- Curriculum Update - Mr. Matlack
  - Lexia
    - Licenses - $30.00-$40.00 per student
      - Depends on availability to partner with the BCIU
    - Has been a powerful tool for literacy, especially in the online instruction realm
  - Communication with Thom Stechar
    - Adjust the plan for contingencies with COVID-19 moving forward
      - Opening Inservice day presentation through in-person and virtual format
      - Continuing SEL curriculum development
        - Recognizing the new realities and tailoring for them
      - Planning for rolling out the curriculum
  - Heard back from the state concerning my questions on the grant but did not actually get an answer
  - FID Planning
    - Plan due in September for approval by November
  - Given the response on getting just the SEL team back together, I think it is wiser to hold off on trying to move forward with new curriculum work for the balance of the school year and resume in the new school year
    - I have reached out to the Health/PE and Foreign Language teachers to test the waters on finished up the Exploration phase for this school year
    - This allows teachers to continue focusing on making their distance learning classes the priority
    - It also allows me time to plan for the contingencies involved regarding the chances of starting in-person, hybridized, or fully distance
- Felice: Schedule changes in anticipation of fall opening needs:

Art classes

Design and Build

- Special education interventions in a virtual setting
  - Read 180/System 44

- Moby Max
