Educators of the Week

This week, we celebrate Ms. Clyburn, our dedicated Special Education Chairperson, for her outstanding leadership and unwavering commitment to student success. Ms. Clyburn exemplifies instructional excellence, consistently fostering an inclusive and engaging learning environment. She is a champion for best practices in special education, ensuring that all students receive the support and differentiation they need to thrive. Beyond the classroom, Ms. Clyburn’s leadership shines through her work with My Sister’s Keeper, where she empowers our young female scholars to develop confidence, leadership skills, and a strong sense of community. Through mentorship and meaningful discussions, she helps students navigate challenges and embrace their full potential. Ms. Clyburn’s positive disposition and boundless energy are truly electric, inspiring both colleagues and students. Thank you, Ms. Clyburn, for all that you do!

Beth Goodman is an exceptional literacy teacher whose dedication and versatility are welcomed in our classrooms. In the classroom, Ms. Goodman creates an engaging and nurturing environment that fosters critical thinking, creativity, and a deep love of reading and writing. She skillfully differentiates her lessons to meet the diverse needs of her scholars, ensuring every individual feels seen, supported, and challenged. As one of the Testing Coordinators, Ms. Goodman demonstrates impeccable organizational skills and meticulous attention to detail. She ensures that every testing requirement is met with precision, facilitating a smooth and efficient process for scholars and staff. Her ability to balance multiple tasks; lesson planning, testing logistics, and contributing her artistry in balloon designs and decor truly showcases her dedication to excellence in all she does. We deeply appreciate Ms. Goodman’s willingness to join the press conference with Kathy Hochul, where she proudly represented Westbury Middle School and shared in the celebration of our school being chosen. Thank you for making Westbury Middle School shine.

Ms. Colquhoun – A Maestro of Excellence! We are thrilled to celebrate Ms. Colquhoun, our passionate Orchestra Teacher, who consistently goes above and beyond to enrich the musical experiences of our scholars. She’s led breathtaking performances at the Winter Fest and WMS finding extraordinary opportunities for our young musicians, or supporting the school community with her unwavering enthusiasm.

We are beyond proud to share that she has been accepted into the prestigious Conducting Workshop professional development program at the Music Conservatory of Westchester! This remarkable achievement speaks to her dedication to her craft and to the growth of our orchestra program.
