Educational Services - Saturday Academy

Saturday, March 1st, we kicked off the first of four Saturday Attendance Recovery Program sessions at Anderson! Thanks to the collective efforts of our dedicated staff, we provided extended learning opportunities, recovered lost instructional time, and supported 145 students in reducing chronic absenteeism.

With 10 teachers leading instruction and over 10 support staff members ensuring smooth operations and student engagement, this initiative was a true team effort. We appreciate everyone's commitment to making this program a success and for helping keep our students on track!

We're excited for another great session this Saturday!

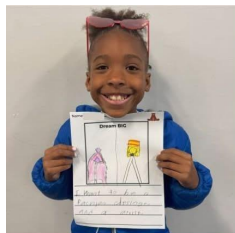

Educational Services

March 1, 2025, fifty of our 2nd–8th grade African American/Black students, along with their families, had the incredible opportunity to experience a day in the life of a UCLA student.

This special trip was designed to encourage students to envision their future in higher education while fostering meaningful conversations between children and their parents/guardians about college aspirations.

The event was hosted in collaboration with the 100 Black Men of Los Angeles and the Afrikan Mxn's Collective of UCLA.
