What is Cyberbullying?

Cyberbullying is the use of digital technology—such as social media, text messages, emails, or gaming platforms—to harass, threaten, embarrass, or harm another person. Unlike traditional bullying, cyberbullying can happen anytime, anywhere, and messages can spread quickly to a wide audience. Talk to a trusted adult today if you know of someone being cyberbullied. Not only is it mean, it's also against the law.

Here in Cougar Country, we are READY TO LEARN!

1. We greet our teacher at the door
2. Our cell phones and ear buds go in the pouch
3. We gather our supplies
4. We begin our entry work

We LEVEL UP in everything we do!
