Skillful Coaching Conversations to Improve Professional Practice

This two-day workshop provides a solid foundation in research-based strategies for engaging, impactful coaching conversations that foster professional growth and elevate professional practice.

- Develop an understanding of the knowledge and theory essential to effectively coach educators and staff toward progress.
- Recognize and address common barriers to change, with strategies to overcome them.
- Identify purposeful use of verbal and nonverbal communication skills, including reflective and directive conversations.
- Apply evidence-based practices to guide growth-focused conversations.
- Explore and implement research-backed strategies to enhance and refine coaching skills.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Anyone in a district or site leadership or management position including educators, mentor teachers, peer coaches, PAR consulting teachers, administrators, and classified managers.
