VII. Progress Report: Indicate any additional wellness practices and/or future goals and describe progress made in attaining the goals of the local wellness policy

Grand Prairie Independent School District (GPISD) offers a range of nutritional education programs for all grade levels to ensure that our wellness policy goals are achieved. Nutritional education is integrated into the physical education curriculum for students in K-8th grade. High school students receive nutrition education as part of the Health class curriculum. Monthly education events are also organized in collaboration with food services, such as Eat the Alphabet and Farmer's Market. Furthermore, every Tuesday, the district dietician and a roving chef visit campuses to cook with students and educate them about healthy eating options. This year, the district is introducing after-school nutritional education programs for students, parents, and guardians.

Our district operates an after-school dinner program.
