Preparing for School

- Separate from your child so they get used to being away from you.
- Work on independence in the bathroom. Students should be able to vocalize when they need to go and should be independent in the bathroom. This includes wiping.
- Practice following through with 1-2 step directions independently.
- Work on having patience and waiting. Students should be able to wait without interrupting for the length of a book or a conversation between adults.
- Build up your child's stamina over the summer. Work towards 10 minutes of uninterrupted reading or conversation. Limit Screen Time.

Preparing for School

- Practice being flexible... they should work on how to handle the disappointment if they aren't first, didn't win, or didn't get what they want.
- Teach your child to struggle a little bit.
- Start to phase out nap time. Students will have breaks throughout the day but will not have a nap time.
- Practice helping your child to express themselves and their feelings so they can independently do it at school.

- Name tags, label everything
- Good size backpack to fit large items
