Clara Barton-Hawthorne Elementary School students Roxie Aiken and Reina Haug will get a hands-on look at life as an elementary school principal on Monday as they are each named Principal for the Day. The two lucky students were each randomly selected as the winners of the CBH Parent Teacher Association's Principal for the Day fundraiser raffle.

Aiken, a third grader, will be Principal for the Day at Clara Barton Elementary School, alongside CBH Principal Rebecca Folden, while Haug, a kindergartener, is Principal for the Day at Hawthorne Elementary School, alongside CBH Assistant Principal Erica Rainsberry. Clara Barton and Hawthorne are joined schools with Hawthorne serving Grades K-2 and Clara Barton serving Grades 3-5.

The students will join their respective school administrator for a day as the school's top dog and all of the tasks that go with it. They will read the morning announcements before school; sit in on meetings; run a fire drill; monitor and assist in the lunchroom; visit classrooms and conduct teacher observations; and even create and enforce their own rule for the day.
