Linda Holland named interim director of GLASS

The Lafayette School Corporation has named Linda Holland as the interim Director of GLASS (Greater Lafayette Area Special Services).

Holland spent 17 years (13 as director, four as assistant director) with Joint Educational Services in Special Education (JESSE), a cooperative of nine area schools in Plymouth, Ind. Prior to her time at JESSE, she worked as a Case Conference chairperson for John Glenn School Corp. and as a special education teacher.

She earned her master's degree in special education from Indiana University/South Bend; she has a bachelor's degree in special education, and she earned her Special Education Director certification from Ball State University.

"Ms. Holland has the experience to lead an organization like GLASS," says LSC Superintendent Les Huddle. "Her experience and knowledge will assist the three school corporations in GLASS to continue to serve our students with special needs."

Holland replaces Lissa Stranahan, who has taken the position of Director of Special Education for LSC.

Holland will serve as interim director through June 2025.
