work.

CONSIDER THE MILITARY OR GUARD

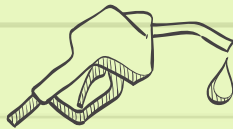

STRATEGIES

WORK TO PAY FOR EXPENSES

Working while you are in school helps support you but also helps you build your skills. Many people start their careers while working part-time to cover the costs of necessities like food, gas, and clothes.

PRO

TIPS

If you are willing to take shifts/days that established workers do not want, you can earn more money per hour and get a job faster.

CHECK OUT SC WORKS PARTNERS

Such as the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act or Vocational Rehabilitation. Sometimes specialized programs can help pay for costs such as tuition, books, supplies, and possibility childcare. To get started contact your local SC Works Office.

“

When I consider all the success I found in my career, I cannot omit the role that the WIOA played in that. Being fresh out of high school, I had little direction or prospects in finding gainful employment. Yet with the guidance of the great people at the WIOA, I found a career in the health field that I absolutely love, but more importantly, I found meaning and purpose.

10 Steps of a Job Search

1

Plan Your Time

Make a "to-do" list outlining everything you will need to look for a job.

2

Identify Occupations

Make a list that explains your experience to identify jobs that use your talents

3

Identify Employers

Ask friends, relatives, etc. to help you find job openings. Be sure to visit your local SC Works too!

4

Prepare Materials

Assemble a job search kit that includes: pens, resume copies, applications, experience list, Social Security Card, and photo ID.

5

Contact Employers

Review job announcements to determine how your skills apply to the open position. Fill out employers applications or call employers directly

6

Prepare for Interviews

Learn about the company you are interviewing with. Practice answering possible questions.

7

Go To Interviews

Dress for success and remember first impressions are important! Be clean, concise, and positive. Always thank the interviewer for their time.

8

Evaluate Interviews

Send a thank you letter within 24 hours of the the interview, letting the interviewer know you appreciate their time and are looking forward to hearing back from them.

9

Take Tests

If there are any tests you have to take in order to evaluate your job skills, brush up on those skills. Be confident and relaxed when you test! You got this!

10

Accept the Job!

Be flexible regarding salary, but don't sell your self short.

MAKING

RESUME COVER LETTER

Your resume is your foot in the door for an interview, and you're going to want to stand apart from the other applicants. There are multiple ways to format your resume, but what you'll want more than anything is to ensure that your resume has certain information

RESUME GUIDELINES

- ✓ Place your name at the top of the page on its own line.
- ✓ Include a professional email address that you check often.
- ✓ Tailor your resume so that it is appropriate for the position you are applying for.
- ✓ Provide position titles and descriptions

You can do anything if you have the enthusiasm.

—Henry Ford, founder of Ford Motor Company and Business Magnate

A cover letter is your first impression with an employer and provides you with an opportunity to direct attention to specific parts of your resume that relate to the job opening.

COVER LETTER GUIDELINES

- ✓ Make your cover letter specific to the job you are applying for.
- ✓ Proofread your cover letter.
- ✓ Talk about work experience that would be beneficial for the employer to know about before looking at your resume

The only thing standing between you and outrageous success is continuous progress

—Dan Waldschmidt,
International Business
Strategist

INTERVIEW TIPS

Preparing to Meet Your Next Employer

You did it! Your resume was so great that you got the call you've been waiting for...scheduling your interview! Interviews are a chance to show employers that you are the applicant they want and need. Now is the time to make a game plan to be ready to meet with your future employer.

DO YOUR HOMEWORK

● Google the company's website. Is it independently owned, part of a regional or national chain, and if so, where are other locations? What is their main product? Are you focusing on an industry and an occupation that are growing, and therefore offer much greater possibilities for advancement and compensation?

FIRST IMPRESSIONS

● Make sure to dress for success. If you need assistance with organizations or resources for interview outfits, a representative in the SC Works center can help with recommendations depending on the company. You will impress people with your preparation and your manners. Introduce yourself, shake hands, maintain good eye contact with focused attention, speak slowly and avoid slang.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT

The best way to prepare for an interview is to roleplay. Grab a friend or relative and have them play the interviewer. The more you practice, the more comfortable you'll feel in the actual interview. Here are a few tips to help you answer questions.

WORK IN

INTERVIEW TIPS

You Should Ask Questions Too

Individuals conducting an interview will usually ask if you have any questions. You might think of specific questions while talking to the interviewer, however, you should always have a few general questions prepared. If they invite you to ask questions, you should definitely ask something because it shows interest and investment in their company.

- Can you tell me more about the job duties for this position?
- How would I be trained?
- Can you tell me if this is a new job position or why this job is open?
- How would my job success be tracked or rated?
- You also need to ask a question that will help you understand - and also convey to the hiring manager - your concern about the opportunities for professional growth and advancement. The impression you want to give is that you are ambitious and want to move ahead. This is a crucial question: Did the people before you leave because they could not move up within the organization, or does the vacancy exist because the position is watched for promotion opportunities?
