Description of Parent Involvement and Participation to Support Goals

Harney Elementary has an active and supportive PTO. The PTO has offered support in many ways including purchasing materials to support students for educational programming and extracurricular activities. The PTO has planned, supported, and implemented Fall Festival, Glow Party, Field Day, Kindy500, teacher appreciation activities, School Clubs, Grade 5 celebration, and Welcome Back Pool Party. Families connect to our school through these activities and monthly PTO Meetings. Harney Elementary also hosts monthly convocations led by our student Ambassadors. Students prepare for school value lessons they teach to our classrooms. Parents and community are invited into our convocations which also include Veterans Day Program, Talent Show, Winter Program, Field Day, and school clubs.

Attendance Data Monitoring and Goal

Harney Elementary will monitor the attendance of our students. We will monitor the overall attendance rate of the entire school population as well as individual student attendance rates and patterns. We will utilize school personnel such as School Resource Officer, Home School Liaison, and administration to work directly with parents and students when a child's lack of attendance is impacting his/her ability to learn or has met the criteria of a habitual absentee. Our goal is to maintain a school attendance rate consistent with the IDOE (Indiana Department of Education) definition of “model” or “persistent” attendance.

Evidence-Based Interventions for Focus Area - E/LA

Describe the evidence-based intervention(s) that the school has identified to address the key findings and root causes for this focus area that are not sufficiently addressed by strategies from the core components:

Recommended increase Literacy Blocks for K-3 from 90 minutes to 120 minutes.

Orton-Gillingham

The Orton-Gillingham Approach is a direct, explicit, multisensory, structured, sequential, diagnostic, and prescriptive way to teach literacy when reading, writing, and spelling does not come easily to individuals, such as those with dyslexia. It is most properly understood and practiced as an approach, not a method, program, or system. In the hands of a well-trained and experienced instructor, it is a powerful tool of exceptional breadth, depth, and flexibility.

The essential curricular content and instructional practices that characterize the Orton-Gillingham Approach are derived from two sources: first from a body of time-tested knowledge and practice that has been validated over the past 80 years, and second from scientific evidence about how individuals learn to read and write; why a significant number have difficulty in doing so; how having dyslexia makes achieving literacy skills more difficult; and which instructional practices are best suited for teaching such individuals to read and write.

The Approach is so named because of the foundational and seminal contributions of Samuel T. Orton and Anna Gillingham. Samuel Torrey Orton (1879-1948) was a neuropsychiatrist and pathologist. He was a pioneer in focusing attention on reading failure and related language processing difficulties. He brought together neuroscientific information and principles of remediation. As early as 1925, he identified dyslexia syndrome as an educational problem. Anna Gillingham (1878-1963) was a gifted educator and psychologist with a superb mastery of the language. Encouraged by Dr. Orton, she compiled and published instructional materials as early as the 1930s, which provided the foundation for student instruction and teacher training in the Orton-Gillingham Approach.

The Orton-Gillingham Approach is most often associated with a one-on-one teacher-student instructional model. Its use in small group instruction is not uncommon. A successful adaptation of the Approach has demonstrated its value for classroom instruction. Reading, spelling, and writing difficulties have been the Approach's dominant focus, although it has been successfully adapted for use with students who show difficulty with mathematics.

The Orton-Gillingham Approach always is focused upon the learning needs of the individual student. Orton-Gillingham (OG) practitioners design lessons and materials to work with students at the level they present by pacing instruction and the introduction of new materials to their individual strengths and weaknesses. Students with dyslexia need to master the same basic knowledge about language and its relationship to our writing system as any who seek to become competent readers and writers. However, because of their dyslexia, they need more help than most people in sorting, recognizing, and organizing the raw materials of language for thinking and use. Language elements that non-dyslexic learners acquire easily must be taught directly and systematically.

Professional Learning Communities/Data Teams

An ongoing process in which educators work collaboratively in recurring cycles of collective inquiry and action research to achieve better results for the students they serve. Professional learning Communities operate under the assumption that the key to improved learning for students is continuous job-embedded learning for educators.

Evidence-Based Interventions for Focus Area - Math

Describe the evidence-based intervention(s) that the school has identified to address the key findings and root causes for this focus area that are not sufficiently addressed by strategies from the core components:

REVEAL MATH

Reveal is an evidenced-based intervention, backed by research that qualifies it for federal and state grant programs. Reveal Math includes a combination of online instruction, instructional reports and a student dashboard that encourages student involvement, ownership of learning and a growth mindset. Reveal Math provides online lessons that motivate students to improve their math proficiency levels and increase their growth. The lessons are assigned based on NWEA Diagnostic results. The instruction is tailored to meet the student learning needs in small groups or through individualized instruction. Reveal is complemented by a variety of teacher resources enabling teachers to target specific skills areas as needed by individual students.

Professional Learning Communities

An ongoing process in which educators work collaboratively in recurring cycles of collective inquiry and action research to achieve better results for the students they serve. Professional learning communities operate under the assumption that the key to improved learning for students is continuous job-embedded learning for educators.

INTERVENTION AND INCLUSION BLOCK

A daily 30-minute intervention block for Math were added to the schedule to ensure that support is given as supplemental support

Using Results for Continuous ImprovementDescription of Ongoing District Data Review Process

Lebanon Community School Corporation (LCSC) is committed to a process for continuous improvement that is well-defined and clearly articulated with measurable outcomes. The district acknowledges that our current best approach to improve and sustain student learning and achievement is through a systems approach that is inclusive of all entities and levels of our system. The district, school, and classroom, teacher, and student level must align their collaborative efforts with the parents and community to achieve high success over time.

Description of Ongoing School Data Review Process

All Teachers and administrators at Harney Elementary use a data review process twice per month to review the collective data from district and state assessments. Once per month, the SIP/SPN Team will review the data and plan for updates for professional development for staff. Teachers will display classroom data within an area of Math, Reading, or Writing. Student goal setting is encouraged to build a culture of achievement in academic areas. Teachers are responsible for recognizing student needs and accessing school resources through our MTSS process. Teachers present the student data to the team, then collaborate to develop Tier 2 and/or Tier 3 intervention plans. Our Title 1 Plan, School Improvement Plan, and Reading Plan are all integrated into our school action plan to serve students that need social, emotional, and academic support. We use the data from assessments and climate/culture surveys to develop and support staff and students. Our School Improvement Team also divides tasks based on results to communicate with staff and garner feedback for intervention, school procedures, and school schedule. School decisions are made with input and consensus to move forward with positive improvement for our school community.

Description of Curriculum

LCSC evaluates curriculum on an ongoing basis in conjunction with the textbook adoption process. The goal of the program evaluation, curriculum/standards revision and textbook adoption cycle is to provide an educational program that enables all students to learn and achieve to the highest possible level. Additionally, LCSC has developed curriculum maps for the core academic areas of English/Language Arts, Math, Science, and Social Studies. Also, LCSC has been working to develop common assessments for use in all district areas. One component of the common assessments is an Assessment Year at a Glance designed to help teachers prioritize standards for instructional planning.

The Core 40 Diploma is the default diploma at Lebanon High School. Students must earn 47 credits including coursework in English, science, math, social studies, physical education, health, technology, and speech. They may also choose from electives in world language, fine arts, computer, and career areas. Students must pass the state graduation exam to earn the Core 40 diploma.

Lebanon High School encourages and supports all students to earn a Core 40, Academic Honors Diploma or Technical Honors Diploma by providing students with an alternative school setting, when necessary, access to online coursework, remedial and/or enriched courses, and/or summer school.

Definitions

School Assessment Measures – Definition

The School Assessment Measures represent the various assessments chosen by the district or the school to represent academic achievement and growth. Their correlation to state assessment proficiency or the district mission is the basis of the selection of the measures. The School Assessment Measures do not include routine teacher-designed classroom assessments.

Goal Action Plan – Definition

The Goal Action Plan section of the School Improvement plan asks principals to select research-based action steps and instructional strategies that will have a positive impact on student performance when implemented with fidelity. The principal should measure teacher capacity and level of fidelity in district selected action steps and strategies. The SIP team may select additional action steps.

Focus Area Goal: This section sets the level of deployment, fidelity, or level of classroom use for each goal.

Action Steps – Instructional strategies refer to the identified way of delivering instruction and facilitating student learning within a given framework. Action steps refer to the steps that are necessary to reach the goal. Schools may differ in their needed area of focus within a content area.

Resources/Professional Development Needed – This section outlines the professional development needs for the school. The information should include detail such as the grade level and the type of PD (i.e., online, face-to-face, group, individual, by coach or through a workshop).

Target Date – The SIP team should set a goal for completion of the goal (i.e., by December of the school year, by the end of the first quarter, etc.)

Evidence – The SI team identifies the instrument that will measure the level of deployment, fidelity or level of classroom use (i.e. classroom checklists, walkthrough checklist data, observation data from teacher evaluation data, reports reflecting usage of technology resources and student data, PLC (Professional Learning Community) notes and reflections, meeting logs, feedback from PD).
