District welcomes five new administrators

Omer

Watkins

Hagaman

West

O'Connell

We are delighted to welcome five new administrators to Walled Lake Consolidated Schools and know they will serve our community well. They are:

Julie Omer, assistant superintendent for Business Services. She previously served as the chief financial officer in Owosso Public Schools.

Tikia Watkins, supervisor of Special Services. She most recently served as a District coordinator of Special Services.

Katy Hagaman, interim supervisor of Special Services. She's served as a District teacher consultant, behavior specialist and PBIS coach.

Ryan West, principal at Commerce Elementary. He previously served as principal at Roosevelt Elementary in West Bloomfield.

Carrie O'Connell, interim principal at Glengary Elementary. She was previously an instructional specialist at Dublin Elementary.

Walled Lake athletics expands Unified Sports program

2023-24 WLN/WLC Unified Soccer teams

2022-23 WLC/WLW Unified Basketball teams

A year after introducing Unified Sports basketball, the District added soccer to its program. This fall, Walled Lake Central, Northern and Western all fielded teams. Unified basketball will enter the second season this winter for the Warriors and Vikings.

Special Olympics of Michigan sponsors Unified Sports to support an inclusive sports program for Special Olympics athletes (individuals with disabilities) and partners (individuals without disabilities) as teammates. Unified Sports are dedicated to promoting social inclusion through shared sports training and competition experiences.

Four National Merit Semifinalists Named

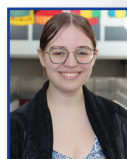

Walled Lake Schools is proud to announce four students have been named semifinalists for the 69th annual National Merit Scholarship.

Ryann Hunt, WLN, is the daughter of Larry and Erin Hunt. She is considering pursuing a career in social sciences, but is still undecided.

Hunt

Anna Loszewski, WLN, is the daughter of Timothy and Kimberly Loszewski. She is considering studying art or mortuary science.

Loszewski

Alyssa Paolicchi, WLW, is the daughter of Joseph and Marianna Paolicchi. She plans to major in engineering with a focus in either electrical or mechanical engineering.

Paolicchi

Kyra Wong, WLW, is the daughter of Richard and Michelle Wong. She would like to pursue a degree in either business and technology or sustainable business.

Wong

Routledge, Merchant, VanWagnen, Bell and Kidd receive Golden Apples

Routledge

Dave Routledge, school psychologist at Walled Lake Northern High School; and Anne Merchant, Food Service secretary received Golden Apple Awards at the Board of Education meeting on Sept. 7.

The person who nominated Dave preferred to remain anonymous and shared that he is the ultimate professional and leader.

Merchant

Anne was nominated by Nancy Kattoula because she looks outside of the box to find solutions that best help our students.

VanWagnen

Jennifer VanWagnen, principal at Meadowbrook Elementary received a Golden Apple Award at the Oct. 5 Board of Education meeting.

She was nominated by Meadowbrook parent, Heather Issers, because she is impressed at how Jennifer jumped into her role and acclimated so well.

Thank you for donations of flowers for the Golden Apple winners

Joe Bell, assistant principal at WL Central (WLC); and Bobby Kidd, groundskeeper at WLC received Golden Apple Awards at the Nov. 2 Board of Education meeting.

Bell

Joe was nominated by Dr. Nick Hamblin, assistant principal at WLC because Joe is in it for the students. This admirable and genuine mindset is evident each and every day at Central.

Kidd

Bobby Kidd was nominated by Dave Rogers, band director at WLC because Bobby is a vital part of their ability to have a successful marching band.

LAYA raises funds and returns them to the District

Nancy van Leuwen, Ellen Demray and Peggy Hawke

Lakes Area Youth Assistance (LAYA) held another outstanding Taste of the Lakes event on Sept. 19 at Edgewood Country Club. A special thank you to all those involved, including local restaurants, businesses and District Parent Teacher Associations (PTAs) for their generous donations and, of course, all those who attended the 2023 event.

LAYA is a prevention program whose mission is to strengthen our youth and families by preventing and reducing child abuse, neglect and delinquency through community involvement.

Gift basket donations from the District PTAs raise money as raffle prizes

"The event was a memorable evening and a huge success raising over $23,000," noted Ellen Demray, chairperson of the event. "Because of this event, LAYA will be able to support many programs for at-risk students during the school year and next summer. If you know a Walled Lake Schools student that may benefit from LAYA services, please reach out to your child's counselor or principal." The 2024 Teacher of the Year event is scheduled for Sept. 17.

Walled Lake Central's Joe Bell named a finalist for MASSP Assistant Principal of the Year

The Michigan Association of Secondary School Principals (MASSP) named Walled Lake Central's Joe Bell one of four finalists for its 2024 Assistant Principal of the Year Award.

"It is the highest sort of honor to be recognized by your peers; especially for doing a job that you care about so much," said Bell. "Being selected as a finalist is a privilege; I truly appreciate all the kind words of encouragement from our staff at Walled Lake Central."

Bell is in his sixth year serving as one of Walled Lake Central's assistant principals. He's been an administrator in Walled Lake Consolidated Schools since 2005, when he started as an assistant principal at James R. Geisler Middle School. Bell then moved to Walled Lake Western, where he was an assistant principal for three years and principal for eight years before taking the assistant principal position at Walled Lake Central.

"Mr. Bell brings a wealth of experience as well as passion to the job," said Walled Lake Central principal Kyle Meteyer. "He cares deeply about students and our school, which is evident in his daily interactions, high levels of integrity, and meticulous oversight of myriad programs and events. There is no doubt Mr. Bell makes Walled Lake Central a better school for everyone!"

Karie Starr named Red Wings teacher of the month

Karie Starr, Hickory Woods Elementary 4th grade teacher, was honored by the Detroit Red Wings as their Teacher of the Month for October. Former Red Wing Darren McCarty presented her with the award at Little Caesars Arena, along with $1,500 to spend for her classroom and four tickets to a Red Wings game.

"I feel extremely honored to be recognized since I work with some of the best teachers there are," said Starr. "Being awarded with money to spend in my classroom was such a wonderful bonus." Starr is now in the running for the Red Wings Teacher of the Year award, which will be presented later in the season.

PTAs help raise funds to assist with student activities and classroom support

Parent Teacher Associations (PTAs) across the District led fall fund raising to help assist with student activities and classroom support for teachers. The PTAs employed a variety of fundraisers, with the most popular being color/fun runs, that involve the collection of monetary donations with prizes or raffles once thresholds are met. They also involve a lot of spirited fun for all.

Hickory Woods Elementary's Mario-themed run raised a record breaking $27,415.52. Due to the rain, Glengary Elementary introduced the "Glengary Pivot" and consolidated their run from a full day to around an hour. Mary Helen Guest Elementary's Principal, Mark Hess, got in on the fun by coloring his hair and then shaving it off after the PTA raised over $22,500!

Walled Lake Central's Mady Pavuk claims state equestrian championship

Mady Pavuk on her horse, Popcorn, with her dad holding the reins.

Mady Pavuk shined in her first season on the Walled Lake Central equestrian team and, on Oct. 11, claimed the first ever Equines with Disabilities (EWD) Division state crown.

The EWD Division was a pilot program this year, which allowed riders with disabilities to compete along with their peers on their school's team against riders with similar abilities.

Pavuk has Mitochondrial Disease, which results in her small size, low muscle tone, and contributes to learning challenges. However, Pavuk showed this fall that when you don't allow your disability to define you, anything is possible.

"While Mady may not be cut out for soccer or basketball, through equestrian she has learned how to work together with her horse, Popcorn, to do patterns as well as run speed events," said Greg Pavuk, Mady's father. "This really is the greatest thing she has ever done, and she has been so happy to be on the team."

Pavuk first approached her dad about joining the equestrian team during her freshman year. He told her that he would look into it and, since then, they have learned so much about the sport from her first lesson all the way to this year's state championship.

"We can't describe the feeling when she is in the arena and you hear the cheering coming from everyone at the event," said Greg, who assists Mady during competitions. "That makes her so happy, but I also think there is something that we are all getting out of those moments that make us feel good and reinforce why we do this sport."

Pavuk competes in four events: Western Fitting and Show, Hunt Seat Equitation, Western Equitation, and the speed event Clover. "My favorite event is the speed event because I like going around the barrels," said Mady. "At Regionals, that was as fast as Popcorn ever went."

"To see her grow as a rider has been very rewarding," said Walled Lake Central equestrian coach Amy Willis. "We hope next season we will see the EWD division grow so more kids like Mady can experience the joy of riding and competing."

"I hope that Mady is a harbinger," added Greg. "We have shown how a rider who requires assistance can do it and improve in every event."

Walled Lake Marching Band caps its season with historic finish at Grand Nationals

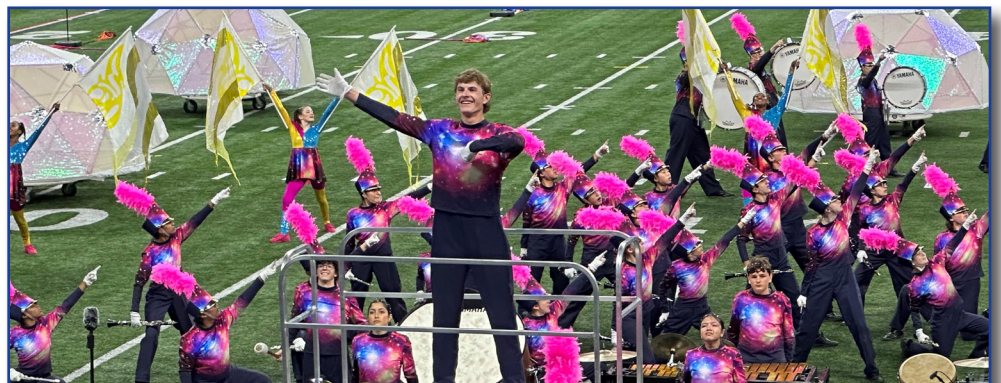

In early November, the Walled Lake Competitive Marching Band shined on the country's biggest stage at the 2023 Bands of America Grand National Championships in Indianapolis. The combined marching band from Walled Lake Central and Walled Lake Western kicked off the showcase at Lucas Oil Stadium with a bang. Its performance of 'Wonder' left the judges in awe in the preliminary round on Thursday earning the marching band a spot in Saturday's semifinals.

The Walled Lake Competitive Marching Band once again hit all the high notes on Saturday placing 3rd in the nation in Class AAA, which is its highest finish in program history. They earned 21st overall among the entire field of 92 bands across all classifications, as well as the top band from the state of Michigan. The Walled Lake Competitive Marching is also just the third band from Michigan to medal in its class since 2005.

The other two bands to medal during that span were Reeths-Puffer High School and Jenison High School.

"To say we are proud of our kids and teaching staff would be an understatement," said co-director David Rogers. "They never stopped striving for improvement for our entire four month long season. They kept working their hearts out, and it definitely paid off." "We are both so proud and thankful for the collective effort of all the students, parents, and instructional staff," said fellow co-director, Patrick Dudzinski. "Our achievements with the Walled Lake Marching Band are not possible without our outstanding middle school teachers."

The award-winning Walled Lake Competitive Marching Band placed 3rd in the nation in Class AAA, as well as being the top band from the state of Michigan.

Walled Lake Central and Northern honor many in annual Salute to Service game

On Aug. 31, the Walled Lake Central HS and Walled Lake Northern HS football teams played in honor of United States military personnel, veterans, and first responders. The Salute to Service game has been played between these two schools since 2014. The host Knights defeated the Vikings in this year's game, 38-3. The game will be hosted by Central in 2024.

"A football game between rivals already has a tremendous amount of emotion built into it. When you add in the special salute to our local heroes, you can feel the electricity in the air at each of these games. These kids are playing the game with the names of friends and family members on their backs, as well as in their hearts," commented WLC Salute to Service game organizer, Robert Smiley.

Proceeds from this annual celebration help support Military Families United of Michigan.

Walled Lake Western Pink Out raises over $40,000 in 12th annual event

Walled Lake Western HS hosted the 12th annual, Warriors for Warriors (W4W) Pink Out fundraising event on Oct. 13. There was a Warrior parade and a jersey honoree ceremony. W4W has honored close to 1,000 cancer warriors. Honorees have reported what a special and meaningful event this is for them and their families. This year, the football and other sports pink out games, plus donations, raised over $40,000*. In the last 11 years, W4W has raised over $650,000 for Angels of Hope Michigan and St. Baldrick's Foundation for Pediatric Cancer.

The 2023 Honorary Captain, Wesley Collins, is a 2nd grade student at Loon Lake Elementary. In March of 2021, Wesley was admitted to Children's Hospital of Michigan with a bump on his forehead. It was eventually diagnosed as Acute Lymphoblastic Leukemia. He has endured many hospital stays, procedures, and chemo. While treatment continues and involves chemo, he is through the worst of it. Wesley has returned to school and overall feels better every day. He was so excited to participate as Honorary Captain this year and have the support from the community.

A big thanks to Joey Sinkevics, a senior at Walled Lake Western, and his mother, Jennifer Sinkevics, for donating a signed Aidan Hutchinson jersey which raised money for Angels of Hope and St. Baldrick's. Beth Schwierking was the lucky winner.

The Clifford H. Smart Middle School girls' cross country team etched its name in the record books on Oct. 26, at the MHSAA Regional Championship meet.

The Trojans took home their first regional title in school history, as well as the first ever at the middle school level within Walled Lake Consolidated Schools. Eliana Fredrick was Smart's top finisher, second overall, clocking the 3200 meter race in 12:35.00. Fredrick, along with teammates, Quinn Blewett, Alyssa Dayton and Kara Alt earned All-Region honors.

Along with winning the regional title, the girls also had a perfect 7-0 record this season, won the Lakes Valley Conference Championship, and finished second overall at the Oakland County Championship.

Mary Helen Guest Elementary students receive brand new pairs of shoes

Mary Helen Guest Elementary teacher Melanie McFadden submitted her story of why her 3rd grade class deserved to win new pairs of shoes. That story touched the hearts of many and, on Oct. 12, Volunteers of America and Detroit Metro Area Chevy Dealers delivered new shoes, cider and donuts to her class.

Commerce Elementary students engage with new educational tool

The PTA at Commerce Elementary donated an incredible educational tool for the Cougars. The Lu is an interactive projector that transforms the gym into an active and immersive space for students. It engages them physically and intellectually with different types of educational games.

Graduate Spotlight Constantine Novotny, Walled Lake Northern HS Class of 2009

Northern graduate is a professor, opera singer and member of a band

Constantine Novotny is a 2009 graduate of Walled Lake Northern HS. While at Northern, he was heavily involved in the choir and theater programs.

After high school, he received a Bachelor's of Music in Vocal Performance from Oakland University, graduating in 2013. He went on to earn a Master's of Music in Opera Performance from Wichita State University in 2015 and a Master's in Sacred Music from the University of Notre Dame in 2019.

"...take advantage of what the school has to offer and enjoy the quality relationships you will make in the process."

Constantine Novotny

A large amount of his opera singing was done during his studies at the universities, but he has had the pleasure of singing the Count in Mozart's Marriage of Figaro with the FAVA summer program in Salzburg, Austria, the title role in Mozart's Don Giovanni with the Detroit-based Opera MODO, and in the chorus at the Detroit Opera House. He was hired by the baroque orchestras American Bach Soloists and Apollo's Fire, and sang in the choir of Apollo's Fire with the New York Philharmonic in a performance of Handel's Messiah in New York City. While living in New York, he was a staff singer at the Church of St. Luke in the Fields and would substitute often at St. Thomas Church Fifth Avenue, a beautiful cathedral known for its excellent music. Being a freelance musician means he usually gets a small handful of interesting gigs per year that take him around the USA.

With his band, The Sundots, he has performed in some legendary venues in New York such as The Bitter End and The Cutting Room (and he believes at both venues he played the same piano that Lady Gaga and Norah Jones played before they made it big.) They have released three albums since they formed in 2017, and have collected valuable life experiences along the way.

Constantine is currently a member of the voice faculty at his alma mater, Oakland University, where he teaches courses and voice lessons to undergraduate music, theater, and non-major students.

In his free time, he writes songs for The Sundots since it is his main creative outlet aside from classical singing. Otherwise, he will be playing Mozart or Bach on the piano, lazing with his Nintendo, or having a burger with a friend.

"I owe so much to the strength of the performing arts department during my time at Walled Lake Northern," said Constantine. "For my freshman through junior years, choir director William Boggs provided me with some of the best musical training a high school student could ask for. The strong musical foundation I was able to build during those formative years helped immensely by the time I arrived at college."

"The music theory course offered and taught by Mary Hulliberger was also invaluable, and having Mike Peterson lead the choirs after Mr. Boggs' retirement was terrific. Not to mention the state-of-the-art theater Walled Lake Northern had. What a gift!"

Constantine Novotny,
2009 graduate of WL Northern

"On top of all this, I made some of the longest-lasting close friendships during my high school music days," added Constantine.

His advice for current students is to take advantage of what the school has to offer and enjoy the quality relationships you will make in the process.

Constantine's band, The Sundots, has performed in some legendary venues and released three albums since they formed in 2017.

If you know a former student who could be highlighted in the Graduate Spotlights' section, please email PamelaCole@wlcsd.org.
