TalkPath™ Live

The Evolution of Therapy

The delivery of related services in schools for students with a wide range of eligibilities has never been more convenient, flexible, and affordable than it is now, with school districts across the country having immediate access to online tele-therapy options customized for their specific needs and preferences. And no one delivers top-caliber teletherapy better than TalkPath Live, an exceptionally client-focused provider staffed with an extraordinary team of credentialed clinicians and specialists working at the top of their field. Through our live, one-on-one, face-to-face therapist-to-student sessions, any school anywhere can receive personalized therapy plans for each student, using the technology and computer devices they already have, within the daily schedules already in place. With studies showing that quality and effectiveness are not compromised by telehealth approaches, schools can rest easy knowing that student needs are being skillfully attended to while administrative requirements are fulfilled and budgetary concerns are met. There's a lot of pressure on schools to provide mandated student support services. Let TalkPath Live be your solution.
