Temporary Closure of Boulder Street Begins June 3 for Palmer High School Renovation

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. – Beginning the morning of June 3, 2025, Boulder Street will be temporarily closed between Nevada Avenue and Weber Street to support the first phase of renovations at William J. Palmer High School.

This closure is temporary and is expected to last approximately 2.5 years. It is necessary to allow for the laydown of heavy materials directly on Boulder Street and to create a secure access route for construction vehicles entering and exiting the site. This setup will ensure the safe delivery of new materials and efficient removal of demolition debris as construction proceeds.

It is important to note that this is not a permanent closure of Boulder Street. A separate and more extensive process—involving formal application to City Council and opportunities for community engagement—would be required to vacate the public right-of-way on a permanent basis.

The closure supports a major renovation to one of Colorado Springs' most historic schools and is part of an ongoing effort to modernize learning environments for current and future students.

Closure and Detour Map

The map below shows the section of Boulder Street that will be closed between Nevada Avenue and Weber Street from June 3, 2025, through January 3, 2028. It also highlights the anticipated short-term impacts to Weber Street through July 20, 2026. Signage and detour routes will be clearly posted to assist drivers and pedestrians in navigating the area safely during construction.
