Points of Pride

Innovative Elementary Curriculum– STEM-based activities, Kid Writing, Fundations and Leader in Me and are just a few examples of how Ringgold educators integrate cutting-edge educational research to build a solid foundation for learning. Additionally, the District's Administrative Instructional Coach further bolsters academic gains at the elementary level.

Academic Achievement in Middle School– Accelerated placement is available in math. Achievement at the 7th and 8th grade levels is recognized annually by the National Junior Honors Society.

Advanced Placement Program– With 14 AP courses, high school students can challenge themselves academically, earn National Honor Society recognition and benefit from over $2.2 million in scholarships awarded to each year's graduating class.

Higher Education Dual Credit Partnerships– Ringgold High School's College in High School partnership with University of Pittsburgh and Carlow University allows students to get a jumpstart on college credits.

Commitment to Facilities– Ringgold is currently in the middle of revitalizing Joe Montana's stadium's bleachers and the construction of a new bus garage and maintenance facilities, creating a safer, more engaging environment for learning and extracurricular activities.

Athletic Opportunities– Ringgold High School offers the following sports: competitive spirit, cross country, football, golf, soccer, tennis, volleyball, basketball, indoor track, swimming, wrestling, baseball, softball and track.

Exciting After-School Opportunities– At Ringgold High School, students can explore over 40 dynamic clubs, including the Foreign Language Club, Chess Club, Mock Trial and Writer's Forum.

Integrating Arts into Education– Students across the District express themselves creatively through a variety of mediums, such as the Harp & Guitar Program, annual spring musicals and choir.

Pre-K Learning– Ringgold Elementary North and South offer a Pre-K Summer Camp to acclimate incoming kindergarteners.
