DISTRICT OFFICE

NEW POLICY

2245- EX OFFICIO STUDENT MEMBER OF THE BOARD

NOTE: State law now requires all BOCES, and union free (operating a high school), central, central high school, small city, and large city school districts to designate at least one, and in some cases more than one, ex officio student member of the Board. The law takes effect July 1, 2025. The law also was amended to revise the eligibility requirements and selection process for the ex officio student member of the Board. We have revised our sample policy to reflect the requirements of the law. Your district might not have adopted this policy previously if you did not have an ex officio student member, so a clean copy of this policy is provided as well as one showing the changes. While the law does not specifically require the adoption of a policy, it does require Boards to establish a process. This process should be set in writing, therefore we consider this policy required.

It is up to each school board to set the role and responsibilities expected of student ex officio board members. This is a good opportunity to use the position to teach civic responsibility and allow for student voice to be represented. The ex officio student member could be assigned to be a conduit of information between the student body and the Board.

The law does not cover every aspect of ex officio student members of the Board, so we urge Boards to discuss this with your attorney.

If prior to August 5, 2003, your school district had a policy that allowed for a student ex officio Board member, that policy may remain in effect for the selection process.

The Board of Education believes that it is important to include students' voices in its deliberations. Pursuant to law, the Board, will designate at least one ex officio student member of the Board for the purpose of providing regular and direct communication between the Board and the student body.

Good faith actions, mutual respect, and cooperative effort of all parties are essential to a positive and meaningful partnership and bringing about meaningful changes. to the Board believes that an ex officio student member will:

1. provide students with an opportunity to express their voices, take ownership of their education, and impact Board decisions;
2. provide for the Board and students a vehicle through which they may exchange information and learn from one another;
3. provide an opportunity for students to gain experience with governance and leadership;
4. broaden the base of information available to those ultimately responsible for educational decision making; and
5. develop an environment that encourages inclusion, understanding, trust, and respect.

NEW NOTE: Transportation to and from board meetings may be a significant barrier for students to participate. The district can discuss options to assist students in this area.

Position of Ex Officio Student Member of the Board

must select at least one (or more) ex officio student member, having an alternate is a possibility. The law does not specify how the student may or must be selected. Sample language is provided below to be similar to component school districts.

All qualified students interested in serving as ex officio student member are encouraged to apply in the manner established by the administration. The district will advertise the position of ex officio student member of the Board to high school students, as well as the method of applying for the position, well in advance of the deadline for doing so. The High School Principal will verify that the students meet the requirements outlined in this policy.

Additional Provisions

NOTE: The following paragraphs are optional and provided for the Board's consideration. While the law does not provide for removal of the ex officio student member, school boards have the power under Education Law section 1709(18) and 2502(8) to remove one of their members or declare the office vacant. We believe it is reasonable to hold the ex officio student member to the same standards, as well as permit them to resign. However, as this is not addressed in the law, you may wish to discuss this with your attorney.

The ex officio student member represents the student body, and acts as an example for the students of the district. Such students are expected to abide by all applicable Board policies including the student Code of Conduct. Violations may result in removal from the position as determined by the Board. Ex officio student members may resign in writing to the District Clerk. The Board may also declare the seat vacant if the ex officio student member fails to attend three consecutive Board meetings without sufficient excuse.

NOTE: The issue of vacancy is not addressed in the law, so we suggest the following paragraph to address that possibility.

If there is a vacancy due to resignation or removal, and there is no alternate, the Board will decide if there is enough time to select another student as ex officio student member in accordance with this policy, and if there is not, will leave the position vacant until the next term begins.

The Superintendent or designee is responsible for arranging for an orientation and training program for the ex officio student member. The Superintendent will establish procedures for the ex officio student member with the Board of Education if necessary to implement this policy.

NEW NOTE: School districts must have at least one ex officio student member of the Board. BOCES with ten or fewer component districts must have at least one student member, BOCES with eleven to twenty component districts must have at least two student members, and BOCES with more than twenty component districts must have at least three student members.

Training of ex officio student Board members is not addressed in the law, but we believe it is good practice to provide student Board members with information and materials to understand their role and responsibilities.

Because ex officio student Board members are not required for quorum, we believe the Board could permit such members to participate remotely. We also believe the Board could allow student members to leave meetings early.

As required by law, the Board will have at least one ex officio student member. Ex officio student member(s) will be entitled to sit with Board members at all public meetings and hearings, participate in other Board activities and responsibilities at the discretion of the Board, and may participate in training opportunities at the discretion of the Board, but will not be required to participate in mandatory training for elected or appointed Board members. Ex officio student members may request to participate in meetings remotely, and may be excused to leave meetings early, upon the approval of the Board President.

NOTE: The law specifies that the ex officio student member is not entitled to vote, attend executive sessions or other meetings/hearings that are not open to the public, or receive compensation. The rest of the below paragraph consists of the logical extension of those prohibitions to clarify the role and limitations of the position.

Ex officio student member(s) will NOT: be allowed to vote; be allowed to attend executive sessions or other meetings/hearings not open to the public; or be entitled to receive compensation of any form for participating at Board meeting. Neither will they have the authority to call a special and/or emergency meeting of the Board; be considered a “member” of the Board for the purpose of establishing a quorum for conducting business; or be allowed to see or discuss documents or information regarding individual district personnel, collective bargaining negotiations, individual student records, or any other confidential matters.

NOTE: Because the new law takes effect July 1, 2025, it is reasonable to establish the term of office to begin on July 1 in 2025 and in subsequent years. Understanding that students may not be available during the summer, the Board should discuss with its attorney whether to excuse participation during the summer months.

Ex officio student member(s) will serve for a term of one (1) year, commencing on July 1 and ending on the succeeding June 30. Attendance at Board meetings is optional for the ex officio student member during July and August.

NOTE: While not required, the following list outlines expectations of ex officio student Board members with an eye toward civic learning, representational democracy, and student engagement.

Specifically, ex officio student members of the Board are expected to:

1. Bring a student perspective to the Board’s discussions;

2. Bring student concerns to the Board's attention;
3. Represent the student body on the Board;
4. Report back to the student body on the Board's actions; and
5. Solicit input from students on matters impacting the district, at the direction of the Board.

Qualifications and Selection of the Ex Officio Student Member of the Board

NOTE: The legal qualifications for students in union free, central, central high school, small city school districts, and BOCES are described below. The law for large city school districts does not list specific student qualifications, but the Board could apply the same qualifications. There are no requirements for when the selection process must take place, but if the term year begins July 1, the selection process would have to take place during the previous school year.

A paragraph pertaining to filling vacancies is under the last subheading.

Ex officio student member(s) must have attended high school in the district for at least one year prior to selection. The selection process will take place at the end of the school year preceding the next term.

NOTE: The district must establish a process for selecting a student member in accordance with Education Law. If, prior to August 5, 2003, the Board had a policy that allowed for a student ex officio Board member, that policy may remain in effect for the selection process. However, if the Board did not have such a policy, it must establish a process for selecting a student member in accordance with Education Law.

The law provides for several options for union free, central, central high school, and small city school districts. We have included these options below for the Board's consideration. Please review and select the appropriate option for the district.

The law does not specify a particular selection process for large city school districts, just that the Board of Education must establish a process for designating at least one student as ex officio member. The Board is free to choose one of the methods available for other types of school districts, or establish something that works for the district.

If your district's selection process is anything other than the student president of the high school, you could have a specific procedure to address solicitation of interested candidates, how to conduct elections (including whether to permit incoming 9th graders to vote), or other considerations, those can be included here. We encourage school boards to cast as wide a net as possible, and not unduly restrict student participation, particularly if the Board chooses options 4 through 6 above.

Alternates are not specifically provided for in law, but as districts must select at least one ex officio student member, having an alternate is a possibility.

The ex officio student Board member will be selected by the Superintendent of Schools. An alternate ex officio student Board member may be selected.

NOTE: Each BOCES must establish a process for determining which component district or districts shall select the ex officio student members each school year, which must provide for fair representation among the component districts. A rotational schedule is one way to do this. The BOCES must also establish a process by which component districts select the ex officio student member(s). Alternates are not specifically provided for in law, but as BOCES must select at least one (or more) ex officio student member, having an alternate is a possibility. The law does not specify how the student may or must be selected. Sample language is provided below to be similar to component school districts.

All qualified students interested in serving as ex officio student member are encouraged to apply in the manner established by the administration. The district will advertise the position of ex officio student member of the Board to high school students, as well as the method of applying for the position, well in advance of the deadline for doing so. NEW POLICY

8113 EXTREME HEAT CONDITION DAYS

Required

NOTE: Education Law §409-n requires district to adopt a policy addressing student and employee health and safety on days of high heat, including specific actions. The law takes effect 9/1/25. We encourage you to consult with your school attorney in implementing this law.

As required by Education Law section 409-n, the Board of Education adopts this policy to address the health and safety of students and employees on extreme heat condition days. “Extreme heat condition days” are defined by law as when occupiable educational and support services spaces are eighty-two degrees Fahrenheit or higher. Under the law, “support services spaces” do not include kitchen areas used in the preparation of food for consumption by students. The law requires room temperature to be measured at a shaded location, three feet above the floor near the center of the room.

NOTE: The following paragraph is optional. We understand that not every educational and support service space has the capacity and equipment for air conditioning, and that it can be prohibitively expensive to retrofit buildings to add air conditioning.

Air conditioners, where available, may also be used to keep temperatures from reaching eighty-two degrees, or to lower the temperature once it does. Evaporative cooling techniques may be feasible in some situations.

Actions to be Taken at Eighty-Two Degrees

NOTE: The following paragraph reflects the requirements of Education Law §409-n. The law does not address the requirements of building and fire codes (e.g., turning off lights and pulling down shades might conflict with minimum illumination levels; door hold-open devices must automatically release upon activation of the fire alarm). We recommend including language that all actions be taken consistent with fire and building codes. We also suggest optional language to forego using electronic equipment to the extent practicable.

We understand there may be significant challenges and costs to comply with the law, such as: windows that are not designed to be opened, windows that do not have screens (which may let in insects that are dangerous to those with allergies), outdoor air quality concerns (due to industrial or wildfire pollution), security concerns and safety plans that limit opening windows and/or doors, lack of window shades, and adequate numbers of fans.

When the temperature of an occupiable educational or support service space reaches eighty-two degrees Fahrenheit, the district will take actions to relieve heat-related discomfort (consistent with fire and building codes), including but not limited to the following:

1. Turning off the overhead lights;
2. Opening classroom doors and windows to increase circulation;
3. Pulling down shades or blinds;
4. Turning on fans;
5. Turning off unused electronics that produce heat, and not utilizing electronic equipment to the extent practicable;
6. Providing water breaks.

NOTE: Education Law §409-n does not address who must take these actions. It may be most efficient for the school staff member in charge of the space (e.g., the classroom teacher for each classroom, the librarian for the library, etc.) to take the actions, but depending on the equipment and the ability of the staff person, this may differ across situations. Provisions of your collective bargaining agreements may also impact who can be required to take the actions.

The Superintendent of Schools, Director of Facilities, and Building Principals will determine which actions to take, when to take them and in what order, and who will take them (consistent with applicable collective bargaining agreements).

Actions to be Taken at Eighty-Eight Degrees

NOTE: Education Law §409-n requires that the policy must include a plan to remove students and staff from occupied spaces when a room is too hot to be occupied, but does not address what the district must do, may do, or may not do. An amendment to the law is expected to pass, which would add the language “when practicable” below. The amendment to the law would also remove a requirement to include such evacuation in district school safety plans. The following paragraph reflects the requirements of the law, and the numbered list items that follow are suggestions which can be modified.

Students and staff will be removed from educational and support services spaces when the temperature reaches eighty-eight degrees Fahrenheit, when practicable. The Superintendent will direct Building Principals to evacuate the space, including but not limited to the following:

1. Move students and staff to cooler locations; or
2. Close school early and send students and staff home according to the district’s early closing protocols.

NOTE: The following paragraph is optional, and addresses a topic not covered by Education Law §409-n. School districts are able to offer remote instruction under existing state regulations during emergencies (8 NYCRR §175.5(e)), which includes “extraordinary adverse weather conditions” as a reason to close due to an emergency. “Extreme heat condition days” might count as an extraordinary adverse weather condition.

Closing school entirely for the day increases the possibility of not attaining 180 school days in a given year as required by Education Law §§3204 and 3604 (for purposes of state aid). Unused snow days, if available, could make up for these high heat days, if compatible with collective bargaining agreements. Education Law §3604(7) allows an exception of up to five days for “extraordinarily adverse weather conditions” and “a credible threat to student safety as reasonably determined by a lead school official,” where the district cannot make up such days by using vacation days. Districts should discuss with their attorney whether extreme heat condition days could count as either circumstance.

Another strategy, if compatible with the district’s collective bargaining agreements, would be to start school earlier in the day, to complete the school day before it gets too hot.

The district could also consider sending students home early and continue instruction remotely, but it is likely difficult to manage that disruption to the educational process.

On days when the outside temperature is expected to be high enough that temperatures in occupiable educational or support service spaces are likely to reach eighty-eight degrees, even with the heat mitigation measures taken, the district may hold classes remotely (in accordance with the board-approved emergency remote instruction plan) or close school entirely (in accordance with required minimum instructional time). The Superintendent is authorized to make this decision. Remote learning may be district-wide, building-level, or for groups of students and staff affected by the extreme heat conditions.

NOTE: The following paragraph is optional regarding students taking exams. The law does not address what should occur if an exam, including a state or Regents exam, is being administered during extreme heat condition days. NYSED handbooks on administering Regents and state exams (<https://www.nysed.gov/sites/default/files/programs/state-assessment/directions-administering-regents-examinations-124.pdf> and <https://www.nysed.gov/sites/default/files/programs/state-assessment/38-sam-2022.pdf>) say that if students must be evacuated due to an emergency such as a bomb threat or fire drill, the students should be supervised and the exam should be continued if possible, extending the time for the exam.

During exams, if the temperature reaches eighty-eight degrees in spaces where exams are being administered, students and staff will be evacuated from the exam room, and testing will resume at a time and place when it is safe to do so. On exam days when the outside temperature is expected to be high enough that the temperatures in spaces where exams are being administered are likely to reach eighty-eight degrees, even with the heat mitigation measures taken, the district will attempt to find alternate locations to administer exams.
