

Author Visit with Dr. Chris Goldberg (“Dr. G”)

Whitemarsh Elementary School
Lafayette Hill, PA
May 22, 2025

 About Our Visiting Author: Dr. Goldberg is no stranger to our halls! As a regular substitute teacher this year, he has connected with nearly every student at Whitemarsh. Before retiring, he spent 27 years teaching STEM and Technology, and now he’s bringing his love of learning and storytelling to life in a fun and inspiring way.

He’ll be reading his exciting and educational book:

🌟 Aliyah and the STEMsational Problem-Solvers: What’s Cooking?

This STEM.org-certified book is ideal for all students, but it’s also a fun read-aloud for pre-readers.

 A Unique Creation:

What makes this book even more special? Two of Dr. Goldberg’s former 5th-grade students illustrated it! The story is a perfect blend of creativity, collaboration, and STEM thinking and features an amazing tale on overcoming adversity, inspired by living legend Dr. Gladys West, who is credited with leading the team in developing GPS technology.

Book Purchasing/Signings Options

$14 - Purchase the Book in advance, to be signed by author and two illustrators (Venmo to Chris-Goldberg-4), cash or check (given to office for Home and School in well-marked envelope) written out to “STEMsational Problem Solvers” - Include child’s full name and Room Number/Teacher

$13.99 - Purchase the Book in advance through Amazon using QR code.
Can bring book to school for Dr. G to sign before or after May 22. If brought by May 10 both illustrators also will sign.

Books can be purchased at the event or by request after the event