Spring 2025

Dear Business Owner/Manager,

Skykomish Valley Indian Education families, with the support of our nonprofit SVIE Parent Organization, will present our Annual Evening of Native Culture and Silent Auction on Saturday, March 22nd at the Snohomish High School Commons.

As a business supporter of this community-wide event, we welcome your support through a donated gift certificate or items for our Silent Auction. Your business will be listed in the evening's program, and any brochures or business information you provide will be displayed with your items on the silent auction table. Monetary donations are also welcomed.

This event provides us with an opportunity to share Native culture with the entire community. This will be an unforgettable evening, featuring inspirational speaker and Native Storyteller, Johnny Arnoux, Native Flute Artist, Peter Ali. Special guest Annette Gaeth Wooley will share a spoken word presentation and her journey from being a student in our Indian Education Program to becoming an educator. In addition to working in education, she is now a published writer and is studying for her doctorate.

The Skykomish Valley Indian Education Program has served Native American/Alaska Native students preschool thru high school, in the Monroe School District since 1980. We are now a consortium, serving the Snohomish and Sultan School Districts as well.

The federally funded portion of our program supports our students' educational and culturally related academic needs. Our nonprofit parent organization, through fund raising activities, and the support of business and individual donations, offers our seniors graduation and merit awards. In addition, we provide students with opportunities to learn cultural arts, and support school-wide and community-wide opportunities to experience and learn about our varied Native American cultures.

Please use the contact information below to reach me if you have any questions, and we hope to see you and your family at our event on March 22nd! We will be happy to pick up any donations.

Sincerely,

Marlene (Mars) Miller
