

FROM STORYTIME TO SUCCESS: THE IMPACT OF READING ALOUD

DR. TIFFANY WATSON

1

CHOOSE A GOOD BOOK

Find a book with good illustrations. Look for ALA Award-winning books, like Newberry and Caldecott medalists, and Geisel award winners.

2

FIND TIME & SPACE

Find a cozy spot where you can sit side by side to look at the book together. Choose a time when your child has enough energy to engage but not too much energy to lead to distraction. Reading 10-15 minutes daily is ideal, but any amount of time is great.

3

INTERACT

Ask questions about the story's characters, setting, and events. Make connections to your life. Don't just read the words. Tell the story! Use voices and various speeds and tones. Create positive literacy experiences for your child!
