commencement ceremony for our class of 2025. Congratulations to all of our graduates of the School of Medicine, School of Graduate Studies,	Dr. Guzick at podium in commencement regalia Text: David Guzick, MD, PhD Chancellor and Dean and School of Allied Health Professions.	Group of female students standing on floor listening intently [Brenna Pearson-Gallion] Graduation means so much to me. There were a lot of times during grad school where I wasn't sure if I was going to make it to this point, so I'm so	Brenna in regalia standing in front of a purple LSU Health Shreveport backdrop Text: Brenna Pearson-Gallion PhD in Molecular and Cellular Physiology incredibly proud to be standing here today as a graduate and as a doctor. It means everything.	Brenna with a huge smile, on stage being hooded by her major professor [Alden Sonnier] It truly means a lot that we celebrate all the work and all that we've overcome to get to this point. It truly means a lot to us and to me personally.	Alden in regalia standing in front of a purple LSU Health Shreveport backdrop Text: Alden Sonnier Master of Medical Sciences
And I'm really looking forward to see where my next step in my journey will be after this moment.	Alden crossing stage and receiving diploma then stopping to smile for a photo [Sara Watson] I actually think it's pretty bittersweet. You know, it's exciting that	Smiling woman crosses stage to receive diploma while a young man walks across the stage behind her.

we're going to start our careers and start our lives,	Smiling blonde woman crosses stage and shakes hands with faculty but, I mean, I've only been here for two years, but I have fallen in love	Sara walks across stage to receive her diploma and stops to smile for photos with the school and my program and my faculty and my peers, and I'm going to miss seeing them every day.	Sara in regalia standing in front of a purple LSU Health Shreveport backdrop Text: Sara Watson Master of Communication Disorders
has been full of ups and downs. So to, to look back and	Smiling woman being hooded by medical school faculty see, like, all the times when I thought,	Smiling woman crosses stage to receive diploma while another young woman is being hooded on the stage behind her. okay, this wasn't even going to be attainable. And now to be	DeMarcus being hooded by medical school faculty and his wife getting a degree. It's I don't know, I can't even describe in words the joy that I have,	DeMarcus in regalia standing in front of a purple LSU Health Shreveport backdrop Text: DeMarcus Drumgo Doctor of Medicine my family has. I know my community has for me. I'm just excited.	DeMarcus crossing stage to receive his diploma and stopping to smile for photos [Taylor Tinsley] Graduation, to me, means the culmination of all of our hard work. It's many sleepless nights, long hours,	Taylor in regalia standing in front of a purple LSU Health Shreveport backdrop Text: Taylor Tinsley Bachelor of Science in Cardiopulmonary Science dedication away from our friends and family to	graduate shaking hands with Allied Health faculty service the community, especially in our health care fields. And so it's	Graduate walking to receive diploma with screen with LSU Health Shreveport logo in background just a celebration and culmination of all that hard work.	Graduates shaking hands and receiving diplomas in front of screen with LSU Health Shreveport Logo

[Ryan Campbell] I feel ecstatic, like I'm kind of at a loss for words just	Smiling Graduate receiving diploma as seated faculty look on because we are the first doctorate class of occupational therapists in the state of Louisiana.	Ryan shaking hands with Allied Health faculty member It's just a huge accomplishment. So we took a leap of faith on this program not being accredited at first,	Ryan in regalia standing in front of a purple LSU Health Shreveport backdrop Text: Ryan Campbell Doctor of Occupational Therapy but we were the trailblazers in setting history for the school and our profession.	Ryan smiling while receiving diploma and posing for photos [Hanaiah Morris] It feels amazing. I've dreamed since I've been a little girl becoming a doctor. And the fact that this moment is finally here is	Hanaiah being hooded by LSU School of Medicine faculty and her mother absolutely amazing. All the hard work is finally paying off. And I still can't believe	Hanaiah in regalia standing in front of a purple LSU Health Shreveport backdrop Text: Hanaiah Morris Doctor of Medicine that these four years have gone by as quickly as they have.	Hanaiah smiling as she receives her diploma [Dr. Steven Conrad] Congratulations, class of 2025. May your energy drink be strong, your Wi-Fi signal stronger, and your curiosity and determination to succeed strongest of all.
