A PATTERN FOR LIVING

A r lips-- Keep a song in your heart prayer on you
And reverence for life in your soul
Let faith be your courage
An d hope be your star
And love be your ultimate goal
Then care about others
An d help them along--
Be ready to lea Give freely when someone's in need
And willing to learn--
Be able to follow or lead
Ke e good, not the bad
Keep a heart that remembers
Keep the power and grace to forgive
And you'll surely be blessed
W ith life's finest and best live
An d contentment each day that you

The Year As It Happened

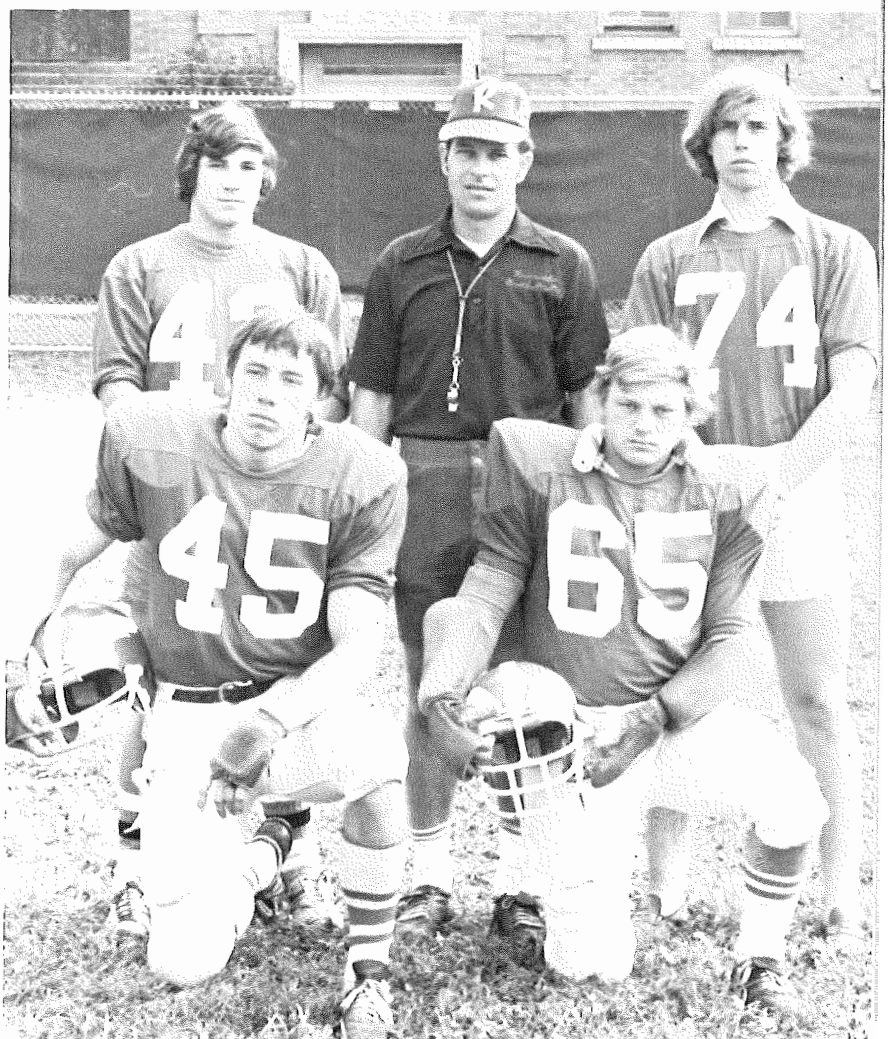

We, the members of the yearbook staff of Riverside High School have decided to arrange our yearbook in a different manner than as previous yearbooks have been arranged. We have decided, upon agreement, to arrange our yearbook in chronological order of events of the school year. We hope that this explanation helps the reader of our yearbooks to avoid any confusion.

Thank you,

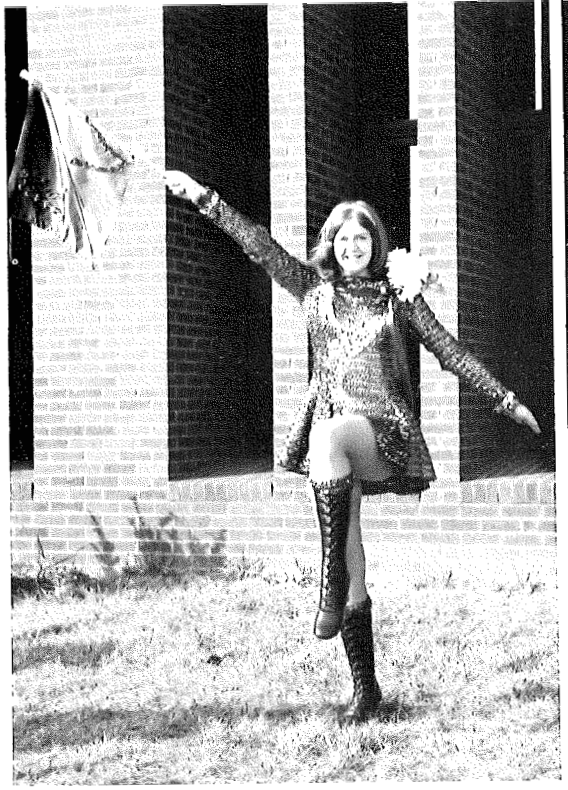

Riverside High School

Yea!!!

Looking Back At The Football Season

Valley View struck paydirt first but a tough Viking team scored on a come from behind touchdown by workhorse Jack Ott to power the Vikes to an exciting 7-6 upset over the Valley View cougars. The Viking defense was tremendous as they held the Cougars to only one touchdown.

The Vikes traveled to Tunkhannock to face the Tigers, beating them on their home field 14-0. An extremely strong Viking defense led by Ed Loftus and Jim Dunleavy held the opposition scoreless. Bob Drusbosky threw two touchdown passes to Bill Fletcher and Jack Ott respectively.

The Spartans of Mid-Valley treked to the home of the Vikings with hope in their eyes only to feel the roth of the powerful big red machine. The Vikings showed their prowess by humiliating a highly touted spartan team 21-0. John Regan scored first on a pass from Bob Drusbosky. Jack Ott also scored on a dazzling 95 yard kickoff return and a two yard scamper.

Riverside's fourth win of the season was over the West Scranton Invaders, outplaying them 15-6. West Side scored first on a press but this was also their lost. The Viking defense did a bang-up job showing their stupendous ability. The Viking offensive line comprised of Bill Fletcher, Bob Powell, Joe Sluck, Len Roberts, George Semion, and Bob Zvonchencko showed their poise by moving a bigger West line. Scoring for the Vikes was sure-handed Dave Surgent and fleet-footed Bob Drusbosky.

The Vikings drew blood first but were upset, 14-7, by the Comets of Abington Heights. Senior signal-caller Bob Drusbosky fired a cross field touchdown to wing back Dave Surgent for the first score of the night. It looked as though the Vikes were on their way to another win but the men of blue and white fought back and scored twice to give them their 7 point lead. The Vikes tried in vain but could not muster another TD.

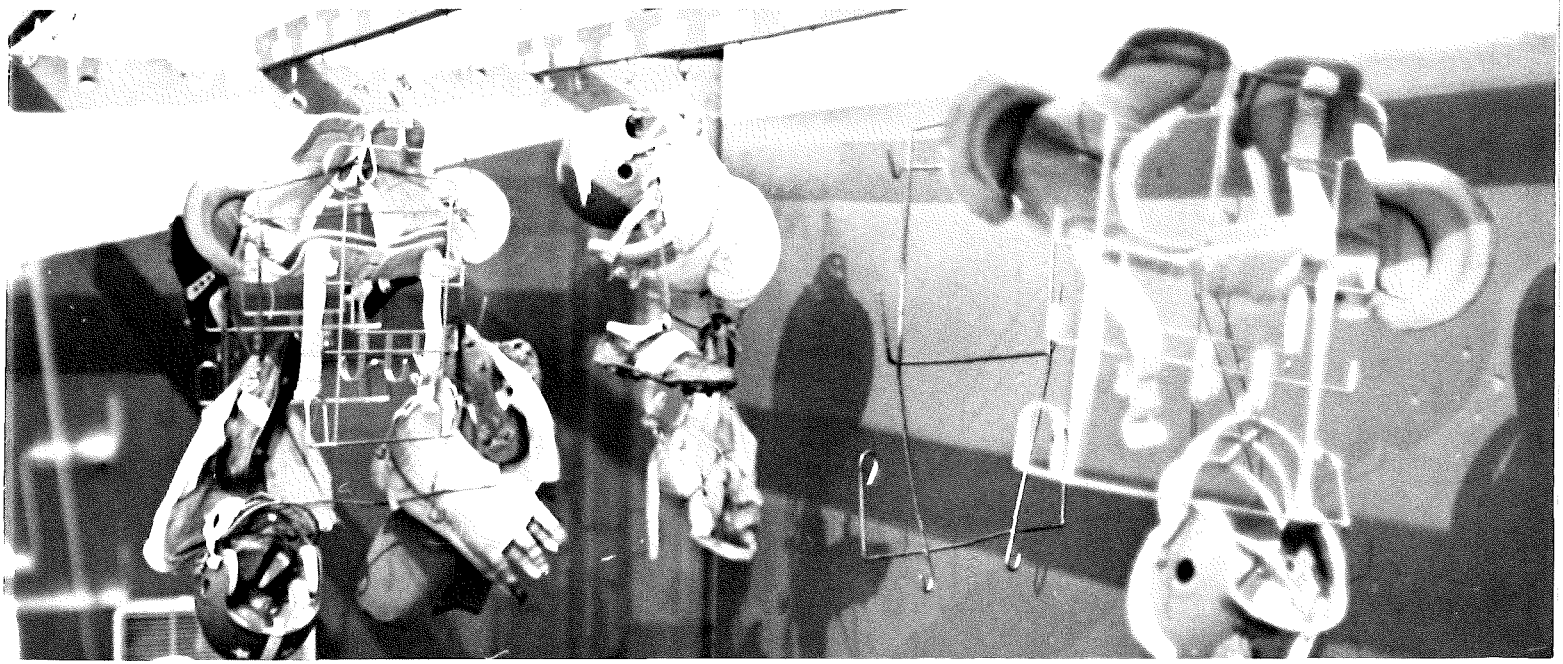

An explosive Riverside offense was the key to this game, defeating North Pocono, 19-9 on the Trojans home field. Johnny Regan broke for a 48 yard run on the first play of the game which was a highlight of things to come. The dazzling Viking offense led by big Jim Dunleavy was able to move the ball but not able to produce the point needed. North Pocono struck first on a TD and a field goal but the fired-up Vikes came from behind like gang-busters to beat the Trojans. John Kuplinski had an excellent day excelling an offense and defense.

Viking turnovers in key situations led to the Vikes second loss of the season as they fell to the Golden Eagles of Scranton Central, 14-0. The Vikes tried desperately in vain to reach paydirt but were unable to do so. Drusbosky, Fletcher, Loftus, and Ott played stupendous defense while Semian, Roberts, and Gronski excelled on offense moving the so-called unmovable Central line.

IT WAS PARENTS NIGHT AT TAYLOR STADIUM AS: The Bucks of Dunmore traveled down-valley to lay a beating on the Vikings of Riverside but left the Vikes home field in utter amazement. A fired up Viking offense led by running back Steve Bieryla ran circles around the so-called, highly touted Crimson Tide defense. Len Roberts, Bob Powell and John Gronski created huge holes for Bieryla to run through. The Viking defense led by Ott, Thomas, and Loftus held the Buck's to only 3 first downs.

The Vikings capitalized on mistakes to humiliate the Red Raiders of Scranton Tech, 39-0 at Memorial Stadium. Tech was no match as the Vikes showed their prowess as they did through the whole season. Kuplinski and Dunleavy scored a touchdown apiece as Bieryla went on to score two. Ott did a bang-up job on defense as he intercepted a Tech pass and went on to score.

This was to be Riverside's final game of the grid season. The Vikings' starting team, comprised mostly of seniors, were determined to win their final game that they would play together. And so it was as the Vikings happily defeated the Old Forge Blue Devils, 24-6, on the Devils home field on Turkey Day. Since the start of the game, the Vikes showed the Devils who the much better team was. Powerful Steve Bieryla scored 3 TD's and showed his tremendous ability. An alert Viking defense led by Jack Ott, John Kuplinski, Bill Fletcher, and Ed Loftus made the difference as they held the Devils to only one six-pointer. The Seniors' dream of the Vikings team came true.

"My Sister Eileen"

One for the Money,
Two for the show,
My Sister Eileen's
Gonna go, go, go.

Go Baby,
My Sister Eileen
I said go, go, go
My Sister Eileen.

Wait'll you see her,
Gonna knock you dead
Gonna knock those rubies
Right outta your head.

Ruth and Eileen,
Run to the station,
To but two tickets,
For a new location.
Go find a job,
That don't pay good bread.
And it'll get so noisey,
They'll never get to bed.

Their father Walter,
Is gonna come to town,
He'll try to get the sisters,
Back home on the farm.
You'll meet "the wreck",
And appopolis too,
But when Ruth meets Baker,
Well it's love so true.

One for the money,
Two for the show,
My Sister Eileen's
Gonna go, go, go.

Go Baby,
My Sister Eileen,
I said go, go, go
My Sister Eileen.
I said go, go, go
My Sister Eileen!

Riverside Defense In Action!!

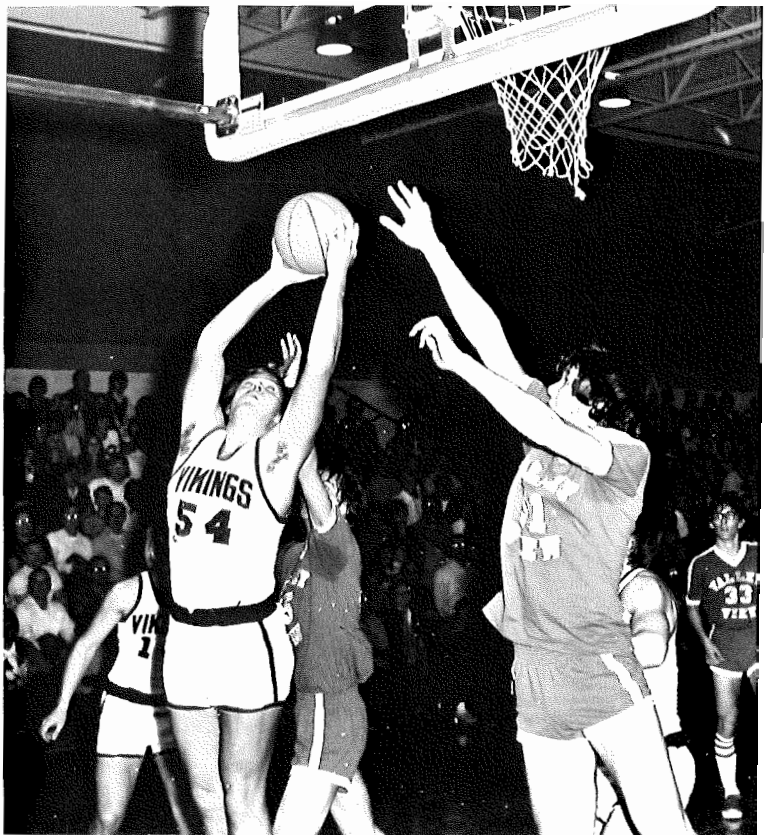

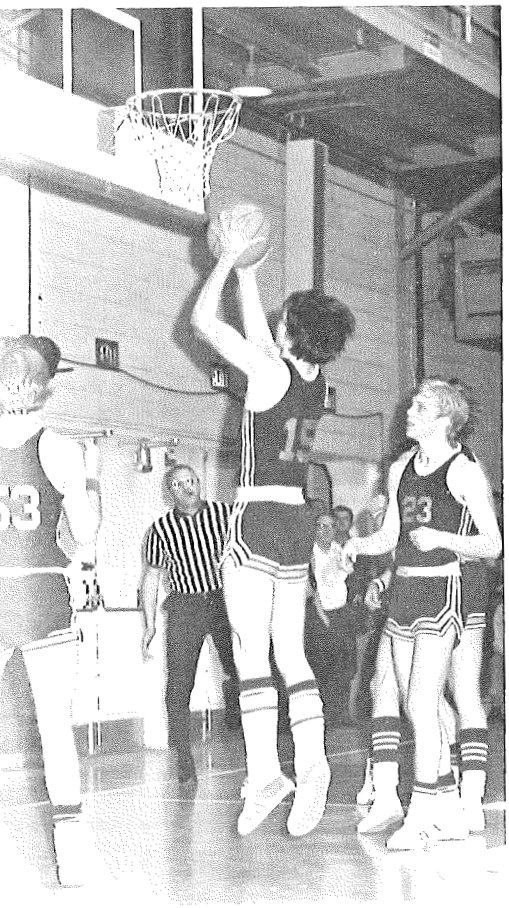

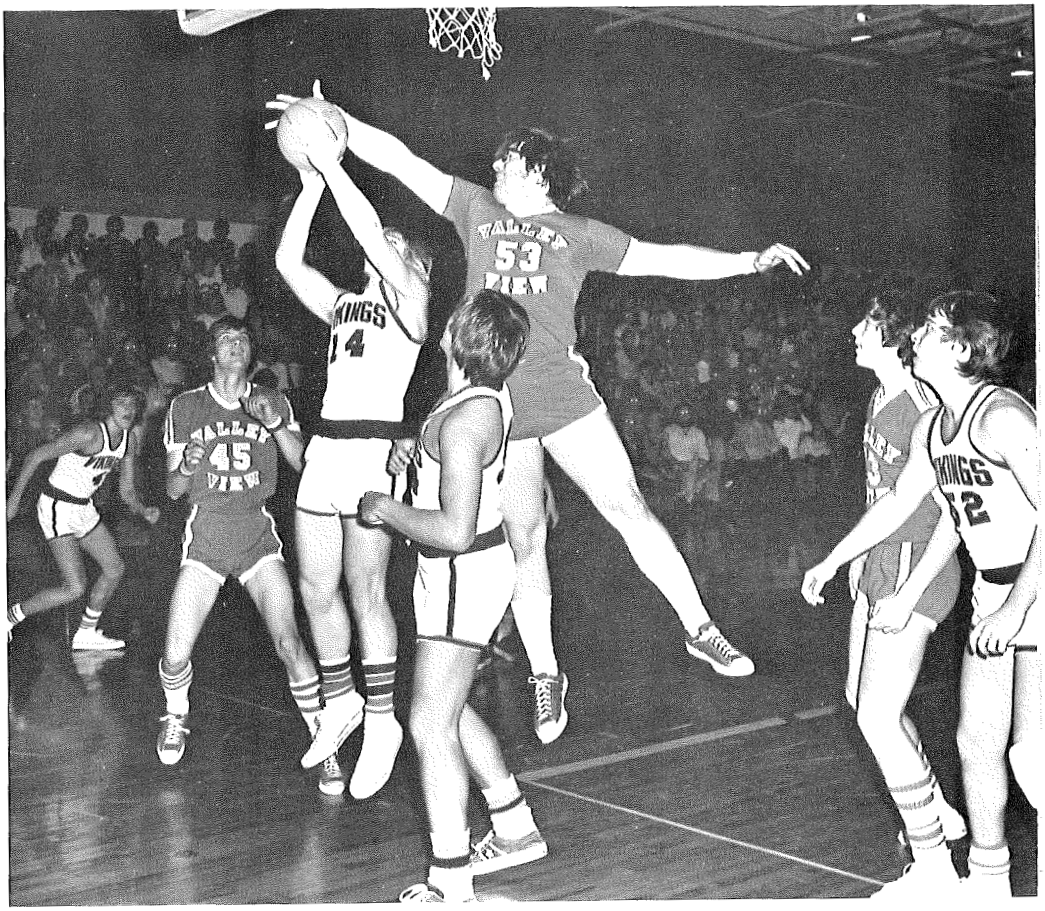

Once our Vikings learn a new shot, they make a habit out of it.

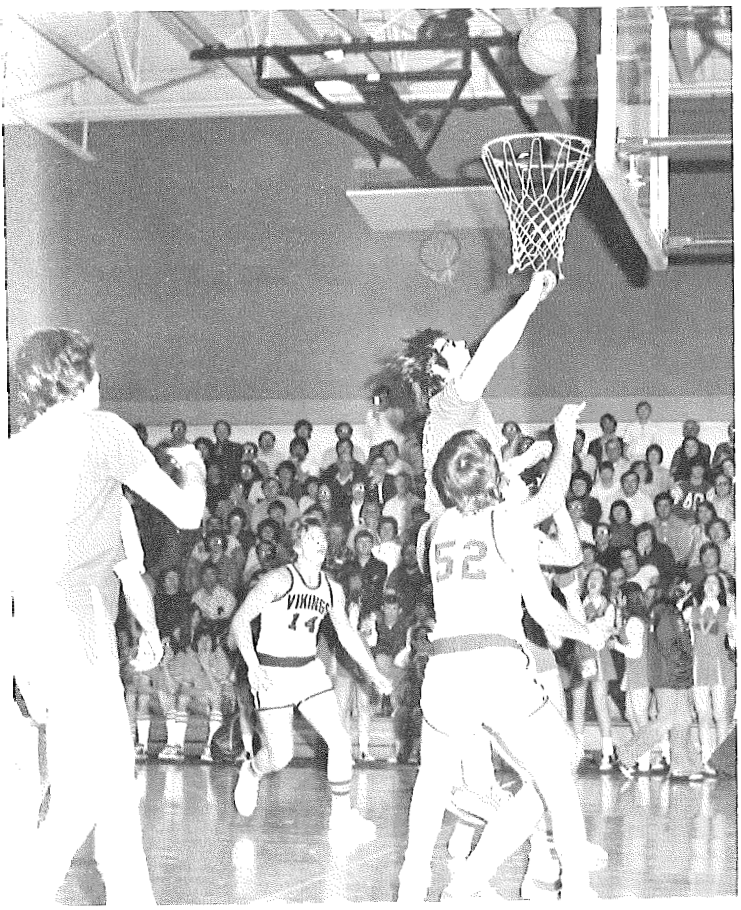

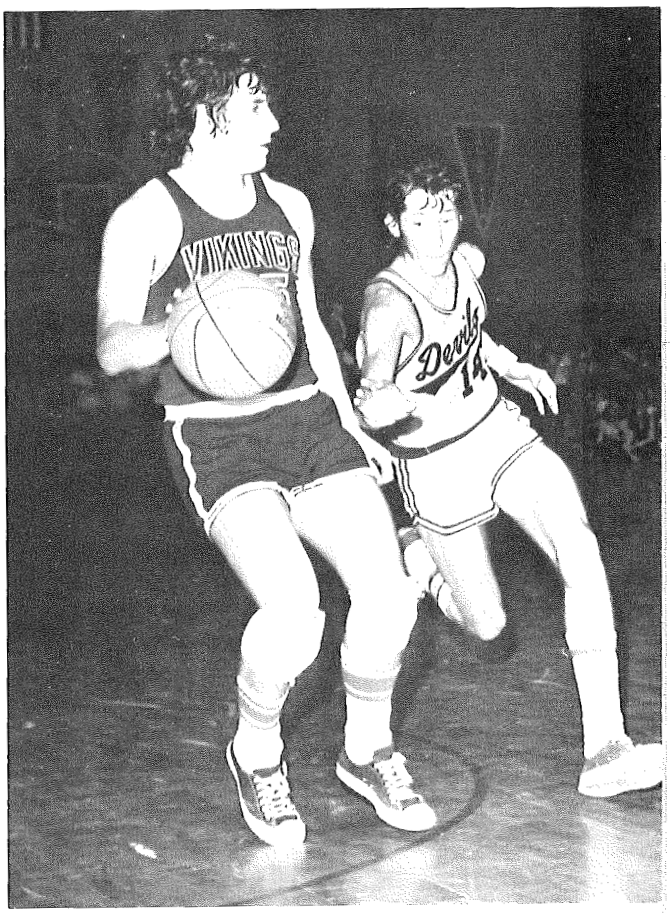

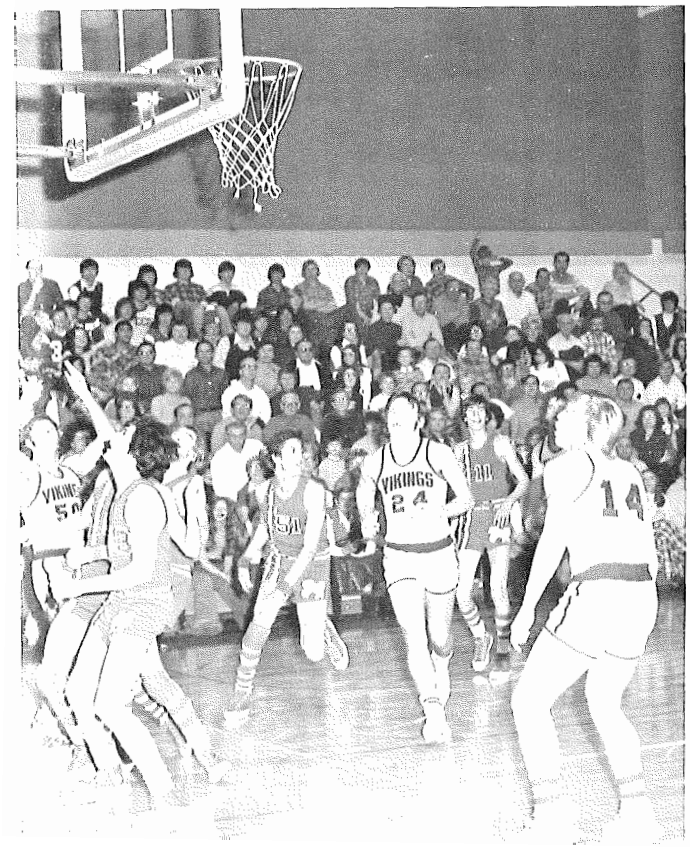

"You'll just have to try harder next time guys!"

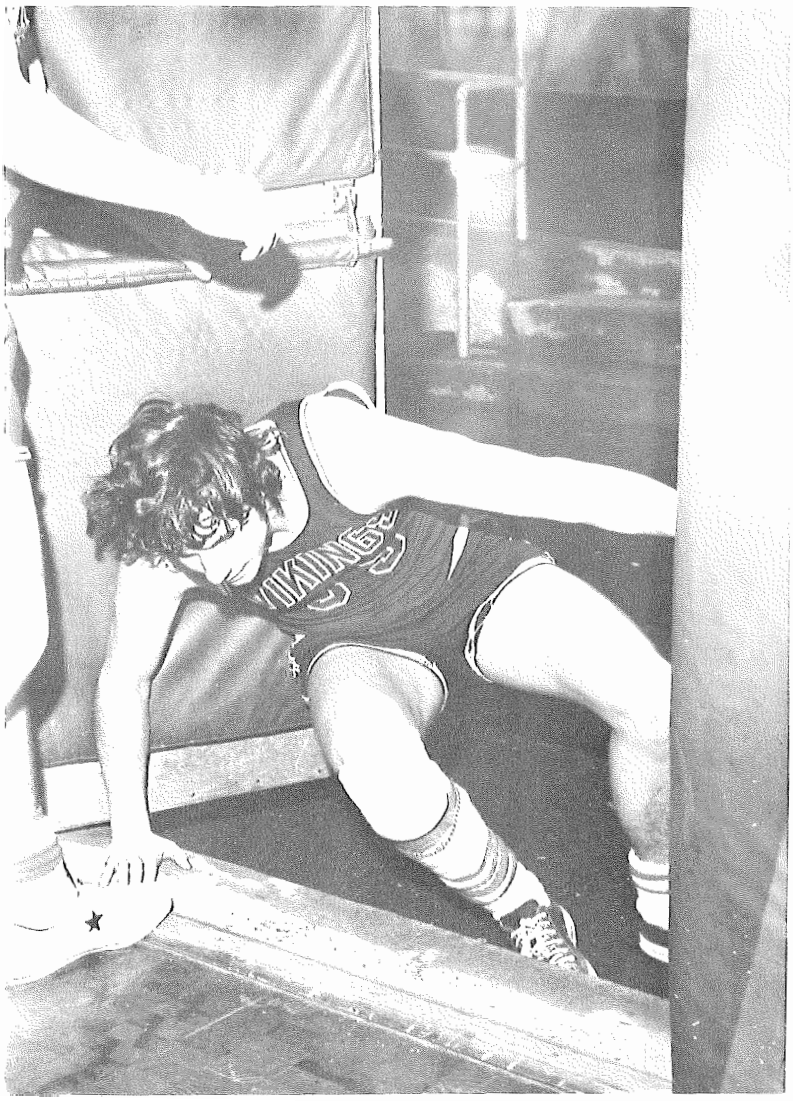

What goes up doesn't ALWAYS have to come down!

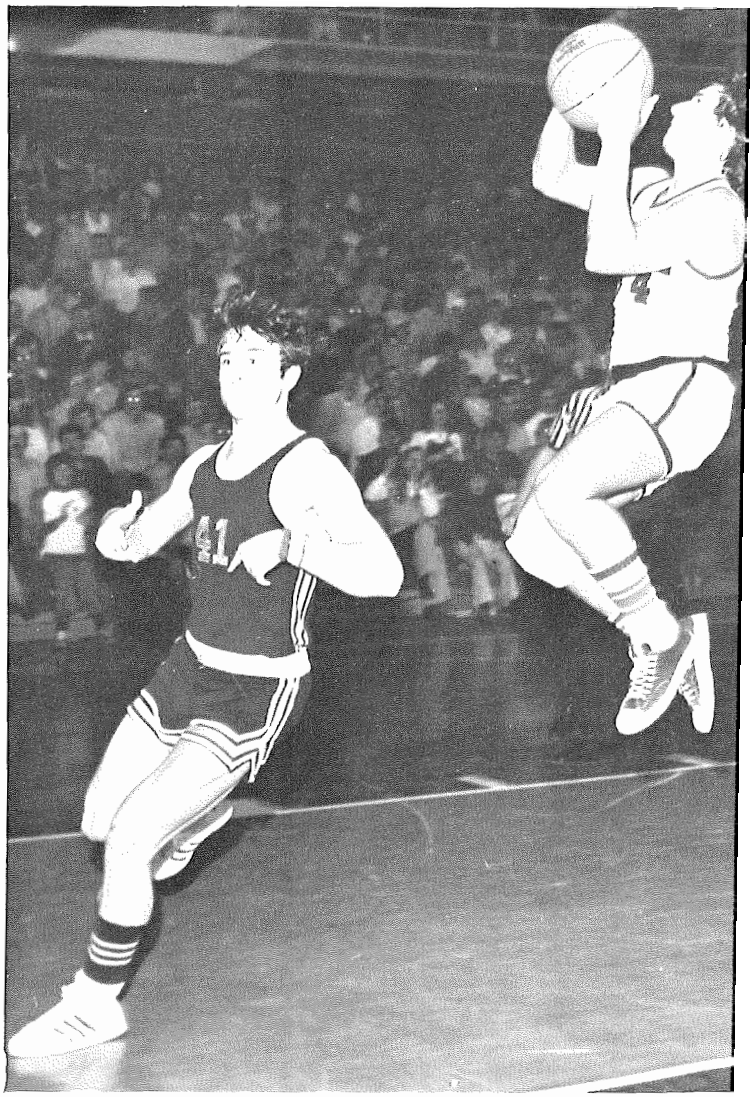

"You two could have it already, I QUIT!"

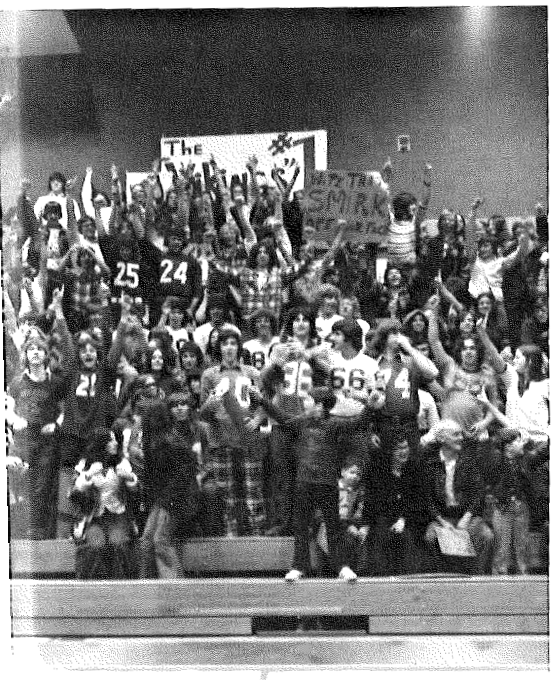

"First time all year I wear my contacts, and I have to lose them now!"

All dressed up for Class Night.

"Our" Mr. Carroll

Farewell good friends

Ain't she cute

"Sam you're hurting me"

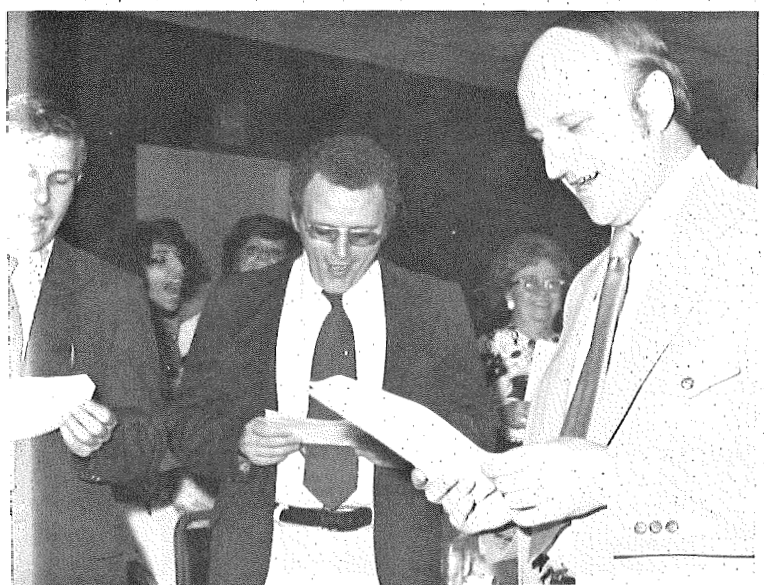

Let's start singing

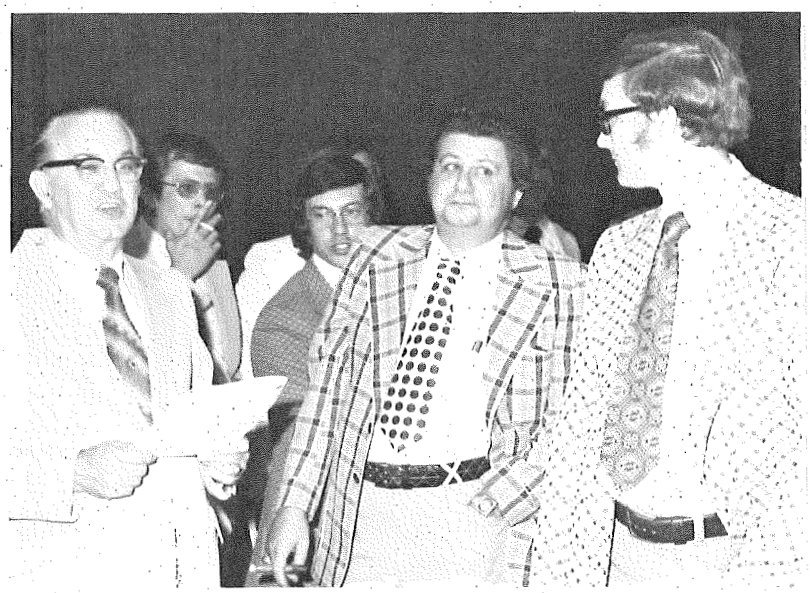

Jeana and Helen lead the singing

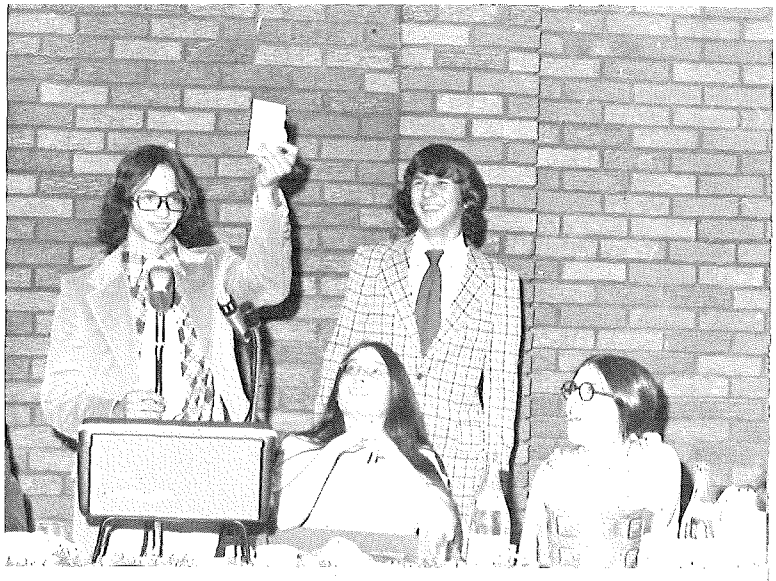

It's time for singing its the end of the year!

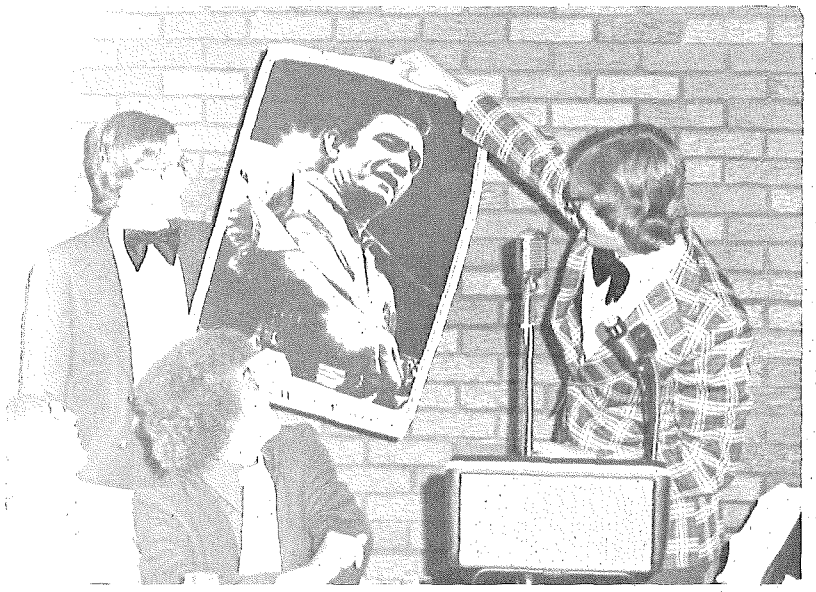

Presentations

"Cheer" up Joe

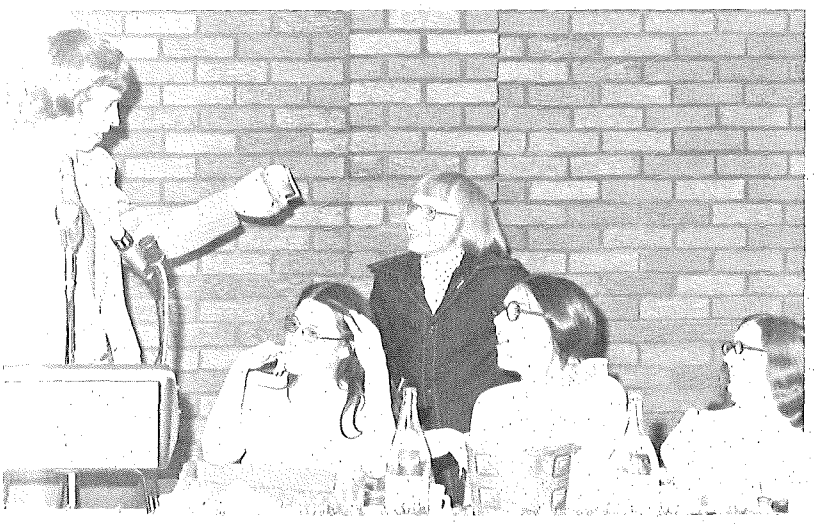

A "shifty" gift for Dan.

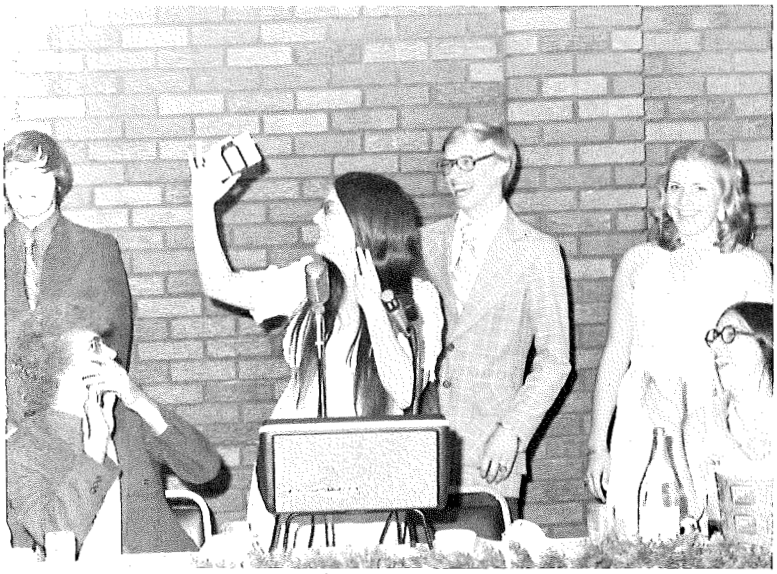

Mike's hero

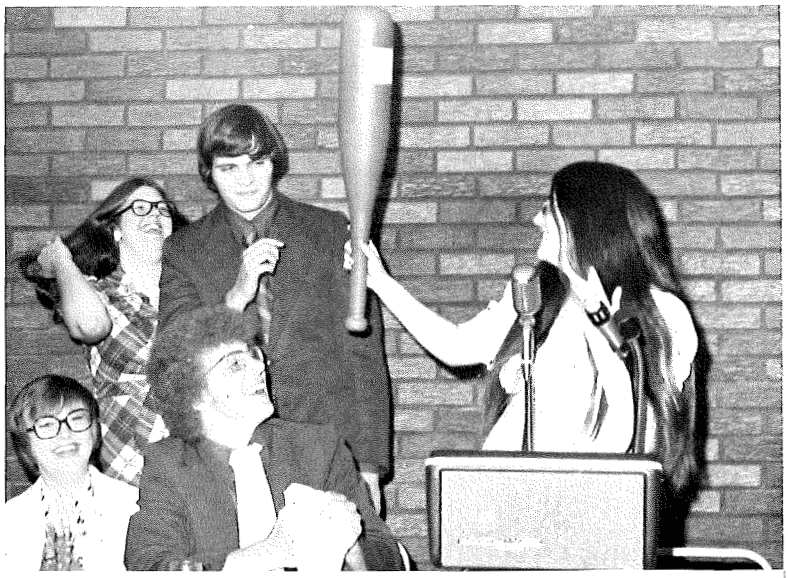

That's the best you looked this year, Barb.

Nick "Popeye" Kofira

Vitamins for Leon.

Officer Diakun gets a "beat"

What a ham!

You're on your way Doc!

Riverside's beauty

Smile!

Mother and Sons

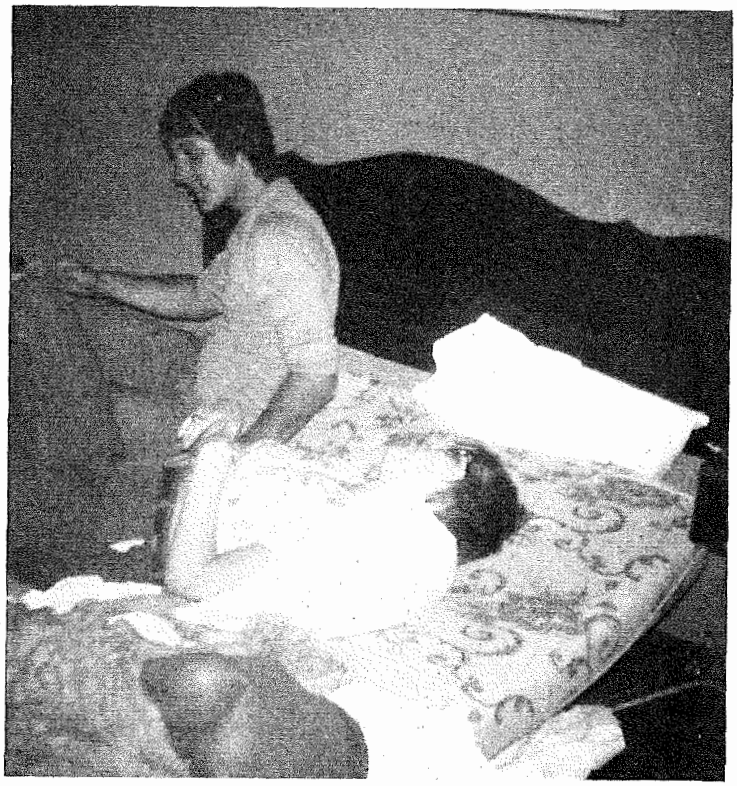

Final get together.

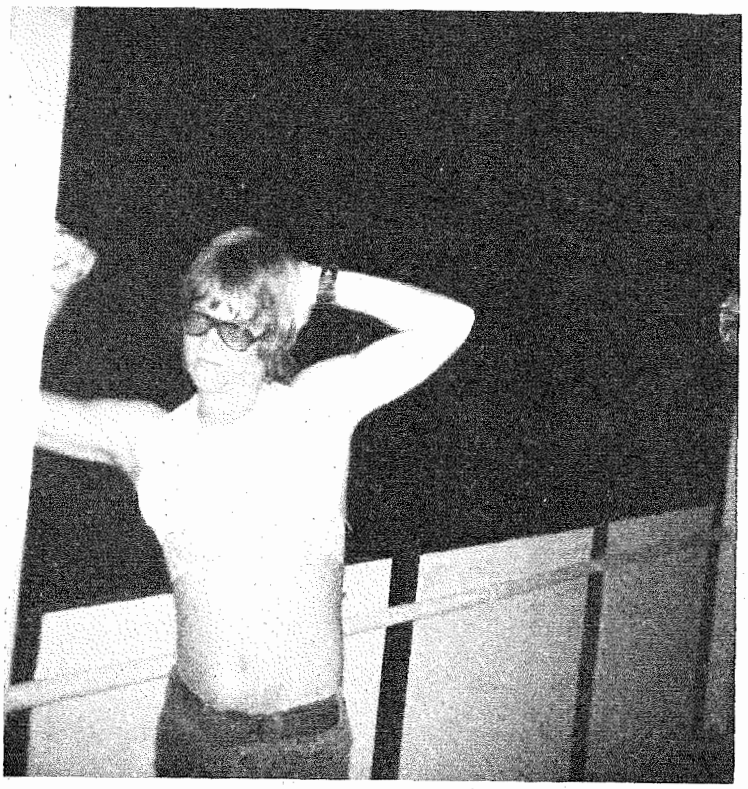

The lineup

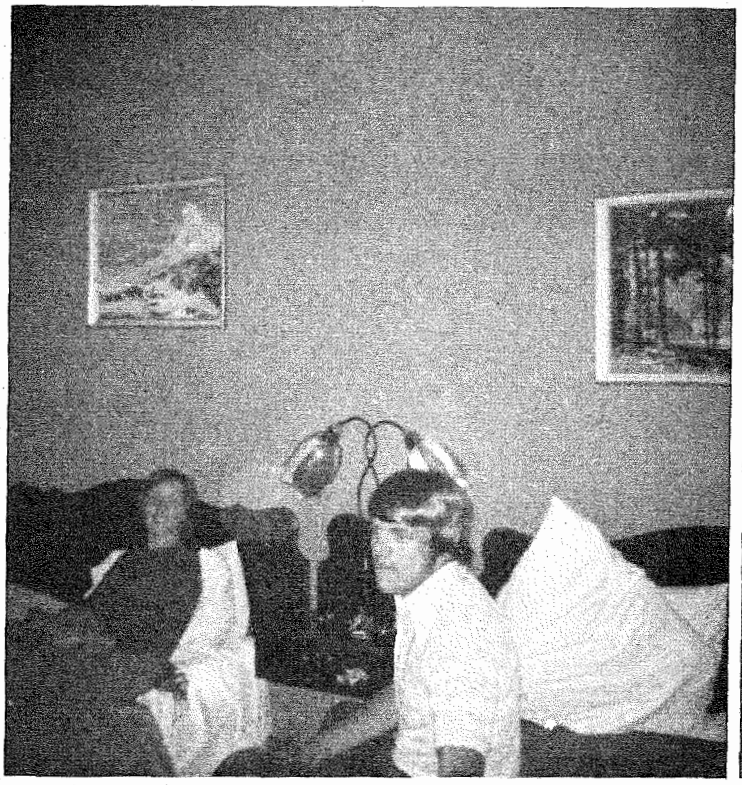

'74 Class Trip at Fernwood, Pa.

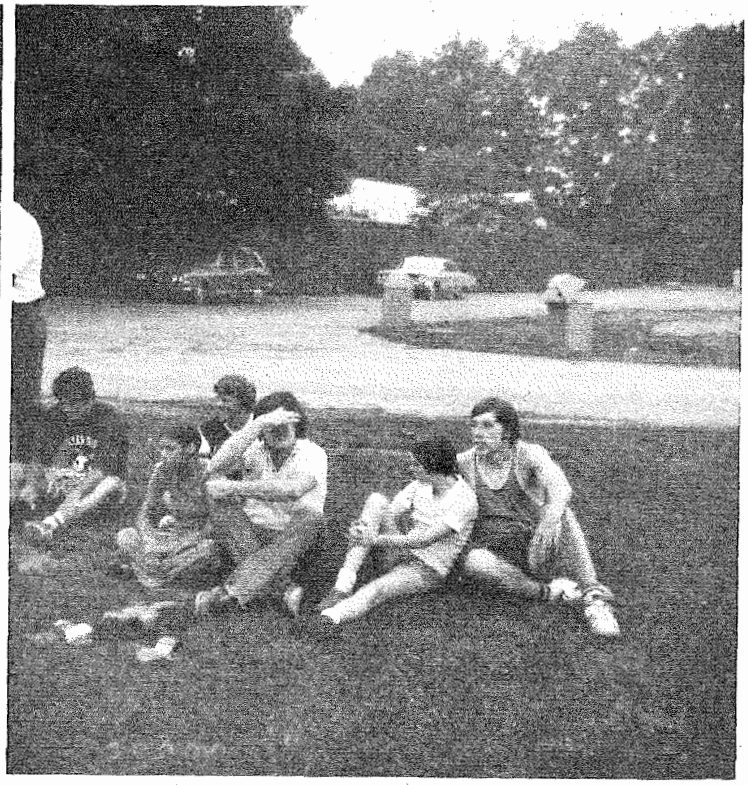

"Please make the room stop spinning.

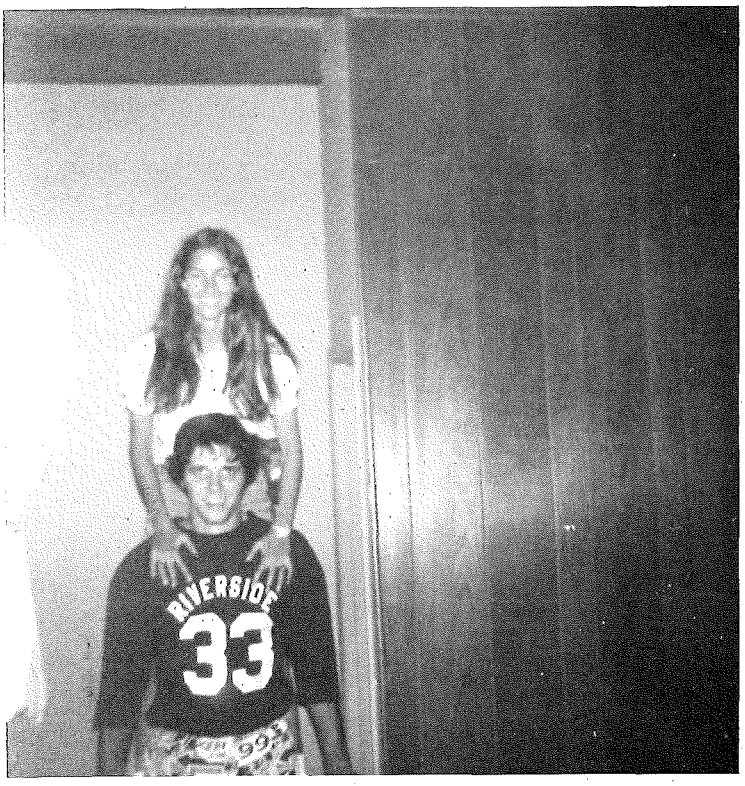

. . . . "And some of us ended up with the wrong suitcases."

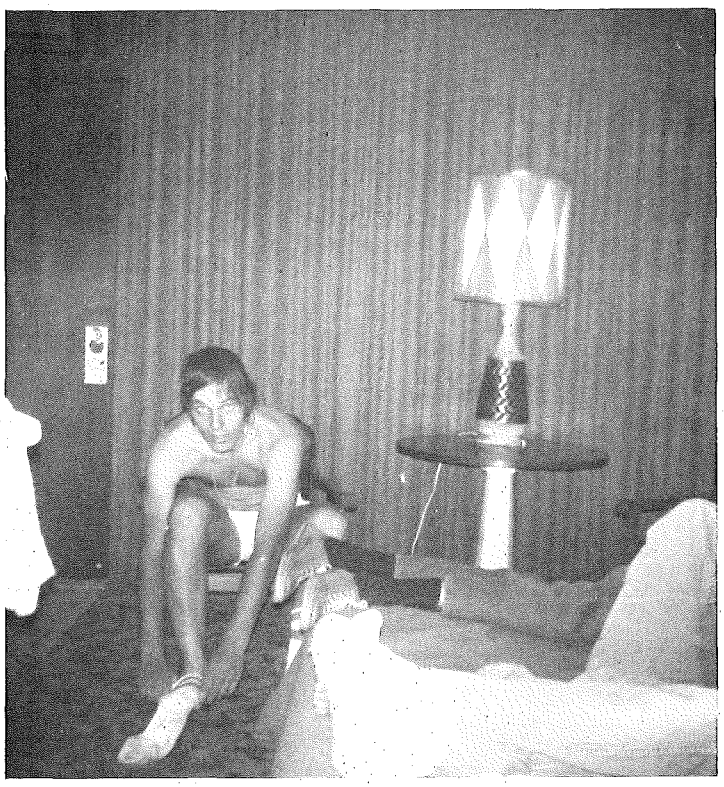

"What's this Karen, future doctors aren't supposed to get sick."

"Boy, when the windshifts, you can sure tell there's horses across the street!"

"Tell me you can't reach the T.V. now and I'll drop you!"

They wanted a streaker, now they're going to get one!

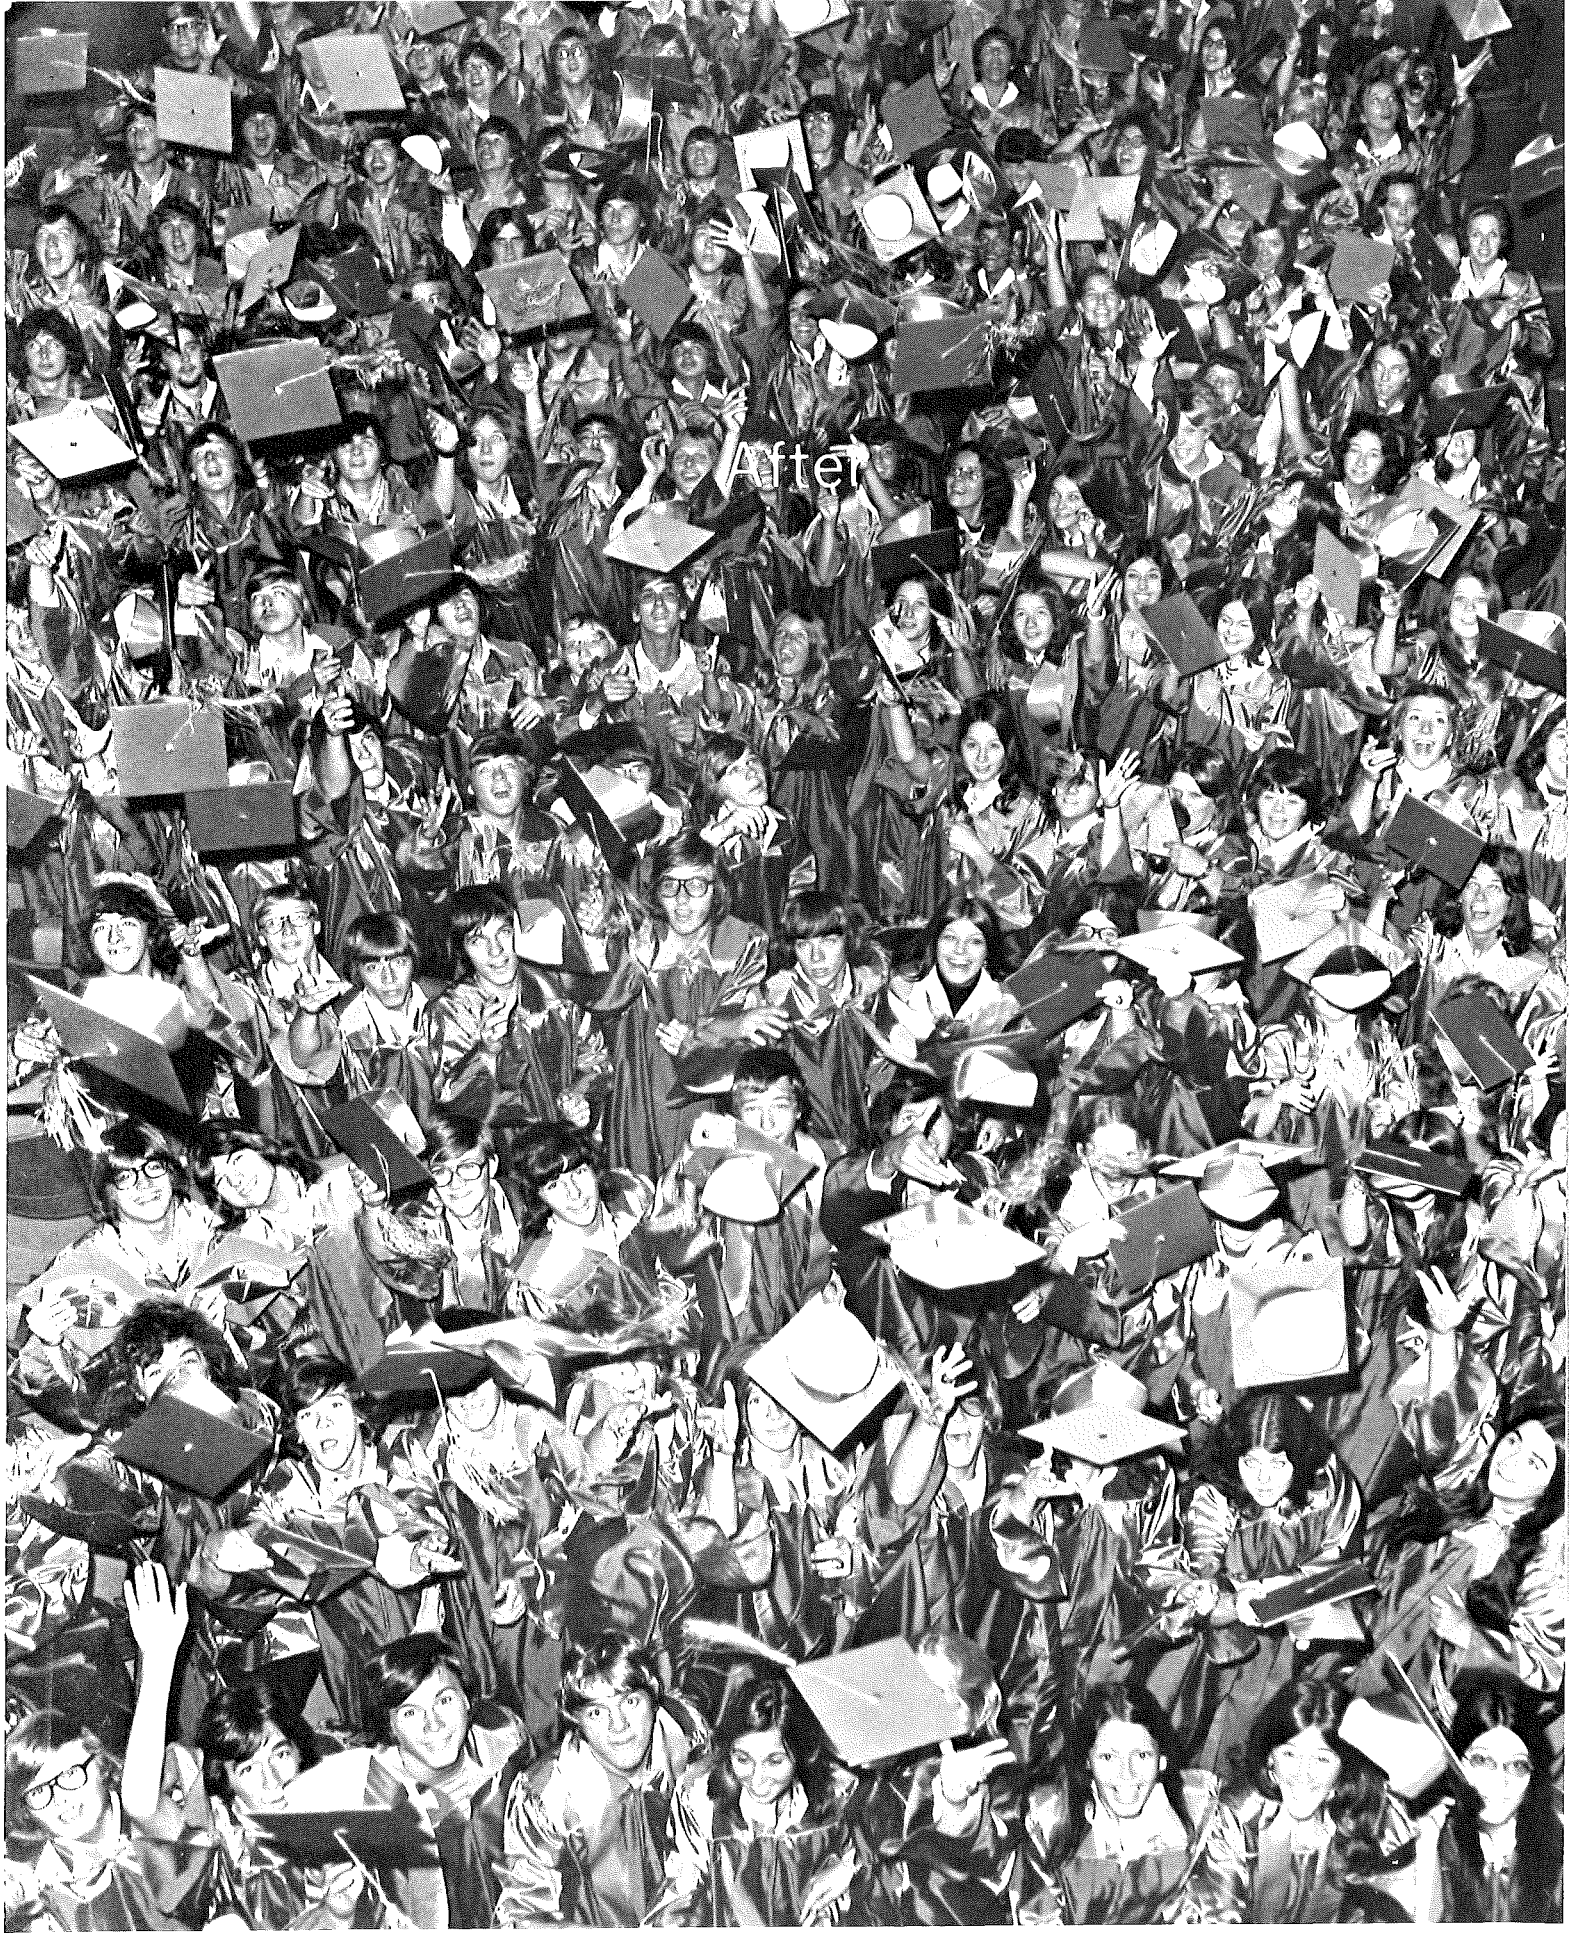

And it was a good thing Janet Lenns was there to chaperone the chaperones!

"Did that lady say good-bye or good riddens?!"

Before

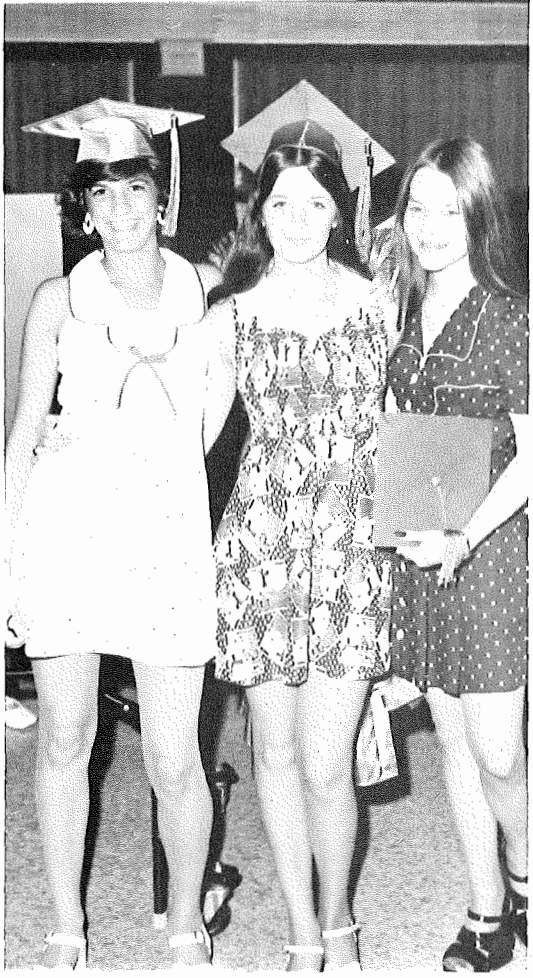

After

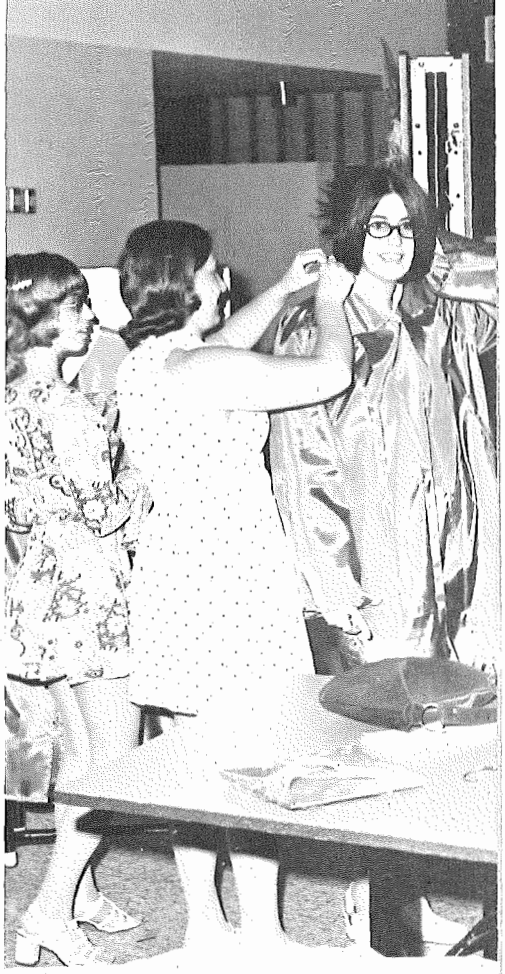

Seated (L to R):
Linda Zagorsky--Valedictorian
Holly Strong--Salutatorian
Margaret Lesniewski--Third Honors
Beth Olmstead--Fourth Honors

They're smiling now . . . but wait till it's over!

We refuse to wear those stupid gowns!

"Linda, help me . . . my hands are stuck."

T minus 15 minutes and counting . . .

"Boy could I write an essay on this!"

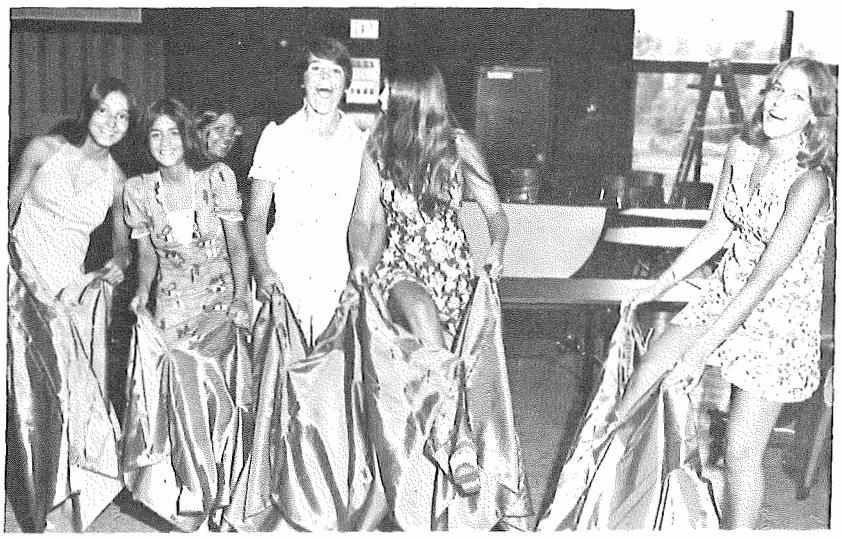

Graduation Gown . . . Huh, more like a straight jacket!

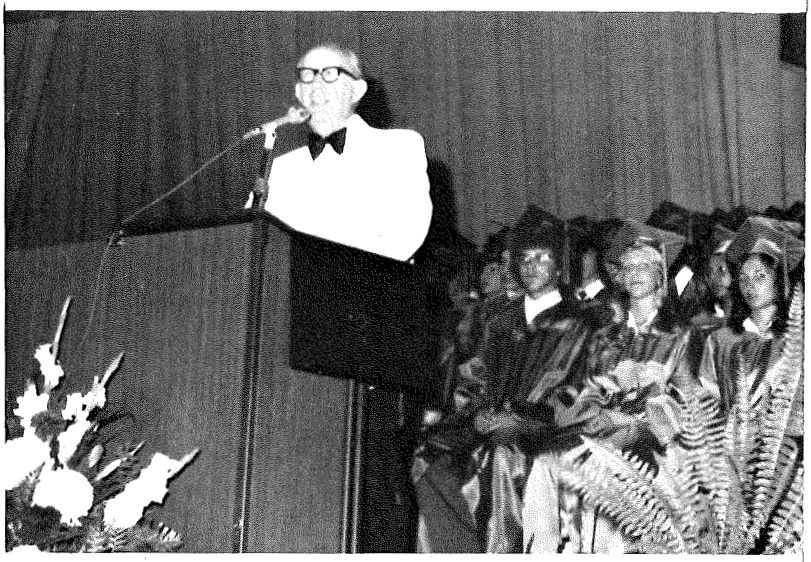

And some people do EVERYTHING together!

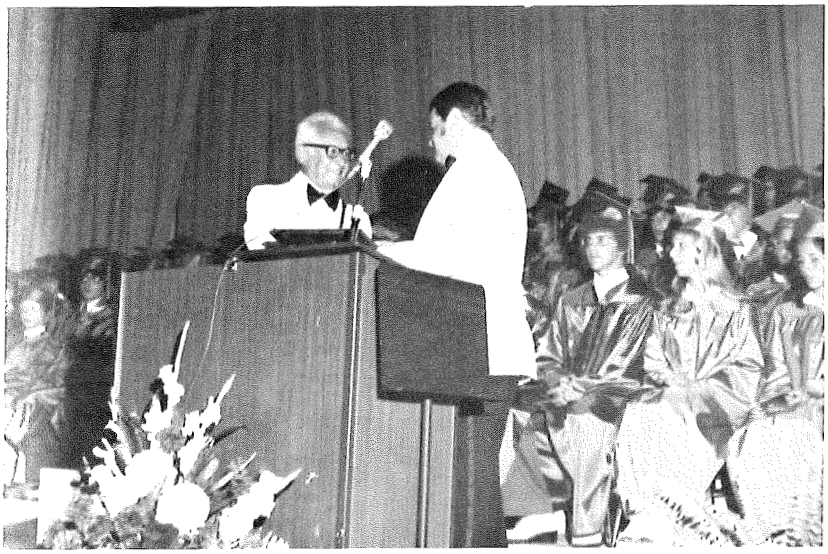

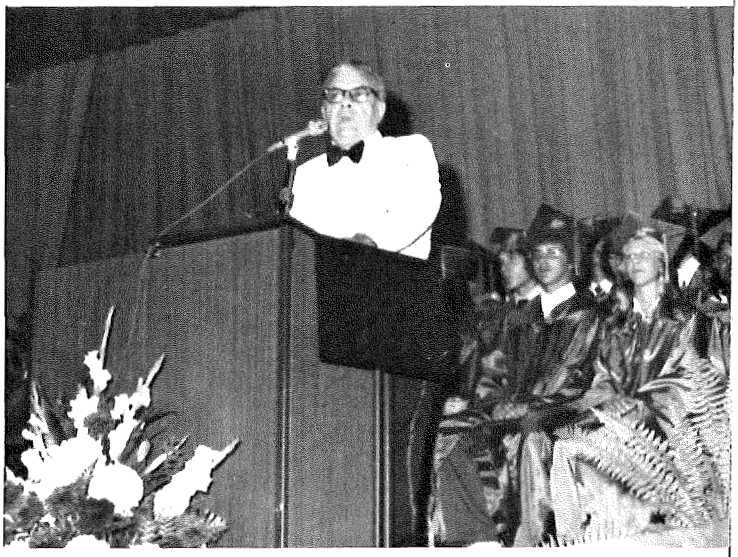

MR. PAUL RUSINCOVITCH, Principal

MR. RICHARD CARROLL, retiring Vice-Principal

Dedication of gymnasium to Mr. Patrick Reviello by Mr. Robert Clark.

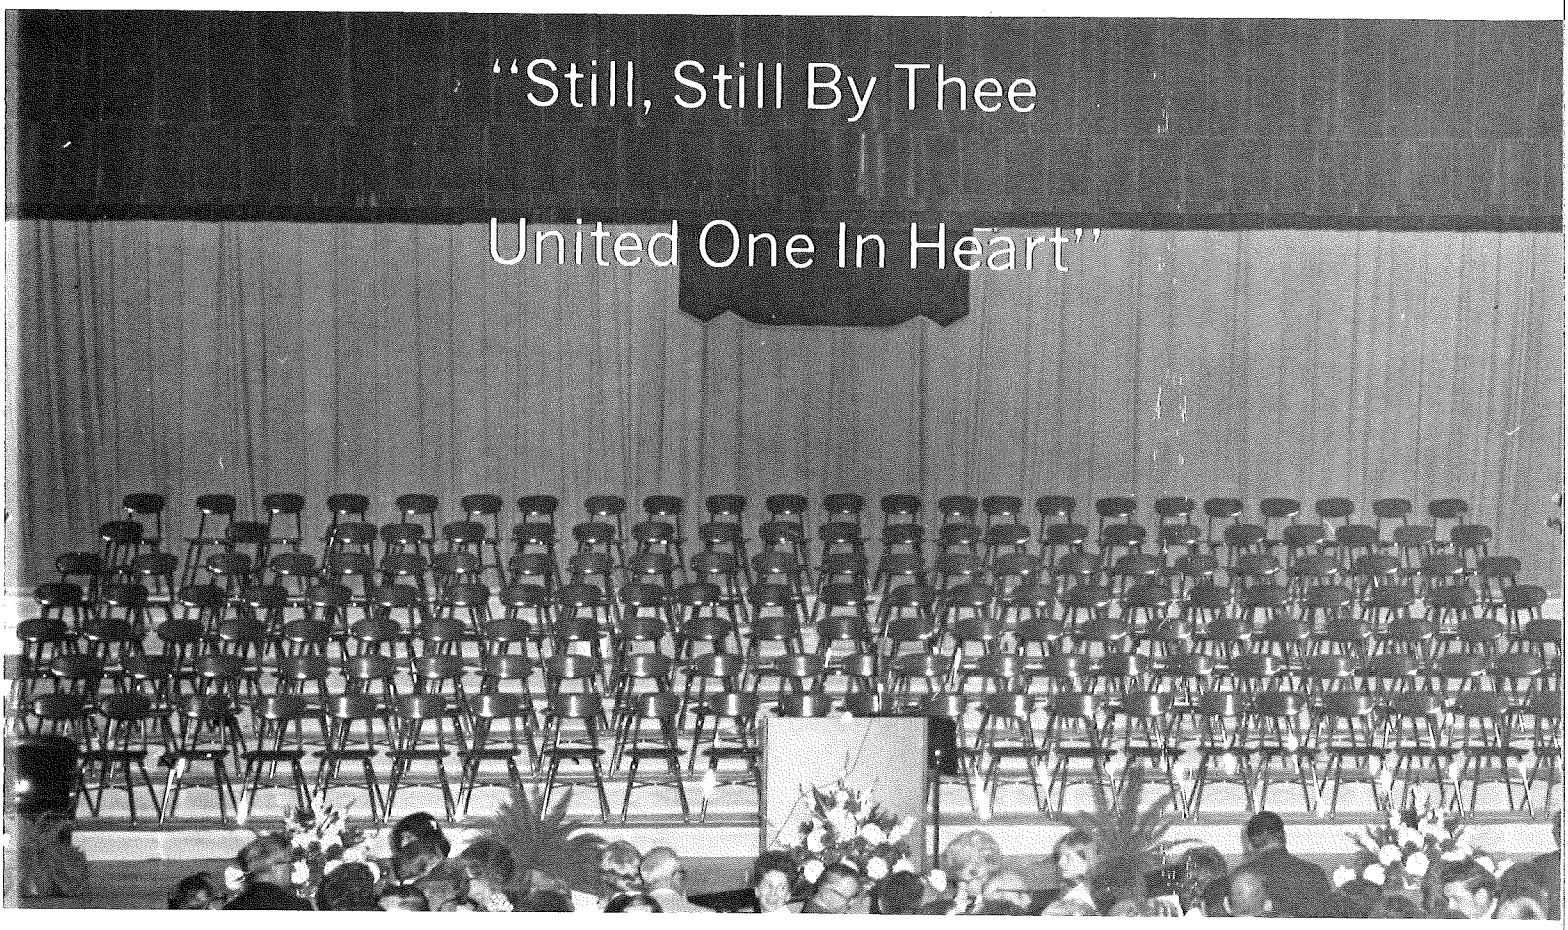

MR. ALBERT DeGEROLAMO, Pres. of School Board

Yours is not to question, Denise, just take it and run!

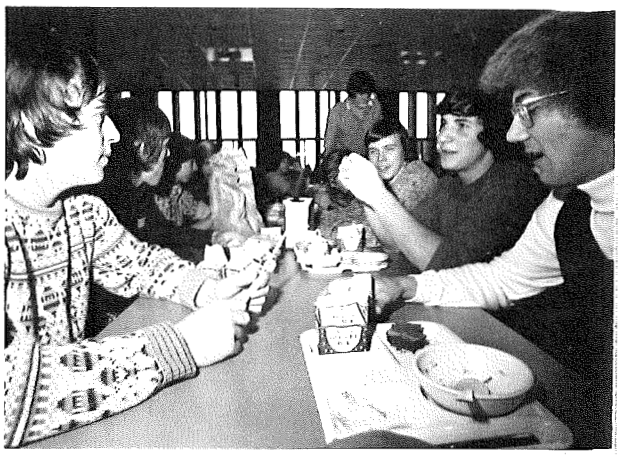

Quick, before my cap falls!

"Still, Still By Thee
United One In Heart"

All Gone!!

I can't believe I ate the whole thing!

Hey Gronski, if you close your eyes, the food doesn't taste too bad.

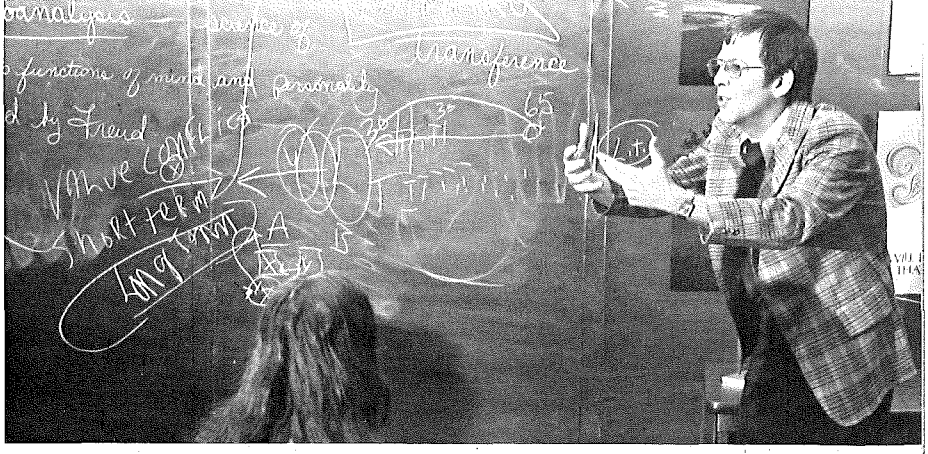

Don't tell Mrs. Herman that I'm giving you this!

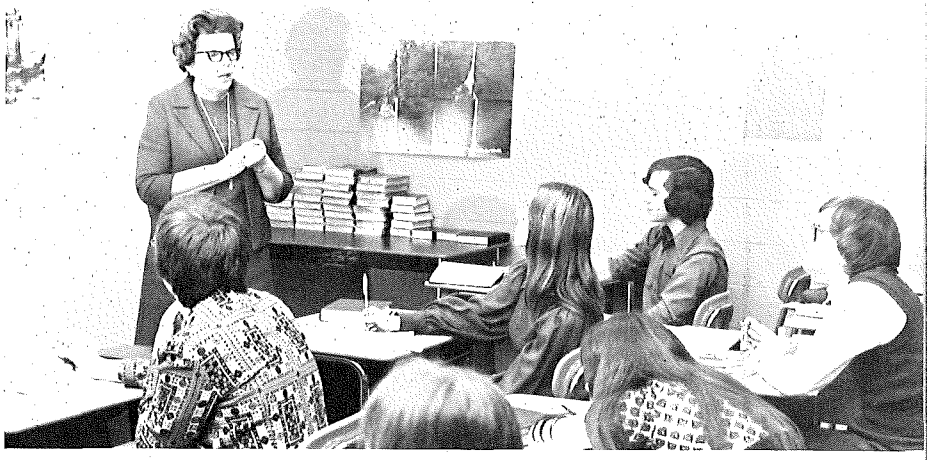

"All right, who shut off the power?"

They were out to here!

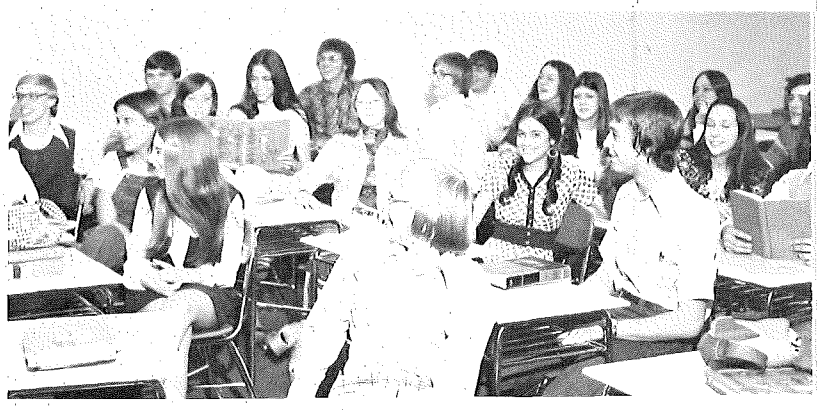

"And then there was the time in Valentine, Nebraska . . . . ."

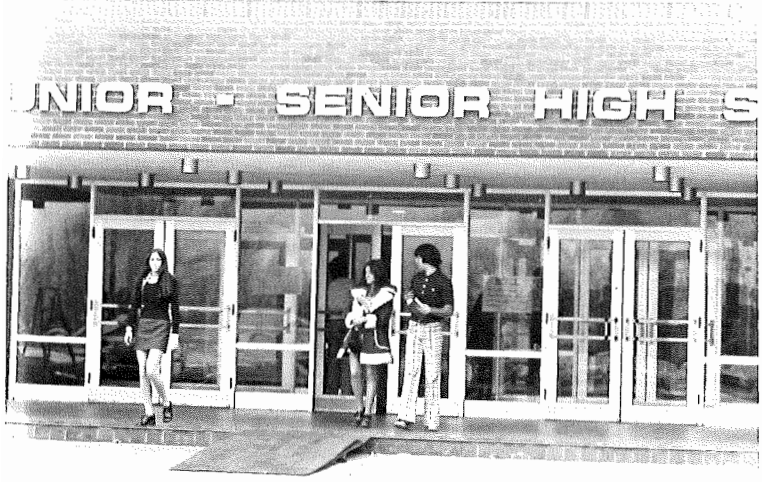

"Kania, leave Karen alone!"

Classes were ALWAYS kept busy.

"Future Psychologists of America"

Who turned off the alarm system??

"The Hospitality Girls"

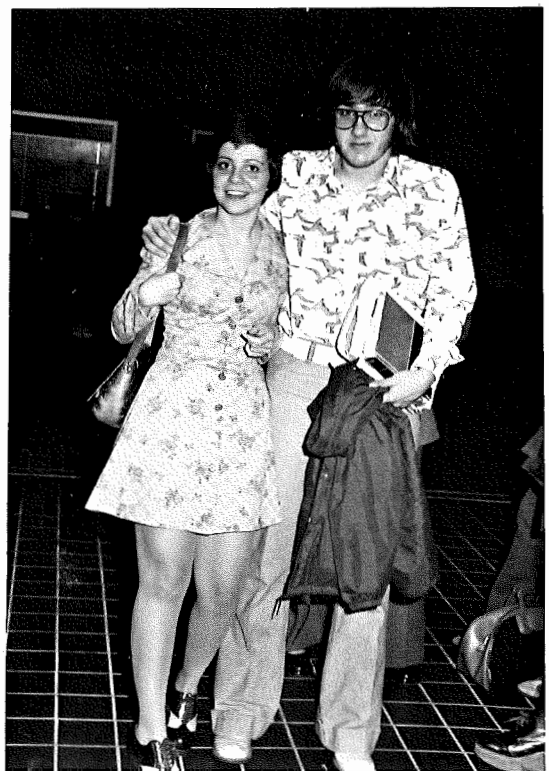

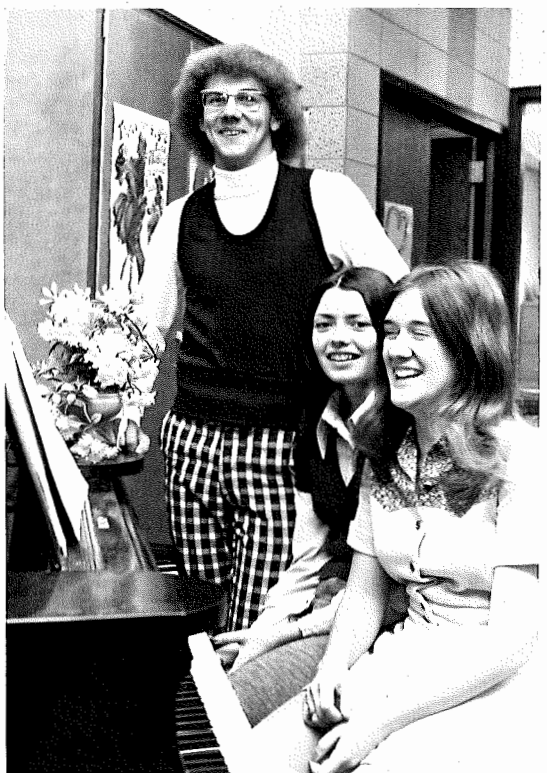

If the June Taylor Dancers could only see us now!

I don't care if it is the first day of deer season! Don't come to school like that again.

Ah Beefy, caught in the act!!

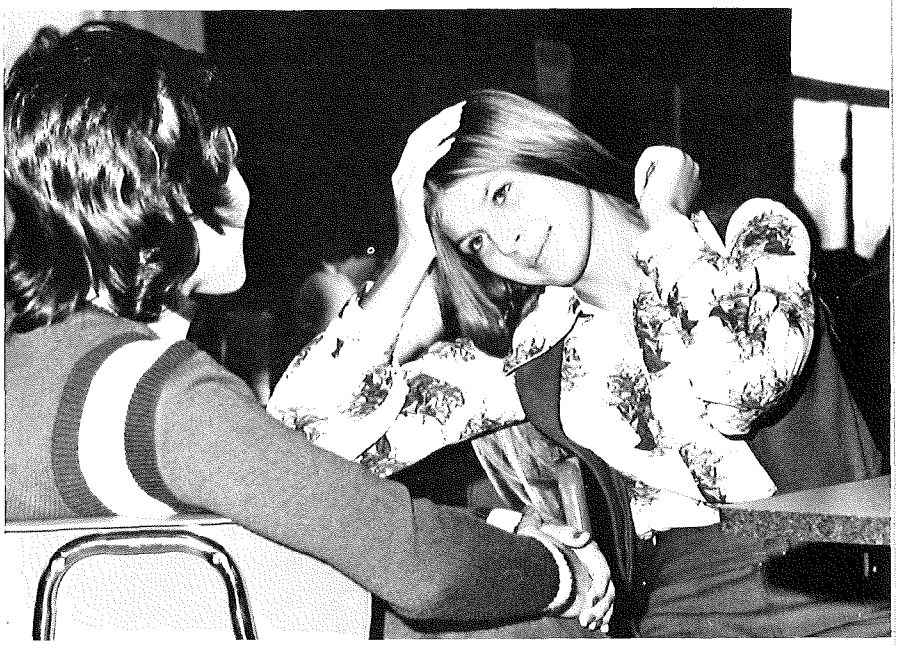

If we play loud enough we can drown his singing out.

Am I doing it right?

Excedrin headache #491

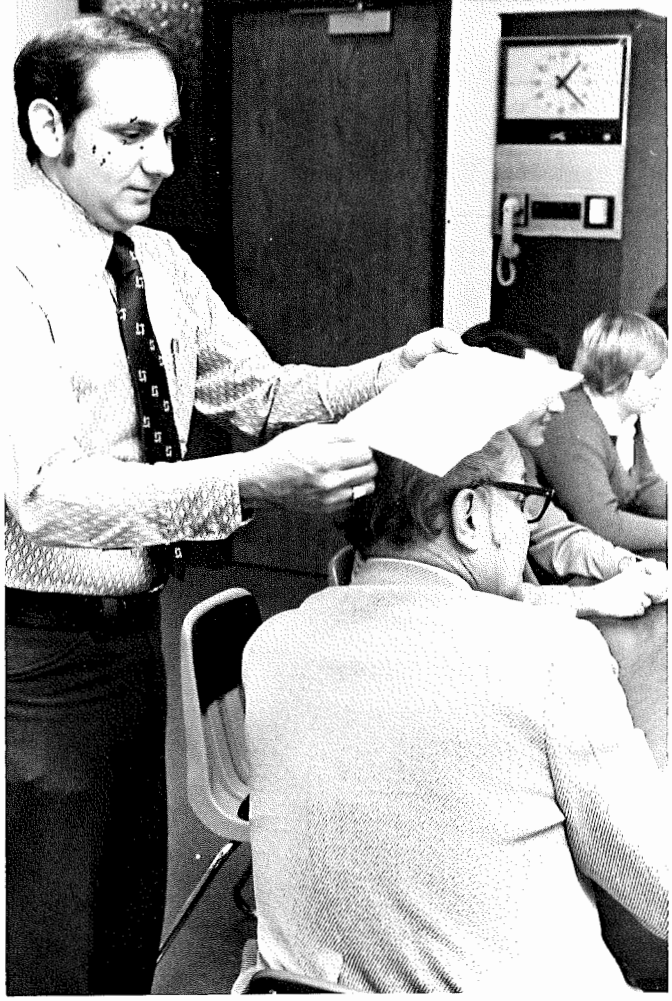

Fun At Lunchtime

Hi! there!

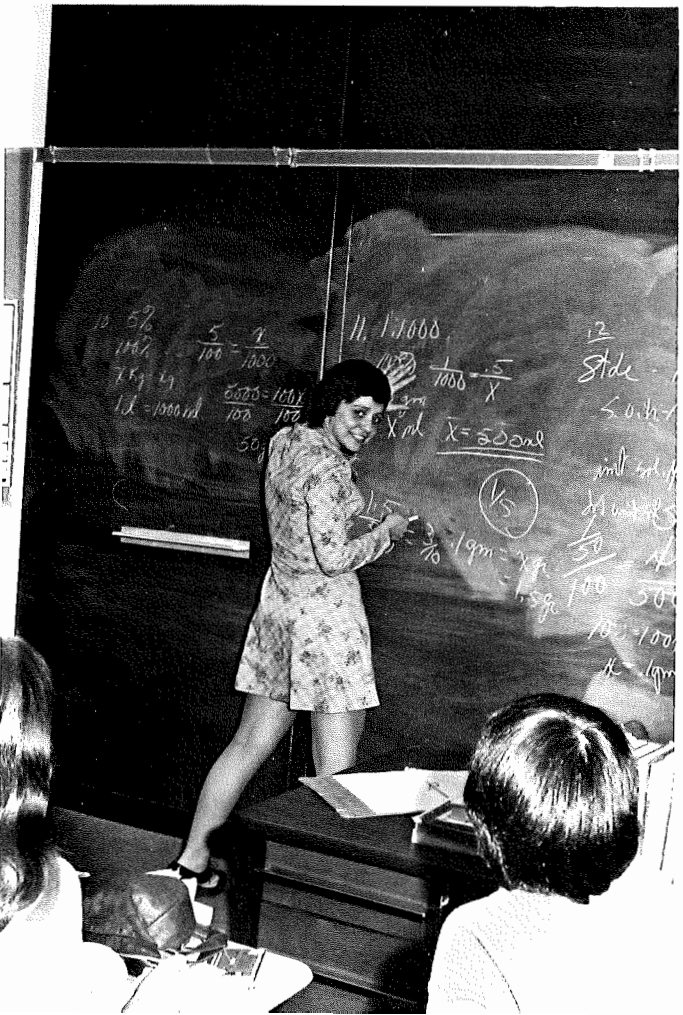

And they say students are strange?!

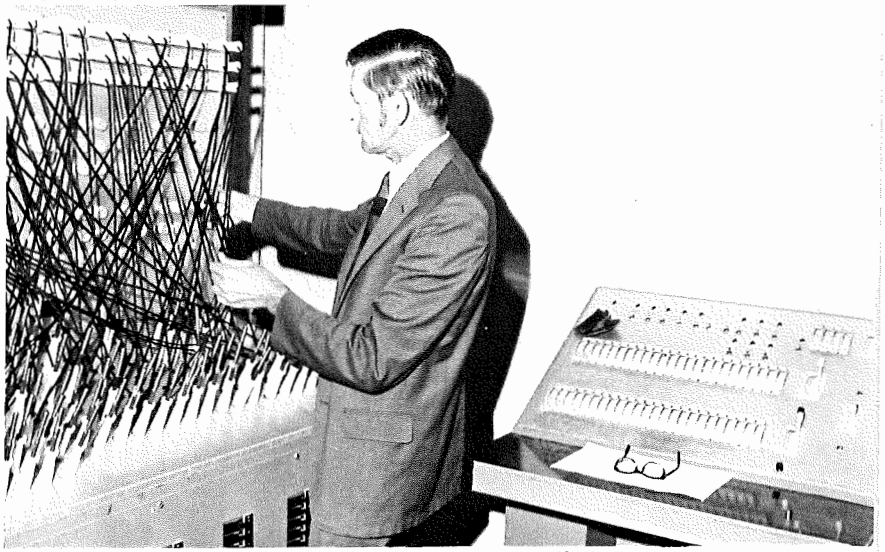

You're right, his pants are ripped!

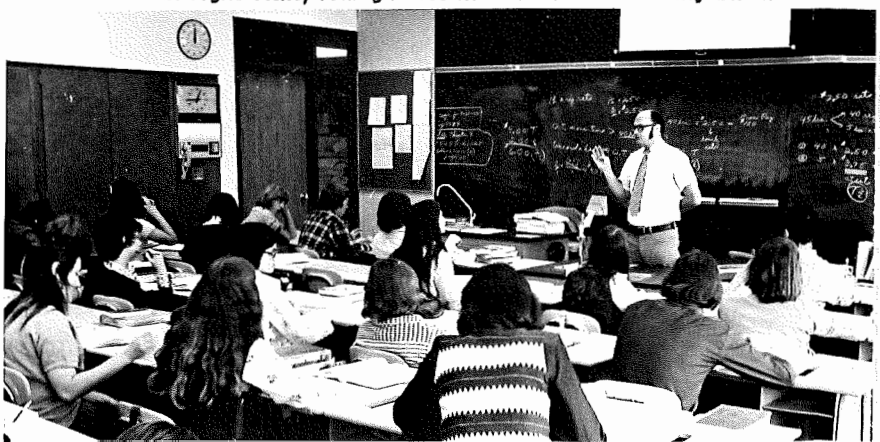

Will someone PLEASE tell me how to finish this?!?

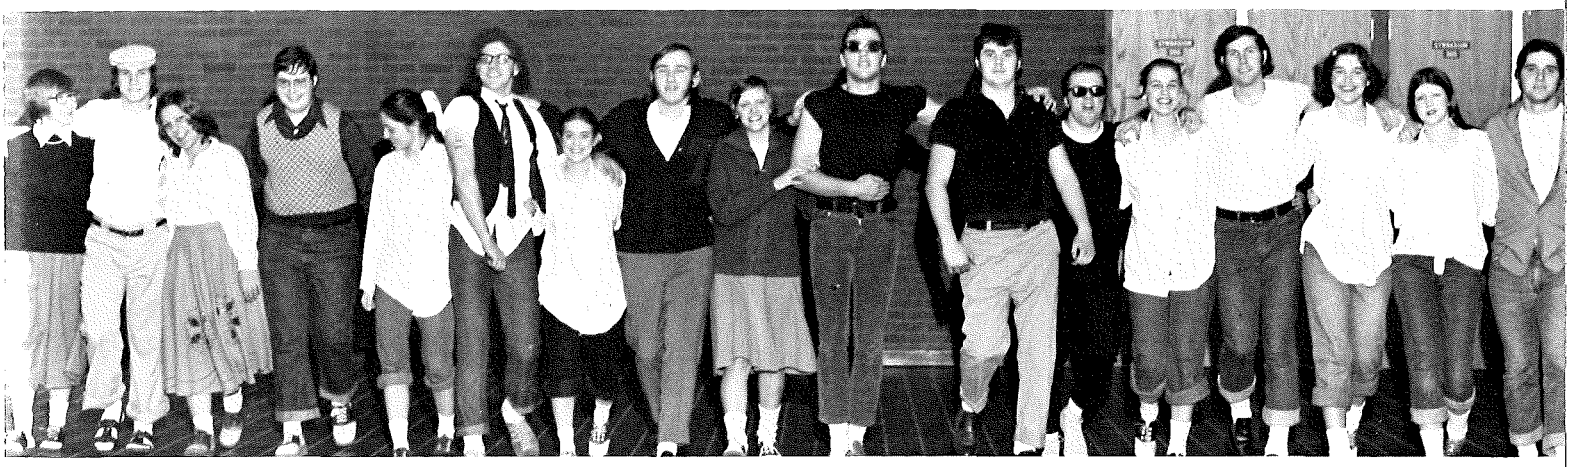

Watch it Mr. Mehilo, one wrong move and you'll short circuit the whole school!

All right class, four guesses as to what's behind my back.

Teen Angel . . . eat your heart out!!

Maryellen, Ted, & Barb Accomplished Poets of Riverside

They look like nuclear scientists . . . don't they??

Girls, what are you hiding back there??

Dedicated ecologists

"Remember Mark, If anyone asks we're only dancing!"

Now Mark, repeat after me, "I will not bother the girls during school hours again!"

"Boy, Mr. Chick really hung a job on Kania!"

Poor Leon, he doesn't even know enough to come in out of the rain!

Timmy oh Timmy where are you??

Where are your manners Linda? I told you not to turn away when I'm talking to you!

Sounds of Silence

Class History

Scene: Doctor's Office
Karen: Doctor Bobby: Injured football player

Karen: "Next"

Bobby: Enters office, moaning.

Karen: Bob Drusbosky, what are you doing here? I'm not doing any more Physics or Trig for you, so forget it!

Bobby: Karen, old buddy, friend, and classmate! God, you're the doctor?

Karen: You got it . . . . . now what can I do for you?

Bobby: It's my arm. A wild cheerleader attacked me!

Karen: Still the same old Drus. It brings back so many memories seeing you. Remember way back in ninth grade?

Bobby: Yeah, remember we were so disappointed when we didn't have eighth grade graduation? Then things really got rolling. Remember our elections? Jack Ott and I were the only ones elected. And Jack was only elected because Jane Wallace stuffed the ballot box. Then everyone was yelling and screaming so we all got kicked out by an angry Mr. Reviello.

Karen: I'll never forget how liberated we felt when we were allowed to wear pants.

Bobby: Maybe the girls felt liberated but we guys were disappointed. The only decent thing to look at in the school was covered.

Karen: And we thought you were shy in those days!

Bobby: Remember when Mr. Griffiths retired? I think we wore him out.

Karen: How about the time Mr. Griffiths made Frank Chroback eat that spitball!

Bobby: That was really gross . . . . . and it wasn't even his!

Karen: I'll never forget Miss Salmon and her stick. It was our favorite pastime to hide it.

Bobby: But she could defend herself pretty well without it. Ask Sharon Jackowicz and Anita Mulhern, they'll tell you!

Karen: And do you remember the mixup between Mr. Hordich and Mr. Bednash?

Bobby: Yeah, just when we got to know and love Mr. Hordich, he was yanked out of our class and Mr. Bednash was thrown in. Even all the petitions did nothing to bring Mr. Hordich back to us.

Karen: Yeah, but after awhile we got to tolerate Mr. Bednash and we even learned some Spanish.

Bobby: Do you remember any of it?

Karen: Are you kidding??

Bobby: Yeah, we had some great times in our classes and we even did fairly well in sports. The varsity and j.v. basketball teams won league championships and we had many enthusiastic fans following the varsity team to Harrisburg.

Karen: And then came our sophomore year. With one year under our belt we considered ourselves to be reasonably wise and mature sophomores. At least we calmed down enough to elect all four class officers.

Bobby: Yeah, but classes, though, were just as wild and unpredictable as ever, especially Biology. In room 2, under the watchful eye of Mr. Mekilo, we eagerly dissected anything we could get our hands on, with the remains usually landing down someone's back. Just ask Sheres Campbell.

Karen: Yes and I'll never forget the time in Biology when Linda Zagorsky demonstrated her knife-throwing ability to our class by using poor Kowalski as her unwilling subject.

Bobby: And what about the time Bev Kohut proved to her A-3 class that goldfish do not thrive on yeast. I thought Mr. Mekilo was going to kill her!

Karen: But while we were busy in Biology the commercial classes were giving Broadway some pretty stiff competition with their general business skits and the typists were busily typing to those famous words of "Time . . . . . Return Twice"!

Bobby: But while all those crazy things were going on in the classes the varsity and j.v. basketball teams again took league titles.

Karen: And don't forget about the girls either. With the arrival of Miss Kresge, girls' basketball came to Riverside for the very first time.

Bobby: Then came the Spring Festival. I think everyone considered it the best in Riverside history.

Karen: After that we began looking forward to next year when we'd be juniors and finally be considered upperclassmen.

Bobby: Our junior year started out pretty smoothly even though we did have to adjust to our new principal, Mr. Rusincovitch.

Karen: Yes, our football team was too busy making history for us to be concerned about anything else. It was the first time in Riverside History that a football team finished with an unbeaten season and we shared the Big Eleven Championship with Valley View.

Bobby: Another first of our junior year was a semi-formal sponsored by the Spanish Club. Mr. Bednash and the club made it such a success that it has become an annual occurrence.

Karen: But the biggest thing of our junior year was getting our class rings in June. We really broke tradition with that one. Do you remember how angry the seniors were and how they tried to stop us?

Bobby: How could I forget? They started petitions, wrote editorials in the school paper, and they even went as far as threatening to boycott our prom if we got the rings before it.

Karen: Yes, everyone must admit that the junior and senior classes definitely didn't get along. But the physical conditions in the school didn't help much either.

Bobby: Yeah, do you remember those studies in the auditorium?

Karen: How could anyone forget them, with Mr. Helcoski trying to keep order by handing out hundreds of pink slips everyday. And if that wasn't bad enough, they had to add those movies! Can you imagine what it's like sitting through the "Phantom of the Opera" three times a day???

Bobby: I think that it was during one of those flicks that someone tied me to the auditorium seat. What some people won't do to get a captive audience!!

Karen: But as unpopular as our movies were, one thing which made a great impression against impossible odds was our track team. Such stars as Steve Bieryla, Jim Kwaitkowski, Mark Exeter, and Jerry Nitch really put it all together and would prove to be even better in their senior year.

Bobby: But things were a little rougher in basketball. Things got so bad in one game that we didn't even get a chance to shoot a foul. And that was the year we finally left the spacious confines of the Moosic Youth Center—we had such an intimate relationship with the fans, they were practically on top of us.

Karen: Talking about intimate relationships, we certainly had a few at the Prom. Ours was the first class to honor the seniors at the Treadway Inn, a really great place for high school proms.

Bobby: I heard that some couples spent the entire night out on the bridges watching the little ducks—at least that's what they said!! After the prom, it was clear sailing until the end of the year when we would be seniors.

Karen: And then it came—Sept. 5 and finally we realized that we had made it—we were seniors!

Bobby: Yeah, but instead of the old, familiar surroundings that we'd been used to for the past five years, we found ourselves in a strange, new setting.

Karen: But before we even had a chance to inspect the new building, we were ushered into the auditorium where we were greeted by our principal and told the following good news: there would be a nine period day, seniors would stay for activity, no one would leave for lunch, and for the next 182 days we would be enjoying "nutritional" lunches in the cafeteria.

Bobby: Yeah, some good news! After hearing all that talk about senior year being easy and full of privileges, we sure were in for a surprise!

Karen: Yeah, and as the year went on, things didn't get much better. We fought with the administration over such matters as the activity period, cafeteria food, going out for lunch, smoking, raising money, having a graduation speaker, the senior class trip, and last but certainly not least, Rainbow City!

Bobby: Our class just couldn't seem to get together and agree on things so I guess clashing with the administration was unavoidable. Even when the class did get together, little was accomplished. Few as they were, our efforts to raise money failed and we wound up paying for just about everything out of our own pockets.

Karen: But even with all our problems our class did have some great times and our senior year brought with it a series of "firsts".

Bobby: Yeah, we were the first senior class to actually attend the new high school and we were the first to change the color of our caps and gowns and the place of our class trip.

Karen: We were also the first seniors who had to suffer the agony of staying in at lunch time, but with all the different musical tastes the seniors had, we did witness some great battles during the fifth period.

Bobby: Yes, and even though there was some disappointment over not having a Spring Festival for the first time, the musical production, Mame, turned out to be a tremendous success. The Vo-Tech and Co-Op Programs which were instituted for the first time this year also proved to be highly successful.

Karen: Sports also played a big part in our senior year with headlines being made by our football and basketball teams.

Bobby: Yes, our football team came up with a big 7-6 win over the Valley View Cougars and the basketball team made the playoffs.

Karen: Yeah, and don't forget that for the first time since its inception, our girls' basketball team came up with a winning season.

Bobby: Yes, all things considered it was a very eventful year ending with a great Class Night at Ernies and our upcoming graduation.

Karen: We only hope that everyone enjoyed looking back with us upon our four years here at Riverside and will add this Class Day 1974 to their memories.

1974 CLASS WILL

I, Dave Surgent and I, Denise Ceccarelli, being of sound mind and body, present this document as the last will and testament of the Class of 1974.
The Ecology Club leaves 10 lbs. of newspaper from their last paper drive to Mr. Rusincovich for his rabbit cage.
Jim Kwiatkowski, Jeff Bierly and the whole A.V. Crew leave their camera know-how to Mr. Mekilo in hope that he will someday produce an oscar winning film.
Sharon Jackowicz, Holly Strong, Janie Wallace and the other stars of this year's stage productions will their great acting ability to the members of Miss Joseph's Drama Club.
Mark Kania leaves his superb driving skills to Mr. Pettinato's future driving classes and he also leaves his imitations to Bill McGraw.
Mark Exeter and the rest of the shop boys leave their hammers and nails to the Riverside Maintenance men.
Sam Boerner leaves one last headache to Coach Lazevnick.
Joe Danilovitch leaves one free pass to each junior for an introductory lesson in Kung Fu at the Scranton Karate Club.
Bob Drusbosky leaves his golden arm to Glen Zumbach as he tries to break Bob's interception record.
Rich Sopko wills his 9 iron which is autographed by Art Wall to Jim Williams.
The seniors of the baseball team leave their bats, balls, gloves and uniforms to The Baseball Hall of Fame.
Bill Baldauff and Joe Surridge leave their great bowling ability to Al Vanchieri and Greg Polk.
Leon Kochan wills his muscular physique to Joe Sklenka.
Fran Cardamone leaves her right-handed jump shot to Kathy Kempa.
Ed Loftus leaves his mean football instinct, his strength to ward off opposing linemen, and his football jersey to Ira Shotwell.
Mike Kavulich wills his speed and agility to Mike Tibbs.
Bob Powell, John Regan and Bill Fletcher each leave one giant night walker to Mr. Robert Lazevnick so that he can try for a prize winning fish.
The Psychology classes leave Mr. Migal and Mr. Scagliotti two passes for a tour of the Clarks Summit State Hospital.
Chris Fezuk leaves her quiet, refined and mannerly ways to Sandi Mattioli.
Steve Bieryla wills his pair of P.F. flyers to Michael Morgan so he can run faster and jump higher than any other player in the Lackawanna Basketball League.
Janet Lenns wills her cheerleading uniform to Eileen Pehonech and her shoes to the Coast Guard Rescue Team.
Jack Ott, John Kuplinski, and Sam Boerner leave their stools at their favorite meeting place to anyone fit enough to sit in them.
Joe Slusser leaves all his girlfriends a great big kiss.
John Gronski wills his ability to make up excuses to the first person caught skipping school next year.
Denise Ceccarelli wills her stomach to science . . . Maybe they can figure out where all that food goes to.
Mike Nesko, and Tom Cook leave Mrs. Merritt in peace.
Debbie Spiewak leaves her long hair to Robyn Phillips.
Karen Kowalski leaves her ability to always remain happy even in the most depressing situations to Debbie Talerico.
Barb Fahey and Elyn Rysz leave their drawings of "Vince the Vulture" in room 221.
Gail Rinkunas leaves her dancing ability to all those girls who will try out for the units next year.
Karen Cawley and Rosanne Nehme leave their hospitality to any Junior who gets to sit at the reception desk three out of five days a week.
Tina Olsofsky and Helen Jones leave at one o'clock everyday.
Tom McAndrew wills his long flowing locks of hair to Michael Kozloski.
Jim Owens leaves his Nickname, Bad News to Clem Kolonowski.
Helen Jones and Jeana Lalak will their piano talents to Mary Beth Morris and Theresa Derenick.
Tricia Neary and Jim Dunleavy leave for East Stroudsburg together.
Finally, the class of '74 leave the hope of an outdoor lunch period to all the underclassmen.

CLASS PROPHECY

Written By Leonard Roberts and Chris Fezuk

The year is 1994. The class of 1974 of Riverside High School is having its 20th reunion at the high school. Invitations have been issued to "come as you are"; hence Chris Fezuk, Head dietician at the Veteran's Hospital in Wilkes-Barre, and Len Roberts, Chief of Engineers for Bellante, Claus, Miller, Nolan, and Roberts are on the welcoming committee. We see them now as they await the appearance of their classmates. As they wait, they discuss what has happened to these classmates, many of whom are very famous people.
Here are Chris and Len.

Len: I would have known you anywhere, Chris. You haven't changed a bit. How's the world of nutrition?
Chris: Oh, I'm kept busy planning meals for those brave soldiers down at the hospital. You look as if you finally got to be an engineer—
Len: Yes, I just finished building a bridge from Taylor to Moosic, or from Moosic to Taylor—take your choice.
Chris: What do you hear from our classmates?
Len: Well, I hear that Rich Albrech and Gale Petro have opened a sporting goods store in Moosic and that Bob Powell and Bill Fletcher are their best customers. They buy all their supplies for the chain of hunting camps they have stretched stragetically along the banks of the Lackawanna River.
Chris: Really? Well, I passed a beautifully planned housing development this morning—all the houses were made of brick! Running through the project was this yellow brick road which led right to the office of the developer who was none other than our old classmate, Bruce Ambrose. He's not laying bricks any more; he's just kicking dirt as he always did with the baseball team, but he owns the company!
Len: Did you see the program on T.V. the other night—the one about ecology? It featured good old Dennis Scherer who is now advisor to the President on ecology. I hear he's in charge of recycling bottles at the Whte House!
Chris: I saw that program. I believe it was written by Billy Baldauff, directed by Jeff Byorly, and photographed by Dave Kernich. I never thought those guys would make it without either Mr. Mekilo or Mr. Hapstack.
Len: Neither did I. Say, I saw Joe Carroll, Tom Dombroski, Mark Webb, Sheldon Webb, and John Kuplinski over at Ghost Town in the Glen. They are all assistant managers and among them they have come up with a new idea for a ride. It's called the "Ripoff", Kuplinski collects the money—$3 for one ride per person!
Chris: I asked in town about John Bergamino—you remember Bergie. Well, they tell me he's in Germany; he's the Press Relation man for Volkswagon.
Len: Speaking of moving from this area—I also heard that Stephen Beauregard Bieryla has left for the Deep South. I guess after he acquired the southern accent, he had to go somewhere to use it; I hear he whistles Dixie—off key, but he's in there trying; I also hear his version of Dixie can be very trying too!
Chris: I know someone else who is in the South. George Boyko! He's a drill sergeant at a big Army Camp down there. Guess he became so accustomed to barking orders at everyone on the stage crew here at Riverside that it was only natural for him to snap orders for Uncle Sam.
Len: Uncle Sam reminds me of our Sam—remember Sam Boehner? How could you forget him? Guess who's the manager of that new Louden Hill Store in Taylor –Sam! He was telling me that in a few years he'll own a whole chain of Louden Hills.
Chris: Two more of our classmates have opened a store—Well, it isn't really a store; it's more of a "boutique." Joanie Janes and Marty Conaboy travel all over the world collecting pieces of art which they sell in their boutique for ridiculous prices. Someone said they got interested in art when they both belonged to the Art Club in high school.
Len: That's very interesting. Someone told me that Tommy Cook really did join the Army but that he spends his nights writing English assignments which he still mails to Riverside—so far, he has an analysis and a take-home test to do.
Chris: Poor Tom, he never really dug English. Remember Big John Cudo? He's doing all right for himself—he just returned from a trip to Hawaii where he gathered new rock specimens for his exclusive jewelry shoppe which he built on 5th Ave. in New York City.
Len: Speaking of New York—I met Kevin Day there; he's a big time actor on Broadway. He tells me he often sees Paul Dalbo and Bob Hocking who are policemen assigned to the Vice Squad in Greenwich Village! When I was in New York, I saw the World Series—there was Mike Dininger pitching for the Phillies while Beefy Kavulich was on the opposing team as a first baseman for the Yankees. In off season, Beefy broadcasts football for ABC.

Chris: That reminds me—I hear Jack Ott finally decided to go with the Miami Dolphins. He was, for a while, operating a basketball clinic with Bob Drusbosky and Jot Danilovitz. That must have been some clinic! What ever happened to Mark Kania? Did he take Mr. Pettinato's job at Riverside?

Len: No—he really started something new in Taylor. He opened a Beauty Salon on Main Street. I believe it's called Mr. Marky's Salon and all the ladies love him. At least that's what Mary Ann Barowski told me and she's his assistant. I hear also, that Mark gets all his wigs from a company formed by two of our former classmates, Tom McAndrew and John Regan. They say those two can supply 1000 wigs a month made solely from their own hair!

Chris: While we're on the subject of hair—I saw Chuck Knepp—he still shaves once a month whether he needs it or not!

Len: Remember old Droopy Dunleavy? He's head coach at Riverside AND he's also Mayor of Taylor! Guess he got his basic training in government when he was president of Student Council. Tricia is with him; Droopy may be boss of Taylor, but Tricia is boss of Droopy. I just received a letter from Bob Sheets—that renowned world traveler. He's in London with his internationally known band, "Sheets Bros. Band," with Michael Gawel, Bob Godlewski, and Ed Loftus is manager of the group. He tells me that he saw Rich Sopko in a golf tournament in Scotland and that Barb Fahey is living in a little English Village as she writes her seventh Gothic Novel. Ellen Rysz visits Barb occasionally when she's not busy acting in a Shakespearean play at Stratford—England, that is!

Chris: I wonder if they ever see Leon Kochan. I hear he's our Country's Ambassador to England—he always did like to travel.

Len: I don't know about Leon, but Ellen said that she often sees Gail Rinkunas who is a choreographer for many big productions on the London Stage. She and Joe Surridge are married, you know, and they live in a charming English village where Joe teaches in college there.

Chris: Several other members of our class are living overseas. I saw Bob Zvonchenko's name in the paper recently—he's a ski instructor in Switzerland where Michele Czachor is the star attraction. Dave Surgent and Rosanne Nehme are stationed in Scotland where Dave supervised the U.S. Navy's search for the Lochness Monster. Roseanne, of course, is the perfect Navy wife traveling from station to station with Dave. She recently christened a ship which she affectionately named the U.S.S. Surgent.

Len: Oh, yes, I hear Joe Sluck has a restaurant in Italy of all places—he caters to Americans who want pizza, lasagna, and spaghetti made by someone trained at Vo-Tech. Mrs. Sluck, the former Jeana Lalak, is head nurse at an Italian Clinic where all the American Movie stars go to recover from the pizza, lasagna, and spaghetti.

Chris: Maybe the Slucks see Bill Shields and Gary Vosburg—They are traveling all over Europe on their motorcycles.

Len: Getting closer to home—Ted Galacci has written a science fiction book—he was so depressed with the kind of science fiction he read that he decided to write his own.

Chris: Speaking of books—another member of our class has not only written a book but has done the illustrations herself—none other than Leslie Mesavage.

Len: I was out riding the other day and I saw Bruce Remaley and a group of young boys going on an overnite hike—I hear he's an official in the Boy Scouts of America—An official what-we won't say but he's still an official.

Chris: Really? Well, another of our classmates is an official—he's the fire chief in Moosic—guess who? Bill Sanders. He barks orders at the firetruck driver, Kevin Smith.

Len: Speaking of driving—John McHugh who loved to drive in the old days, is the ambulance driver for Moosic Fire Co.

Chris: Maybe he takes patients to the new Taylor Hospital where Karen Cawley and Marge Lesniewski are chiefs of staff. Both girls finally made it as doctors. On their hospital staff are Sue DeSantis and Helen Jones as nurses. They say the Taylor Hospital has some very delicate machines designed by none other than Nick Kofira who in his spare time is bartender at Vince Liples' night club which features Jerry Nitch and his O'Yeah Polka Jets every night and twice on Sunday.

Len: Whatever happened to Ruthie James?

Chris: Oh, she's Mrs. Liples, but she also is in charge of Friendship House—she loves working with all the unfortunate children. Joe Krenitsky, Nancy Ogonosky, and Linda Stone are all Staff nurses at Friendship House. Ann Marie Shebby is head nurse—She runs the show!

Len: That reminds me I saw a show the other nite on T.V. The clown in it was our old classmate—Mike Kobilinski. At the end of the show I noticed the sets had been built by those great Riverside carpenters, Leonard Twardowski, Joe Wilson, and John Sovitch. Did Sharon Jackowicz ever become an actress?

Chris: Yes, in fact she's appearing this week at Pocono Playhouse as leading lady in a play directed by Joe Slussar.

Len: I hear all the costumes at Pocono Playhouse come from Denise Ceccarelli's dress factory located in Greenwood.

Chris: Oh, yes, Denise is very successful. Debbie Durdan is her designer and has designed a line of dresses for the liberated woman; Geanine Bursky is floorlady at the factory—hear she has a whip which she cracks to keep the girls working.

Len: Another Riverside graduate works for Denise. Cindy Davis is accountant for the Company while Cheryl Checho is in charge of the office. Mary Ann Ozack is her assistant.

Chris: Guess what I heard the other day? That Fran Cardamone is the first woman' basketball coach for the NBA. She makes her grand entrance dribbling the basketball while riding on her motorcycle.

Len: That reminds me—Jimmy Kwiatokowski is getting ready for the Olympics—he had quite a record as a track star. Janet Lenns is also in training for the Olympics and she's still laughing! Mark Exeter has already been accepted for his pole vaulting.

Chris: Another of our old classmates is in training, but not for the Olympics. Remember how Susan Kardos loved music? Well, she's training for Grand Opera—she's good, too. Cindy Occhipiniti always loved music, too—she's a music teacher here at Riverside.

Len: Cindy was telling me that Tina Olsofsky is still managing things—she will probably be the first woman Vice-President of the United States after the next impeachment.

Chris: She ought to make it—Janie Wallace is her campaign manager and you know how those two were at Riverside.

Len: I was in Moosic the other day and I noticed a Ceramic Shoppe on Main St.—The owner is Betty Elvidge. Working with her is Kay Hall who just returned from the Marines. Linda Lewis, Cindy Decker, and Peggy West are all helping Betty with her creations.

Chris: You'll never guess what Frank Chroback has done. He has written his own English Literature book. He has omitted all poetry and it's selling like hotcakes. Of course, It's no wonder, Gerald Moore is publisher.

Len: Speaking of books, I just joined a book club run by none other than Mary Ellen Gora—she offers 10 books for $1. She has hired Cindy DeFazio as one of her book readers. One of the books in my club is one written by George Semian. He tells of his experiences as first man on Mars. George was the pilot on that expedition but I hear Linda Zagorsky went along to check the chemicals on Mars. Holly Strong stayed at Mission Control pushing buttons and calculating madly. Her assistant in necessary calculations was Beth Ormstead who was always good in math.

Chris: I didn't see any Carrolls Restaurants around.

Len: No, they've been replaced by Wesloski's—owned and operated by Paula Wesloski. She treated me to a Wesloski burger made by Karen Kowalski who is manager of several stores, Arlene Malinowski who used to work at Mark IV is in charge of all the kids who work at Wesloski's after school. While I was eating my Wesloski burger, I saw Joe Reed and Mike Nesko. They have both returned from the Navy and are living on their pensions. Occasionally they go out to Detroit to visit their old friend Dan Meholic who owns a car factory out there. Dave Walosyn is foreman for Meholic and they say Big Jim Owens is mayor of Detroit!

Chris: I hear Ed Matelewicz and Denise Vinansky have found success on the Professional Bowlers Tour. Denise won the latest Women's Tournament while Ed had a 300 last week—even though it took him 3 games to do it. .

Len: Oh, yes, and Anita Mulhern and Susan Dakin are Health Assistants at their favorite hang out, Viewmont Mall!

Chris: Speaking of women—did you know that Eileen Brown, Sheree Campbell, Renee Collins, and Paula Matusewski are still good friends? They're all housewives who formed a very strong Women's Lib group advocating fair treatment for wives and mothers.

Len: Linda Canjar ought to join that group—I hear she's a real little mother with 10 kids—that's what happens when a girl marries a Latin Lover from Old Forge!

Chris: Another little mother is Loretta Waisilowski—she had the 4 children she always said she wanted!

Len: Remember when Bev Kohut and Joanne Keppick worked for Kentucky Fried Chicken? Well, they took Mrs. Ross' advice, invested in the company and when the Colonel died, the girls became the company! Of course, both girls have other careers—chicken is just a side line.

Chris: Good for them! Kathy Maikranz is a computer analyst for IBM—she has Jean Nieshell with her in the computer world.

Len: Ellen Rachko has an interesting job—as a result of her work on the yearbook, the Taylor Publishing Co. hired her to be their representative in local High Schools. She has Karen McGuire and Marge Preston on her staff of lecturers.

Chris: When I was in the Scranton Dry the other day, I saw Debbie Zaccanino and Jane Scaramastro, who are crocheting and knitting instructors. They got their start at Riverside with Miss Lidy—remember all those afghans?

Len: Oh, yes, I hear Denise Saranchuk who always loved animals is now in charge of the SPCA and Linda Stalbird, who married Denise's brother, is her assistant.

Chris: Does anyone ever hear from Pat Vannoy—that little red head who came to Riverside during her junior year?

Len: Yes, she's living in York and working for the Armstrong Cork Co.—they make floor covering—not bottle corks!

Chris: Speaking of transfers—Bev Vaslavek went back to North Pocono finally. I hear she's a great fund raiser for worthy causes. Whatever hapened to those kids who wanted to be Medical Assistants?

Len: Oh, they're doing fine—Virginia Toczlowski still works for dermatologists and Barb Siminski is designing a whole new line of choppers, false teeth to you. Would you say those two are working by the skin of their teeth?

Chris: Very good. Say I hear Toni Youells took over Marie Carpentier's job at WNEP –she always was good with the comments. She was broadcasting the other day from Grant City where JoAnn Yonchowsky is credit Manager. You have to give her credit for that!

Len: Remember how Wendy Williams and Debbie Van Louvender always had the steady boyfriends in high school? Well, they're both happily married—they still believe diamonds are a girls best friend. You'll never believe this, but, remember how Sue Palumbo was so impressed with "Get thee to a nunnery"—Well, she finally went to be a nun! She always was different. When others were coming out of convents. Sue went in! I hear she's on her way to becoming Mother Superior.

Chris: Here's another unbelievable bit of news—Nancy Brostoski kept on working at the Bakery Dept. of the Globe until she weighted 250 lbs. Can you picture that? She then organized a reducing club where she's the chief lecturer. Debbie Ellard, Donna Healy, Rose Tompkins are all in Nancy's company as lecturers and instructors. Jo Ann Frost is business manager for the outfit while Linda Gilroy is receptionist.

Len: I noticed that there is no more Old Forge Lumber Co.—It's the Biedrayckl Lumber Co. Lois, who started to work there in 1974, now owns the whole operation. She has hired Ron Yackobovitz, Art Tieder, and Dan Sarancbiek as lumber cutters.

Chris: That ought to be some company! Say, I saw Jeff Thomas the other day—he's a golf pro, you know! He was on his way to a tournament on his new motorcycle.

Len: Well, Chris, I believe we've discussed everyone in our class; they'll soon be coming here for our reunion—Oh, I almost forgot—Remember the Late John Gronski?

Chris: I sure do. Did he ever become a lawyer?

Len: No, he switched to teaching. In fact, he teaches here at Riverside—his homeroom is 209 and does he ever run a tight ship—if a kid is 40 seconds late, over to the office for a late slip. He learned how to run a homeroom from Miss Willis. Secretly, however, his motto still is, "Better Late Than Never!"
