Gateway School is a unique safe environment for special needs children, teens and young adults who are facing some of life's most challenging battles. The staff at Gateway are amazing front-line people who care. They are incredibly dedicated, energetic, and are often referred to as "Angles on Earth". The children they serve know this. We know this. We hope that you too, those of you who don't get to witness them in action, will understand and come to know this as well. It comes as no surprise, and could often be said, that the staff at Gateway enjoy events like Gator Gallop even more than the students do! Up for debate...

But seriously, without the Gateway staff opening "doors" for Evan, praying for him, working on his various therapies, including him in crafts, music, movies, along with never ending support, his life would be much different and much more challenging for all of us. Instead of being excluded, he's included. He is loved by the many hands who get to touch his life on a daily basis, from the bus driver, to the attendants, to the therapists, to the teachers, to the school Principal, their arms are always open wide, and their hearts are open even wider.

We have been blessed to be a part of the Gateway family for almost 17 years now. How time flies! Evan enjoys his school days; unlike most kids.. It gives him a regular weekly schedule and daily socialization which helps improve his outlook; how he sees the world outside our home. He knows his school, loves it. Knows church, loves it. Knows the dentist office, hates it! Our many heartfelt thanks to Gateway Education Center and the community that supports it! They make life possible!
