

Vocabulary 20 Intro

Sentence	Definition	Word
It was not until her senior year that Esmeralda's latent intellectual abilities started to show.	Present but invisible or inactive; lying hidden and undeveloped	Latent/adj.
What is most laudable about Raymond's performance is his total immersion in the role.	Worthy of praise	laudable/adj.
Coffee is supposed to be a stimulant, but instead it tends to make me more lethargic .	Drowsy; dull; sluggish; indifferent	lethargic/adj.
Brad's levity contrasted sharply with his roommate's seriousness	Lightness; lack of seriousness; fickleness	levity/n.
Eating a heavy meal tends to make me listless , which may explain why I often lounge on the couch after dinner.	Indifferent; marked by a lack of energy or enthusiasm	listless/adj.
The picture made the subject more lucid than pages of description could have.	Easily understood; rational; clear; clear-minded	lucid/adj.
One could not accuse little Dennis of malicious behavior, but that was small comfort to Mr. Pellegrino who was out some $500 for the vase Dennis broke.	Spiteful; intentionally mischievous or harmful	Malicious/adj.
An altercation over the seating arrangement marred the opening ceremonies at the graduation.	Injured; spoiled; damaged; disfigured	Marred/adj.
Harold worked evenings to supplement his meager stipend.	Thin; lean; of poor quality or small amount	meager/adj.
We spent a quiet afternoon wandering through the meandering streets of the town.	Winding back and forth; rambling	meandering/adj.