Lexonik

www.lexonik.co.uk | phil.luke@lexonik.co.uk

Lexonik is an award-winning company based in the North East of England, working with teachers globally to raise attainment through transformational literacy programmes, teacher training and whole school vocabulary teaching to supercharge literacy skills.

Lexonik's intervention programmes teach students a methodology which allows them to decode and deconstruct meaning from language independently, leveraging metacognition and repetition to lead to reading and comprehension automaticity. Integral to our approach is teacher training and a whole school vocabulary solution which lessens teacher variability and ensures students can connect intervention learning to the classroom.

Lexonik's flagship intervention programme rapidly improves reading, spelling, vocabulary and comprehension, with average reading age gains of +27 months in just six one-hour sessions. Additionally, Lexonik Leap, effectively resolves phonics gaps for all learners at any age, including those for whom English is not their first language.
