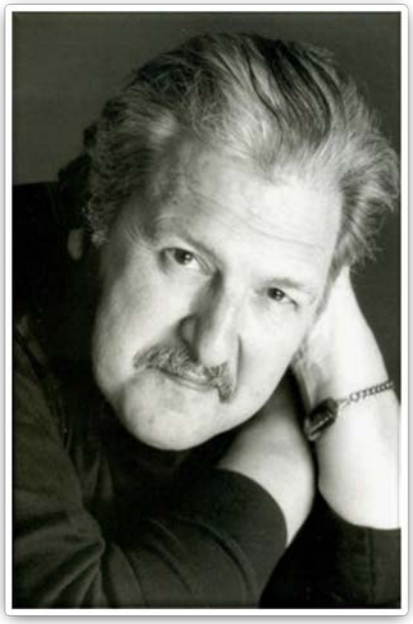
Peter Iacangelo

Bellport High School Class of 1966



Peter Iacangelo grew up in East Patchogue and graduated from Bellport High School in 1966. Although he was never encouraged to attend college and no one in his family pursued higher education Peter Iacangelo graduated with a Bachelor of Fine Arts from Hofstra University. Over the years Peter made his way from the ground up in the theatre to Broadway and beyond. After 15 years on and off Broadway Peter went to Hollywood where he was a principle actor in many films and guest appearances on television and commercials on camera as well as voiceovers. One of Peter's greatest characteristics is being a humanitarian. Over decades he has supported other actors in need. His relationships with these actors have continued today along with those close friends from East Patchogue. Continuing with his compassionate heart Peter has been a Special Olympics Volunteer for 24 years working tirelessly and coming home with a smile on his face. Five years ago Peter and his wife returned to East Patchogue after 40 years and six thousand miles back and forth to renew old friendships. He continues to support those in need mentally, physically and financially without reservation.
