

• Testing Accommodations: for educators

This training is designed to promote the understanding and appropriate use of test accommodations for students with disabilities. The training is intended to provide information surrounding the decision-making process and types of accommodations, as well as documentation of appropriate accommodations within the Individualized Education Program.

join us July 16, 2025

8am-10am virtual

New York State Education Department
Office of Special Education
Educational Partnership

