MEDIA RELEASE

Ethnic Studies Program will Host Presentation about Native and Indigenous Voices in the Valley

What: Presentation for students, families and the community about Indigenous people in the valley

When: Wednesday, March 5, 2025
5:30-7 p.m.

Where: Fresno High School library
1839 N. Echo Ave. (93704)

Students, families and the community are invited to learn more about Native American and Indigenous people of the valley through a presentation by Dr. Leece Lee-Oliver, director of American Indian Studies at Fresno State. Lee-Oliver's presentation will include discussion of the book, "An Indigenous Peoples' History of the United States," by Roxanne Dunbar-Ortiz.

This classroom-to-community cultural literacy event will also feature information about Fresno Unified's ethnic studies program for students in pre-kindergarten through 12th grade, a book raffle and light refreshments.

"This presentation, hosted by our ethnic studies program, is a great opportunity to learn more about the Indigenous people of our country and about the first people to make their home in our region," said Interim Superintendent Misty Her.
