PAYING FOR COLLEGE

(Info Taken from SC Commission on Higher Education – www.che.sc.gov)

Funding higher education can be a complex process, but there are a number of resources available to assist. Understanding the different types of financial assistance and how to access them can minimize out-of-pocket expenses by taking advantage of grants and scholarships. The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau also offers a highly useful Student Financial Guide to help explain the basics of aid offers, loans and student banking.

Following the steps below will make your pursuit of college in South Carolina as affordable as possible:

Step 1 – Determine Your Residency

To determine if you will pay tuition at the in-state rate, verify that you meet residency requirements in the state of South Carolina. Residency is an essential part of tuition and fee determination, admission regulations, scholarship eligibility, and other relevant policies. Once you have determined residence eligibility, visit your prospective institution's website to find your estimated cost.

Step 2 – Explore Scholarships and Grants

Explore the different types of scholarships and grants that may be available to you. Scholarships and grants are forms of financial assistance that do not have to be repaid:

1) Federal financial aid information (External link to www.studentaid.gov)
2) South Carolina-funded scholarships and grants (HOPE, LIFE, Palmetto Fellows, Lottery Tuition Assistance, Need-based Grants, WINS, National Guard Tuition Assistance)
3) External scholarship and grant resources
4) Minority and multicultural financial aid resources

Step 3 – Complete the FAFSA

Complete the U.S. Department of Education's Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). This is a critical step toward maximizing your financial aid, as colleges use FAFSA data to determine financial aid eligibility and award amounts for both Federal and State financial assistance.

Student aid eligibility depends on the Expected Family Contribution, year in school, enrollment status, and the cost of attendance at the school. The financial aid office at a college or career school will determine how much financial aid a student is eligible to receive.

SC NEED BASED GRANT

The South Carolina Need-based Grant provides additional aid to South Carolina's students with the greatest financial need. A student may receive up to $3,500 annually if enrolled full-time or up to $1,750 annually if enrolled part-time as a degree-seeking student at an eligible public institution. The grant can be applied in any semester of the academic year (i.e. fall, spring, or summer), assuming continued eligibility.

To apply, students must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The financial aid office on each eligible state public college campus administers the South Carolina Need-Based Grant program, determines the students' eligibility to receive grant funding, and the exact amount. All gift aid and scholarships must be applied first before awarding the grant. The grant must be applied directly towards the cost-of-attendance. Students may receive up to a maximum of eight full-time equivalent terms. The South Carolina Higher Education Tuition Grants Commission administers the Need-Based Grant Program for students attending an independent college or university.

Students must be enrolled in a degree-seeking program in their first one-year program, first associate's degree, first two year program leading to a baccalaureate degree, first baccalaureate degree, or first pre-professional undergraduate degree, to include those pre-professional degree programs that may not require a baccalaureate degree at an eligible public state institution.
