

Entering First Grade Choice Board

The choice board activities are designed to help students reflect on the books they read.

Students are encouraged to reflect on their reading once per week

Scavenger Hunt: Write down as many sight words from your book that you recognize.	Fiction vs. Nonfiction: Does your book tell a story or give information? How do you know? My book tells about ____.	Setting Where and when does your book take place? Use pictures and words to describe the setting of your story.	A favorite part: Draw a picture and write one sentence about your favorite part of the story.
Nursery Rhymes: Read a nursery rhyme. Listen for the rhyming words. Rhyming words sound alike. Clap when you hear them.	Characters Who are the animals or people in your book? Use pictures and words to tell us who they are!	Problem and Solution: What is the problem in your book? How does the character solve the problem? Draw a picture.	Fairy Tales: Fairy tales have magic! Read a fairy tale and draw a picture of the magical characters or animals.
Beginning: Draw a picture about what happened at the beginning of your book. Write one sentence to describe it.	Middle: Draw a picture about what happened in the middle of your book. Write one sentence to describe it.	End: Draw a picture about what happened at the end of your book. Write one sentence to describe it.	Information Station: Did you read a book about insects or fish? Draw two pictures about what you learned.
