Bash the Trash Environmental Arts LLC www.bashthetrash.com

Sustainable Sounds- Three performers using amazing musical instruments created from trash make connections to science, music and sustainability – it's STEAM in action! The program is always fast, funny and age-appropriate. Students learn how to build their own instruments while discovering the science behind them. Throughout the show we incorporate timely and important information about Plastic Pollution and Climate Change, and how students can get involved in the fight for our planet.

Mark Rust www.markrust.com

Earth Day Show (Assembly) - A fun, entertaining and educational presentation with Mark Rust to celebrate Earth Day. Songs about the earth, animals and the environment. Features guitar, banjo, fiddle, hammered dulcimer and spoons. Very participatory.

Mobile Ed Productions www.mobileedproductions.com

Our Changing Climate- Dr. Exhaustus presents two age-appropriate versions of OUR CHANGING CLIMATE that leaves students with a basic understanding of the content elements and how they are all connected to the subject of climate change. Competing scientific points of view about climate change are presented, including the sunspot theory, natural causes and the greenhouse theory.

Night Sky Educational Services www.nightskyeducational.com

Our Living Planet (Earth Balloon)- Using a giant Earth Balloon that students and teacher actually enter, Night Sky's Our Living Planet program explores nearly all Earth Science optics including: Climate, habitat, geology, water systems, geography, environmental, etc. Programs are grade specific and enhance the elementary Science and Global curriculum. In addition to the inflatable Earth, there are videos, models & posters!
