Dear WPS Families,

As spring brings warmer weather, we're seeing more students walking and biking to school—and we love it! This week, we've been talking with students about arrival and dismissal safety, including the importance of using crosswalks, looking both ways before crossing the street, and following bike and scooter safety rules. Please help us by modeling safe behaviors—park in designated areas, refrain from making U-turns, and always use crosswalks. Your actions make a big difference in helping our students stay safe.

One upcoming event I want to highlight is Wheel-a-Thon, happening this Sunday, April 27th, from 1:00–4:00 PM. This is always such a fun and active afternoon for our students and families. Bring your bikes, scooters, and helmets, and get ready for a great time together. I hope to see you there!

Wishing you a wonderful weekend ahead!

Sincerely,
Dr. Gina Kirchner
Principal, Wyoming Primary Schools

Counselor Corner

This week's Cowboy TV lessons focused on showing good character. A person with "good character" acts, thinks, and feels in a way that matches some commonly accepted "good" traits, like being honest, respectful, responsible, caring, fair. Someone with good character makes choices that are "right" and avoids doing things society considers to be "wrong." Good character is often something a person builds over time. When you hear about "building good character" or a "character-building moment", it means that you are facing a challenge and you need to look to your good values, make a good choice, and persevere (work through it even though it's hard). A moment when you have a difficulty to overcome can be a character-building moment because it helps you prove to yourself that you can make a good choice that is in line with your values. All the character-building moments in your life help you grow into a person with good character. Parents can encourage their children to build character by complimenting their children when they display good character.
