EXECUTIVE SUMMARY
EMPLOYEE CODE OF CONDUCT
POLICY 5902

Background

The West Virginia Board of Education has in effect policies dealing with harassment, Student Code of Conduct and Teacher Code of Conduct. Democratic citizenship, healthy and productive adulthood begin with standards of conduct and standards for achievement in our schools. All school employees are vitally important in assuring that all students and school staff are treated with courtesy and respect. This Employee Code of Conduct would repeal and replace the existing Teacher Code of Conduct Policy. The policy has been on comment since May 3, 2002 and three comments were received. Section 3.2. was changed so that intervention is immediate when a student is negatively impacted by an incident of bullying/harassment/intimidation, etc.

Purpose

The West Virginia Board of Education recognizes the need for students, teachers, administrators and all other school personnel to have a nurturing, orderly, safe and stimulating education environment. The purpose of these regulations is to provide all employees with consistent standards of behavior that lead toward meeting the obligations we have to students.

These regulations also apply to the conduct expected between and among staff members.

Impact

The Employee Code of Conduct will ensure that public schools create, encourage and maintain a safe, and nurturing environment for all students and employees.

Dear Madam:

I applaud the West Virginia Dept. of Education for its ambition to set a standard of Code of Conduct for its employees; however, Section 4.2.1 is very broad in its elaboration and each criterion is too vague and left open to merits of interpretation that would be too board by the individual interpreting the Code.

Each are need to be more specific and not general as it is wrtten for interpretation.

Section 4.2.6 is entirely too vague.

High standards need to be specified as to what is construed as " High Exception/Standards".

Moreover, " Moral Behavior" is too broad for legal interpretation at the local level for administrators. One needs to defined acceptable moral behaviors vs. what constitutes immoral behaviors. Moral behavior is a broad scope and it is within the State Code of School Law.

Sincerely,

Dear Ms. Zedosky:

I think it is important that a statement similar to the following be included in the employee code of conduct:

Employess will treat all persons with respect and dignity regardless of their age, gender, ability, race, ethnicity, religion, handicapping condition or sexual orientation.

Although this is partly addressed in sections 4.2.2 through 4.2.5, I feel the language is too general and needs to be more specific so there is no question that all people (peers, parents, students, etc,) are to be treated with respect and dignity at all times.

Thank you.
