SCHOOL OVERVIEW

St. John Paul II Classical School is part of the Diocese of Green Bay's Green Bay Area Catholic Education (GRACE) School System. The school began serving children in Preschool through 4th grade in 2016 while adding a grade each subsequent year. In 2021, the school expanded to include Chesterton Academy of St. John Paul II Classical School with its first class of 9th graders, who will graduate in Spring 2025. St. John Paul II provides an individualized education in a faith-based environment through Catholic, classical education. Each PK-12 student is supported not only academically, but spiritually.

St. John Paul II Classical School embraces the Chesterton motto Cultura Vitae, the culture of life. In this way, the community heeds Christ's call to have a full life in Him. This intentional joy for life and learning is imbued in the classical curriculum emphasizing the development of Christian virtues and an appreciation for beauty.

Each day begins with Holy Mass for our Chesterton students and several times weekly for our K-8 students. There are regular opportunities for confession, adoration and retreats. With a pilgrimage to Rome during their senior year, students explore in person the earthly home of the Catholic faith and all its magnificence and beauty.

St. John Paul II Classical School creates environments where students experience the joy of community and the discovery process, providing them with an opportunity to live out their spiritual life. The classical curriculum is centered on skills seemingly forgotten in modern society – reading, writing, oral presentations and the development of critical reasoning skills through logic and philosophy.

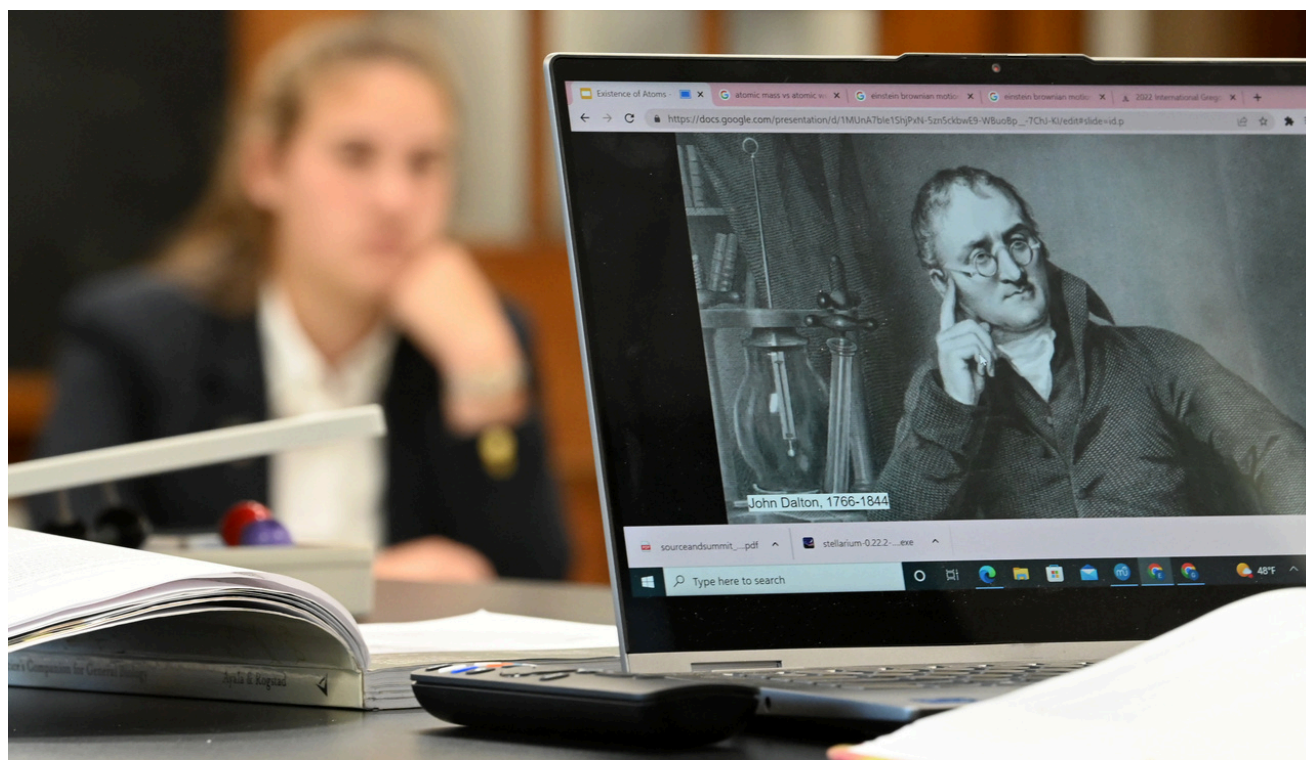

MISSION

St. John Paul II Classical School strives to help parents form saints of the new millennium through the Catholic classical tradition, seeking what is good, true, and beautiful.

CLASSICAL EDUCATION

Students at St. John Paul II Classical School enjoy a cohesive, content-rich education. With broad exposure to many different disciplines, students expand their interests, uncover hidden talents, and improve their ability to think critically. Beginning with a Montessori preschool, young students receive devoted care and instruction for the whole child: mind, body, and soul. The children work with beautifully crafted material that aid in the absorption of content and the refinement of their sense. Through a carefully prepared environment, guidance from the teacher, and this hands-on approach, the child's discovery will ignite a spark of understanding and build the intellect. As students progress to elementary grades, the classical pedagogy continues to lead to a deeper understanding of the good, the true, and the beautiful. It also nurtures faith, virtue, and wisdom.

The Chesterton Academy high school model continues with a classical, integrated curriculum. This award-winning curriculum promotes revelation to the transcendentals – what is good, true, and beautiful. Students read works by Homer, Plato, Aristotle, Euclid, Dante, Chaucer, Shakespeare, St. Francis of Assisi, St. Thomas Aquinas, St. Teresa of Avila, Dostoyevsky, C.S. Lewis ... and G.K. Chesterton.

CLASSICAL EDUCATION

With broad exposure to many different disciplines, Chesterton students study the Old Testament, the New Testament, and the Catechism of the Catholic Church. History, literature, philosophy and theology are braided together within a historical time period. The sciences and the humanities are intimately connected, so the logic of math is seen in philosophy, and in God's handiwork in the sciences. Faith and reason meet in every class. Equal emphasis is given to the arts, so that every student learns to draw, paint, sing in a choir, act on stage, give speeches, and engage in debate.

Each year builds on the previous, so that by the end of senior year, our students develop into articulate, clear thinking, well-rounded, and, very importantly, joyful individuals. Nothing could be better preparation for success at college. More than this, the school is dedicated to preparing their students for life, which includes finding their gifts and their vocation for the greater good and glory to God.

Through their three pillars, St. John Paul II and Chesterton Academy form students in:

- Intellect - teaching the classics of Western thought from physics to philosophy, and the interrelationship of the great ideas; teaching students not merely what to think but how to think.
- Character - helping students grow in the four cardinal virtues of prudence, temperance, fortitude and justice, which we believe are the foundation of leadership.
- Spirituality - encouraging students to come to an understanding of and full embrace of the truth of their existence: to know God, to love Him, and to serve Him in this world and be happy with Him forever in the next.

HOUSE SYSTEM

One of the distinctive features of a Chesterton education is the house system. This system is drawn from the 1,000-year-old tradition of Christian education exemplified in the colleges at Oxford and Cambridge. The Houses provide a real and tangible community within the larger school, giving students the opportunity to take ownership, fulfill the call to leadership and to cultivate the ideal conditions for virtue.

ATHLETICS

Chesterton Academy is proud to offer varsity athletics programs to serve as an extension of the classroom that encourages personal growth in a team atmosphere while remaining consistent with the school's model of intellectual, character, and spiritual formation. Currently the school has boys and girls cross country, track & field, basketball, and intramural golf.

FAITH

Our Catholic faith is the central reality from which all academic disciplines flow and derive their meaning. Faith is at the core of the academic program. All subjects are taught through the lens of the Church. Daily Mass is offered to Chesterton high school students. 3rd-8th graders can attend Mass twice a week, and preschoolers once a week. The school employs Catechesis of the Good Shepherd, offers frequent retreats and access to the sacraments, and emphasizes full integration of the Catholic faith into daily life.
