Parents & Family Newsletter April/May 2025

SKI DAY 2025!

Dear Parents and Families,

We had a fun-filled day of skiing and games in the ski lodge on Ski Day! Both skiers and non-skiers enjoy this newly revived community event.

As the days grow longer and the temperatures gradually increase, students are engaging in room draw preparations and fall course registration. Scholar's symposium is in a couple of weeks, and this is a special day when we stop everything to engage with each other again as a community, and we support our scholars to learn from their various projects of study.

Our Student Development team is here to support your students, as they finish the spring semester and plan for their return in September. If you continue to scroll down through the Newsletter, you will find more information that me be relevant to your student as they prepare for the end of the term.

Warm Regards,

Robin Boroughs Davis, J.D.

Student Activities

Be sure to check out all of the ways to embrace Spring A.K.A. Mudseason in NH! There is always something to do on a daily basis. If you hear otherwise, suggest to your students that they search their email from “Announcements” as information is sent to students on a weekly basis. Campus Activities Board (CAB) of students also posts regularly on social media.

Students may reach out to Amanda Moak ’12, Director of Student Activities & Orientation and Sarah Fields ’16, Program Manager for Student Activities & Orientation with questions or suggestions to: activities@colby-sawyer.edu

Follow them on Instagram @CSCSAO for the latest activities.

Residential Education

See https://www.colby-sawyer.edu/campus/residential-education for more information about Residence Halls, Housing Applications, Programs, and the Code of Community Responsibility. Closing information will be emailed to students shortly.

Students should reach out to residential@colby-sawyer.edu with questions or concerns. Residential Assistants and Area Coordinators live on campus as well and are easily accessible for in-person discussions and guidance for students.

Important CSC dates are located on the Academic Calendar: https://www.colby-sawyer.edu/academics/academic-resources/academic-calendars located under Academic Resources, drop-down menu to Academic Calendar or you can simply search “Academic Calendar” in the search bar of https://www.colby-sawyer.edu/

Student Success & Making Connections

Hello families,

Now that spring has officially arrived, you can feel the energy level on campus rise as the days become longer, and at least a little warmer! As students prepare for this final push of the year, they may be tired but also buoyed by the sunshine and freedom of being outdoors. It's time for optimism!

Finishing with support

You can help your students make it successfully to the end of the year by encouraging them to make full use of their resources as needed:

- Mental Health - Baird Health and Counseling is still taking appointments and they can access our telehealth provider UWill
- Academics - Faculty office hours, Student Learning Collaborative, and Access Resources work with students individually
- Connection - Student Activities and CAB are hosting not-to-be-missed events to bring joy to the last days of the semester
- Communication - Students should check Moodle and CSC email daily

If your student is withdrawing or transferring, have them email me at krberthi@colby-sawyer.edu as soon as possible, so I can help them through the process. Withdrawal information sessions will be held on April 14 and 15.

End of semester academic status information:
During the week of April 14th, I will send an email to students that explains what an academic status is. An academic status describes a student's academic risk based on their GPA, and most students are in the "satisfactory academic progress" range. This means their cumulative GPA is 2.0 or above (congrats!) and they don't need to take any action steps.

Students with a cumulative GPA below 2.0 might have a status of probation, suspension, etc. and need to take some action steps in May. I am here to help you, and your student, understand what that means! Do not hesitate to email me and ask questions.

*It is important to note that your student will see their grades changing during finals week as work is completed and graded. Their academic status will be determined by May 9th and students should check their CSC email and Powercampus on this day to learn more.

Thank you for supporting your students throughout this year. And a heartfelt CONGRATULATIONS to those of you with upcoming graduates!

Warmly,

Karin Berthiaume
Director, Student Success & Retention
