4.1.1 The Trust will indicate clearly to the public what information is covered by this scheme and how it can be obtained.

4.1.2 Where possible, the Trust will provide information on its website. Where it is impracticable to make information available on a website or when an individual does not wish to access the information by the website, the Trust will indicate how information can be obtained by other means and provide it by those means.

4.1.3 In exceptional circumstances some information may be available only by viewing in person. Where this manner is specified, contact details will be provided. An appointment to view the information will be arranged within a reasonable timescale.

4.5 The method by which information published under this scheme will be made available

- 4.5.1 The table in Appendix 1 identifies the information which meets the requirements of the Information Commissioner.

5. Refusing requests and exemptions to the law

- 5.1 There will be occasions when a decision is taken to refuse a request for information. Examples of when this could happen are:

- it would cost too much or take too much staff time to deal with the request
- the request is vexatious
- the request repeats a previous request from the same person

- 5.2 The Freedom of Information Act also contains a number of exemptions that allow the Trust to withhold information from a requester. Examples of this type of exemption are:

- if a disclosure could prejudice a criminal investigation
- if commercial interests could be prejudiced
- if it would be contrary to the General Data Protection Regulation (2018) or Data Protection Act (2018)

- 5.3 When a decision is taken to apply an exemption, a refusal notice will be issued giving details of the reason for the decision. Details of the Trust internal review process will be provided.

6.3 Internal review process

6.3.1 An internal review will be conducted by a staff member who did not deal with the original request. The member of staff conducting the review will usually be a more senior member of staff than the staff member who dealt with the request.

6.3.2 The reviewer will:

- make a fresh decision based on all the available evidence that is relevant to the date of the response, not just a review of the first decision
- ensure that the review takes no longer than 20 working days in most cases or 40 in exceptional circumstances
- consider whether circumstances may have changed which mean that the original concerns about disclosure no longer apply

6.3.3 If a complainant is not satisfied with the outcome of the review then a complaint can be made to the Information Commissioners Office.
