INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this report is to provide a comprehensive look at the demographic, enrollment, and housing trends for Austin Public Schools (Map 1).

This report begins by reporting on the overall demographic patterns in the district. The demographic information presented here includes population, race & ethnicity, and age data collected during the 2020 U.S. Census, and historical resident birth data obtained from the Minnesota Department of Health. In addition, external sources of data are utilized to estimate current (2024), and 5-year projected (2029) demographic data. These external sources include county-to-county migration data obtained from the Internal Revenue Service, building permits and housing start information, residential postal delivery counts obtained from the U.S. Postal Service, as well as data obtained from other ancillary sources. Demographic data displayed on individual maps is reported at the census block group level. A census block group is the smallest geographic unit used by the U.S. Census Bureau to report demographic data.

A housing analysis was then performed to get a better understanding of housing trends across the district. This analysis includes specifics on the status of current housing stock, owner-occupied housing unit value, owner-occupied housing stock age, and most recent move-in dates for current owner-occupied housing units.

Next, a comprehensive analysis on the Austin Public Schools current student socioeconomics, historical and current student enrollment and facility utilization, district market share trends, new housing development, and 10-year enrollment projections are reported.

STUDENT SOCIOECONOMICS - INCOME

The following analysis extends on the previous analysis. Here we dissect current students (EC-12) into 4 different median income groups (Table 12A). This information is further summarized by grade level. Table 12B summarizes median income information by school based on Fall 2024 student enrollment figures.

Key Findings

- The total number of students within each income group and their percentage of the total was:
 - <= $50K: 802 (14.8%)
 - $50K - $75K: 2,067 (38.2%)
 - $75K - $90K: 1,733 (32.0%)
 - > $90K: 811 (15.0%)

It should be noted that the median household income values do not reflect the actual income of specific student households, but instead shows income based on the particular geographic region in which each student resides. In this case income data are summarized by census block groups.

NEW HOUSING DEVELOPMENT ANALYSIS

New housing developments may have an impact on student enrollment in specific areas of the district (Map 21). Table 15 lists the estimated total number of known housing development units that will become available within each elementary attendance area in the next 5 years. The total number of potential schoolchildren enrolling in the district was then calculated based on this information. This analysis utilizes the following assumptions:

- Estimated school-age children were based on an overall student yield of 0.25 students per unit for apartments and 0.50 students per unit for single-family homes
- The district capture rate of these estimated school-age children will be distributed among the elementary, middle, and high school levels at a ratio of 37% to elementary, 31% to intermediate-middle, and 32% to high school (note – these figures were derived from 5 years of historical enrollment data)
- Children from new housing developments were distributed evenly across each grade and grade level over 5-10 years
- Based on the assumptions described above, it is estimated that Austin Public could potentially gain 45 students (17 elementary, 14 intermediate-middle, & 14 high) from new housing development in the next 5 years

PROJECTED ENROLLMENT ESTIMATES

The following analysis presents enrollment projections for the district over the next 10 years. Here, resident birth data and average birth rates were utilized as a proxy for projecting future Early Childhood, Pre-Kindergarten, and Kindergarten. Projected enrollments for grades 1 through 12 were then calculated by employing a cohort survival methodology for each grade. Table 16 shows grade by grade projected enrollment figures over the next 10 years.

Chart 1 and the following Appendix charts reflect overall historical and 10-year projected enrollment figures and include the impact of new housing development on enrollment (where applicable). Appendix 1 reports projected enrollment charts for each individual school.
