Dear WPS Families,

It's hard to believe we're heading into the final stretch of the school year! The last few weeks are always filled with a special kind of energy—and this year is no exception. Across all three primary schools, students and staff are busy preparing for end-of-year celebrations, performances, field trips, classroom showcases, and continuation ceremonies. It's a joyful and busy time as we reflect on the growth we've seen and look ahead to what's next.

As we wrap up the school year, we also want to keep you informed about the exciting future of our WPS facilities. As part of our district's long-term plan to build new primary school buildings, each of our current schools will transition to temporary locations in the coming years to allow for construction.

Here's an overview of the timeline:

- Hilltop Primary School is planning to relocate to Friendship United Methodist Church (at the corner of Springfield Pike and Fleming Road) from August 2025 to December 2026.
- Elm School is planning to operate in a temporary location from August 2026 to May 2027.
Details about this location will be shared with families soon.
- Vermont Primary School is planning to relocate to Friendship United Methodist Church from January 2027 to May 2028.

We know these transitions may raise questions, and we're committed to keeping you informed every step of the way. Our team is working hard to ensure that each move is as smooth and student-centered as possible, with a continued focus on providing the warm, joyful learning environment our families expect. Hilltop families, we will begin sharing more information about logistics for the 2025-2026 school year in May to help you plan for next school year.

Thank you for your partnership during this exciting time of both reflection and forward momentum. We can't wait to celebrate all that your children have accomplished this year—and to continue shaping an incredible future for WPS.

Have a wonderful three-day weekend!

Sincerely,
Dr. Gina Kirchner
Principal, Wyoming Primary Schools

Counselor Corner

Trustworthiness was the character trait that was the focus of this week's Cowboy TV and is essential to building positive relationships with others and achieving career and school success. Key beliefs of someone who is trustworthy are honesty is the best policy; lying and cheating hurt one's character; and it is important to keep promises and commitments. Some activities that can be done at home to promote trustworthiness are:

- Provide examples of key characters in a story who demonstrated the importance of trustworthiness.
- Role-play scenarios in which telling the truth could help.
- Develop a list of dos and don'ts for being a trustworthy person.
- Watch a movie or show, paying particular attention to the behavior of the main characters in regards to trustworthiness.
- Write about someone your child trusts and what makes that person trustworthy.
