Parents/Guardians of Remote Students:

I hope this note finds you safe and healthy. Unfortunately, over the past week, we have had two separate incidents of inappropriate language being used, by adults, in the background of a student's location. On both incidents, the teacher muted the student as fast as he/she could, however, the inappropriate language was already projected through the Google Meet, exposing both Live and Remote families to the language.

As part of the Remote Learning option, it is understood that the supervising adult is providing each student with an appropriate learning environment. While on the Google Meet, your student may be asked to provide answers, give a presentation, or any other educational request that will require him/her to come off mute. It is expected that during Remote Learning times, inappropriate language is not used.

I apologize if your child was exposed to either of these incidents. On both occasions, the family was directly addressed, in regards to the incident described above. It my expectation that we do not have any more of these unfortunate events in the future.

Please let me know if you have any questions or concerns.

Best,

James Knipper
Superintendent/Principal
